SECOND EDITION. PRICE ONE PENNY.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

No. 23,499. Registered at the General Post Office, Sydney, for transmission by post as a Newspaper. SYDNEY, MONDAY, MAY 5, 1913. 18 PAGES. PRICE 1d.

SUMMARY.

Montenegro has replied to the Powers' demand that she should evacuate Skutari.

She denies the European right to evict her from conquered territory.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen has appealed to bankers to withhold funds from the Peking Government.

He accuses the Government of having been responsible for the murder of ex-Minister Sung.

In the hope of checking the southern agitation President Yuan Shih Kai is moving troops thither.

General Chuang Chun, with 12,000 men, is preparing to advance upon Shanghai.

Mexican revolutionaries blew up a train with dynamite, killing 120 people.

The rebels blew up the greater part of the town of Matehula, and massacred the garrison to the last man.

It has been decided that the Prince of Wales shall remain a second year at Oxford.

In various parts of South Wales 20,000 miners are idle, as a protest against the employment of non-unionists.

Some suffragists burnt a school at Aberdeen, the damage being estimated at £500.

In New York thirty thousand women took part in a street parade.

The parade, which was held in connection with the demand for the franchise, evoked the greatest enthusiasm.

Sir Robert Baden-Powell favours more cohesion between the schools and the boy scouts movement.

The Education Board president is anxious that no militarism should be associated with the elementary schools.

A Rio de Janeiro cable message states that the Antarctic ship Terra Nova has sailed for England.

A shed at Bradford (Eng.), containing a large quantity of wool, was burned to the ground.

The damage is estimated at £75,000. The shed was set on fire at two widely separated places.

The Californian Assembly passed the Anti-Alien Bill by 75 votes to 2.

Mr. Bryan hopes that the bill will be referred to a referendum of the people of California.

The Peace Conference appealed to the Californian legislature to justly settle the Alien-ownership of land question.

California was urged not to turn a great friendly power into an enemy.

The Peace Conference urges the repeal of the exemption of United States' coastwise shipping from Panama Canal tolls.

The Porte has accepted the Powers' request to cease hostilities.

Hospital Saturday collections amounted to £3020, being an increase of £131 over last year.

This represented an increase in the indoor collections of £220.

The outdoor collections showed a falling-off of about £85.

Mr. Justice Gordon, chairman, said that the directors were highly gratified at the results.

A sum of £100,000 has been distributed from the fund during the last 20 years.

Several thousand people loudly cheered his Excellency when he made his appearance.

The welcome all along the route was marked with great fervour and with deep sincerity.

The march past of the cadets on Saturday was an impressive spectacle.

In all over 20,000 cadets and militia participated.

A huge concourse gathered at the Town Hall, and encroached on space that should have been reserved for the cadets.

In its early stages the procession was a complete success.

But the crowd at the Town Hall spoilt the march past.

Details of the proposed reciprocal trade arrangements between New Zealand and Australia have been agreed upon.

An arrangement was come to by which the scheme will be simultaneously introduced in both Parliaments.

An ordinance has been issued relating to the encouragement of mining in the Northern Territory.

Reward claims may be granted to discoverers of payable deposits.

Claims may also be granted up to £100 for the discovery of new mineral fields.

A deputation of women waited upon the Prime Minister at Adelaide, and protested against the compulsory training of youths.

Mr. Fisher said that unless Australians provided for their own defence they might be overrun by an inferior race.

Two masked men bailed up three watchmen at the Bullfinch Proprietary mine, and stole £3000 worth of gold.

Bakers have refused to work any extra shifts to provide for the breadcarters' second holiday.

This means that there will be no delivery of bread on Wednesday.

Bread will be baked on Tuesday, but housekeepers will have to send to bakehouses for it.

The breadcarters meet to-night, but it is not expected that they will alter their previous determination.

The Cockatoo dock trouble is still unsettled.

A communication was received from the Federal Government, but was not made public.

The shipwrights will to-night decide whether they will meet the boilermakers in conference.

It is improbable that any boilermaking work will be carried out for several days.

It is expected that the whistles at all South Coast mines will blow for all to resume to-day.

A man employed on Bangate station, New Angledool, has been missing for the last nine days.

The body of Senior-constable Farr was found in the scrub at Concord on Saturday.

There was a gun-shot wound in the head. The deceased had been in delicate health of late years.

All the mines on the South Coast are now in readiness for a resumption of work.

The lodge secretaries announce that the majority of the miners will start to-day.

English mails dated April 4 are expected to arrive in time for delivery to-day.

A sordid tragedy occurred at a bush camp near Taumarunui (N.Z.).

A number of men procured two gallons of whisky. Two drank themselves to death.

The opening day of the football season proved most successful.

A block of buildings at Chillagoe (Q.) was destroyed by fire on Saturday.

Two German planters—brothers, named Webber—at German New Guinea, have been murdered by natives.

A punitive party dealt with the murderers in very prompt and severe manner.

A well-known criminal has been posing as a philanthropist.

Describing himself as a grateful patient, he promised the Wagga Hospital £2000.

The police regard the gift as part of an elaborate "leg-pull," coupled possibly with criminal intentions.

James M'Inerney, a tram conductor, has his leg cut off in a tram accident on Saturday.

The names of the first 56 persons drawn in the ballot for the Lake Cowal farms were announced on Saturday.

Business in mining shares was fairly large for a Saturday, and was representative of the various divisions.

Forecast.—Unsettled to showery over coastal highland and north-east districts, otherwise fine and cool generally, with squally south-east winds.

FARMER'S.

THE HOUSE OF DISTINCTION.

FOR QUALITY—STYLE—VALUE.

AMERICAN TAILORED COSTUMES.
SMART AND EXCLUSIVE.

As our readers know the New York Woman of Fashion is proverbially smart, and almost rivals the dainty Parisienne in her penchant for exquisitely made gowns. We are showing some excellent examples of American Tailored Costumes, of a style-quality which at once stamps them as high grade productions.

We are also displaying up-to-date styles, and sterling values in Farmer's well-known GOOD COSTUMES, renowned throughout Australia as the smartest obtainable, and at lowest possible prices.

HANDSOMELY TAILORED AMERICAN COSTUMES, cut on the very latest principle of smart tailoring. The material is Brown and Black Whipcord, lined rich Black Satin; Collar Black Velvet, with piping of Brown Cloth and plain revers. The Coat is slightly cut away in front, and finished at waist at back with strapping of Black Velvet; Skirt quite plain with box pleat panel at back. PRICE, £8/8/.

SMART COAT AND SKIRT COSTUME IN FINE GREY WHIPCORD, lined Ivory Satin; Collar and Lapel cut in new design, relieved with Oriental Embroidery. The Coat is designed with straight front and waist, seam at sides and back. The Skirt is cut in 3-piece style, with wide band at foot. PRICE, £5/15/6.

STYLISH COSTUMES IN DONEGAL TWEEDS. Coat lined in Ivory Polonaise, has plain roll Collar, and cut with shaped waist seam, and basque finished with patent leather belt. Skirt cut in 3-piece style, with lap seams, front and back, and trimmed buttons. PRICE, 69/6.

THE HOUSE OF SOLID VALUES, LASSETTERS'
SENSATIONAL SHOWROOM SAVINGS.
It's an ill wind that blows no one good.
It is not often that proverbial philosophy is true literally, but it is so in this instance.
The ILL WIND is the perpetual North-easter, which is the cause of the season being so mild. It is an ILL WIND to us because we have heavy Winter Stocks, and it is a GOOD WIND to our Customers because it enables them to provide against the Cold Weather (WHICH IS SURE TO COME) at a cheaper rate than would otherwise be possible, as we are offering Winter Goods at considerably reduced prices.
Below is indicated a few of these lines.

COSTUMES. COSTUMES.
TAILOR-MADE COAT AND SKIRT, in Navy Cheviot Serge. This is a plain and good hard-wearing Coat and Skirt. The Coat is beautifully stitched. It is semi-fitting, with wide lap seams and new collar and lapels. Finished with small buttons. PRICE, 28/.

COSTUMES. COSTUMES.
NEW ONE-PIECE ROBE, in Mid-Grey, striped, light-weight Tweed. This is a nicely-fitting garment, with buttons and button-holes all down the front, collar and cuffs of Cream Serge, finished with small buttons. PRICE, 21/9.

COSTUMES. COSTUMES.
Charming Model in a Young Lady's ONE-PIECE ROBE. This is made in an Indigo Blue Coating Serge, with a new shaped Basque. Bodice and Basque lined, collarless, with small V of White Pique, trimmed Blue buttons, with white centres, and white braid loops, with Patent Leather Belt. PRICE, 32/6.

COATS. COATS.
Smart, Up-to-date NAVY SERGE COAT, in a good, hard-wearing Rough Navy Cheviot Serge. This is a tailor-made, semi-fitting coat, with the new large roll collar and lapels, prettily trimmed with plain Cloth, in Fawn or Saxe Blue, also on cuffs. Bide buttons, with fawn or saxe centres. PRICE, 25/.

COATS. COATS.

MACHINERY.

CRANES AND CRAB WINCHES, WITH REAL STABILITY.
It is the sound efficiency of the Goodall Cranes and Crabwinches that has made them so highly appreciated by users. Not a detail of their construction has been left to chance—each feature has been carefully thought out and scientifically built.
It's natural that you should want to get the best—anything short of that standard is a dangerous experiment. We know that our make embodies all that is desirable in Cranes and Crabwinches, and it would be easy to launch into a wordy eulogy of them.
What we prefer is that you should investigate for yourself, and use your own judgment in the final selection. We have sufficient confidence in the merits of our products to let practical men do the choosing without any biassed advice.
Let us hear from you to go further into this important matter.

THE RAJAH'S CASKET.
The Rajah of Palalotta presents Capt. Cooper with a very valuable casket as a gift to his future wife, Nelly, the colonel's daughter. Cooper writes to his fiancee, telling when he will bring the casket. The letter falls into the hands of Rocca, a clever thief. To further his plans, he cultivates the acquaintance of the colonel and his daughter, but his movements excite the suspicions of Detective Derwent. The film goes on to show how Rocca entices father and daughter to a lonely isle, and then robs the captain. But Derwent has kept him under observation, and finally defeats him.

AN APOLOGY.

AND AN EXPLANATION.

We beg to apologise to our patrons who have been kept waiting for their photographs, and to say that the cause of the delay was entirely beyond our control.

For about 20 years the organisation of the works department of these Studios has been considered by the photographers of Australia as the most perfect in the profession. The system proved equal to all contingencies from the time when we employed only a moderate number of assistants up to the time when our staff was nearly 250 employees; but, a few months ago, the enormous patronage of our Studios (consequent on the unapproachable value which we offer to our patrons) so materially increased that the volume of business completely disorganised our staff, and it was found necessary to obtain expert advice on the remodelling of our works system.

By our new system, which has now been completely installed, we are confident that we shall be able to cope with any volume of business that may be forthcoming. We make this assertion with the greater assurance, as we have also installed a number of up-to-date machines for the efficient and expeditious delivery of photographs of the highest artistic merit. In addition to this, we have also greatly increased our staff of skilled workers, and to-day we can, without fear of contradiction, say that ours is the largest photographic business in any English-speaking country.

We, therefore, beg to assure you that, in the event of your favouring us with a sitting, we will deliver your order within eight days after the return of the accepted proof.

We guarantee modern posing, artistic lighting, and skilled finish in every order.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

IF ALL PIANOS WERE EQUAL IN TONE QUALITY it would be necessary only to go to the nearest piano house and select the first piano that came under your notice. But such a thing being an impossibility, it is essential that you use your utmost discrimination and buy an instrument that will give you satisfaction and long wear.

If you are wise you will purchase your piano from Paling's—the most reliable piano house in Australia—the firm with the reputation of more than 60 years' honourable trading at its back—the firm who guarantee every piano for tone, touch, construction, and durability. You are invited to visit PALING'S at any time. Catalogues and price lists are post free if unable to call. We sell on easy time payments and allow the utmost value on old pianos taken in part payment.

W. H. PALING AND CO., LTD., Sole Agents for RONISCH, LIPP, and SAMES PIANOS.

A PIANO OF TONAL PURITY.

The MASCOTTE PIANO possesses a tone of exquisite musical purity, and a nice, light, perfectly-balanced touch. It is a piano that is made for use as well as ornament, and it is a piano that will last, and give you satisfaction all of the time. It is moderately priced, and fully guaranteed. Examine. Very Easy Terms if you wish.

The POPULAR FAHR PIANOS.

The FAHR Piano is the result of years of Study and Scientific experiment along highest artistic lines.

The FAHR Factory has been long established — since 1845. FAHR Pianos have been sold in Australia for more than 45 years. Over £2,000 are in use.

The tone of the FAHR PIANO is peculiar to itself, possessing the rare quality aimed for by many makers, but realised by few. It is pure, mellow, sympathetic, of much volume, and of the most pleasing and refined character.

The Action of the FAHR Piano possesses all the requisites demanded by the most exacting artist, and is the best that human ingenuity and skill have yet devised.

The Case Designs of the FAHR Piano are very artistic. The Cases are all doubly veneered. The Veneers used are the finest to be found in the markets of Europe.

FAHR Pianos are made in different Styles, and range in price from £48 upwards. The £48 Fahr Piano is 4ft 1in high, and has been proclaimed "The Ideal Piano for the Home."

FAHR Pianos can be purchased on very easy terms, a small deposit, and 20s per month.

"To please people perfectly" is our motto. To give best value for the least money.

Send for Catalogue, showing illustrations of the FAHR Pianos, with prices.

A MESALLIANCE.

BY KATHERINE TYNAN.

[ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.]

He was seated in the hansom, on his way to Paddington, when he remembered suddenly that he had promised to go to tea with Rose Bourne this afternoon. Well, there would be time to send a telegram to her from Paddington. He was not sure that he regretted not going to tea with Rose. People had no right to return like ghosts from the dead, springing up to remind a man how far behind him was his seventeenth year—like Rose yesterday. Rose—it seemed ridiculous to call her Rose, to associate her with that radiant Rose of long ago, about whom he had been mad in his boyhood, who had played with him and teased him and patted him, finally had married Robert Bourne, a senior wrangler of his year, and gone out to India with him. She had sprung up suddenly at a London crossing, middle-aged, tints that ought to have been ruddy and wholesome yellowed by Indian suns and heats, a fine network of lines at the corners of the eyes, which refused to be anything but blue, the wind in her hair. By her side was a girl, who was most impertinently like what her mother must have been at her age, only shy, as he had never known Rose to be, for when she had played with him she was twenty-five, and had not been shy for the love-sick boy of seventeen.

On the whole he thought he was relieved at missing Rose—Mrs. Bourne. She had no business to come back like that. She was, he conjectured from her rather shabby widow's weeds, left badly off; and the address she had given him—somewhere Holloway way—suggested terrible things. He hoped Rose would let it be off altogether. When things were done with they had better be done with. It was absurd of her to have recognised him. He would never have recognised her—broadened out, yellowed over her natural roses, middle-aged. The wind that had lifted her dusty hair had a ghostly reminder of the way the wind used to play with her curls long ago. Hers was the naturally curling hair, with which the wind played as though it loved it.

There was another vexation in the thought of Rose Bourne. He did not like her to come back like that, making him suddenly dreary and middle-aged. However else he had thought himself, he had never thought of his being middle-aged.

And there was that shy, radiant figure of youth lurking in Rose's ample shadow to remind him of what Rose had been. The same rose-and-white complexion, a touch of carmine in the cheeks and lips, the same cloudy, chestnut hair—masses of it—knotted negligently at the back of the small head. The girl's eyes were strikingly blue, bluer than Rose's had been. And they had looked at him shyly before they hid themselves under the sweeping golden lashes.

Poor child! He wondered what Rose was doing with the child. What had happened to bring them down in the world? Robert Bourne had been a steady, careful fellow, without apparently a vice in the world—given over to his books. He had seemed a bloodless lover for pretty Rose to the jealous boy of long ago.

And the girl's name—Avis. It had seemed to suit her. A queer name, but there was a certain bird-like suggestion in the way she carried her head, the small head rising above its slender neck.

A verse came into his mind, and he hummed it to a tune of his own:

Oh, sweet it was in Aves,
To catch the landward breeze.

Ridiculous! It had nothing to do with the girl's name, that excellent imitation of a chanty, made by a comfortable parson at home in England.

At Paddington he gave his luggage to a porter. There was plenty of time. He strolled leisurely to the telegraph office, took a form, and filled it.

"To Mrs. Bourne, 27 Salamanca-road, Holloway, N.

"Unavoidably prevented keeping engagement. Must go out of town for a few days. May I come when I get back?

BRETHERTON."

When it had gone he wondered why he had suggested another meeting. Rose might have been content to let the thing drop. Perhaps not. She had seemed uncommonly glad to see him. Poor Rose. After all one ought not to desert an old friend who, plainly, has fallen on evil days. He was glad after all that he had said that about coming to see them when he should return to town.

CHAPTER II.

Arrived at Nunsholme, he found the carriage and pair from Littlecombe awaiting him. A face he remembered was on the box—old Jeffcott's; there was a young groom whom he did not remember to have seen before.

The stationmaster was the same; and Bill the porter, touched his cap at him with a properly subdued grin of welcome, as though he had gone away only yesterday. To be sure, in these quiet country places things did not alter as they did in busier places. He had a sense of amazement because the thing which had pulled down his life had seemed to make so little difference here.

He spoke to the stationmaster.

"How are you, Raymond? I hope Mrs. Raymond and the children are quite well?"

He felt a fear of saying it, as though Mrs. Raymond might be dead and the children grown up and gone away. Yet Raymond didn't look a day older; neither did Bill, nor the shaggy terrier that trotted at his heels. After all, it was only five years.

He was reminded of it by the stationmaster's placid answer.

"All quite well, thank you, sir. We're seven now, and the elder ones go to school. Mrs. Raymond will be glad to see you, sir. We're all glad to see you back, though sorry for the occasion, sir. The poor Squire. It was quite sudden at the last."

Bretherton returned the friendly greetings kindly, and strode out to the carriage, which was in waiting. He was annoyed that it had been sent. Mrs. Harding need not have taken it for granted that he would come. She had sent to meet the one possible train of the day at Nunsholme. He had not wanted nor desired to accept the widow's hospitality. The "Good King Henry" would have pleased him better. He dreaded Littlecombe under its changed conditions.

Yet, here was no evidence of change. He stood a moment speaking to old Jeffcott, while the groom saw to the luggage.

"Well, Jeffcott," he said, "I'm glad to see you looking so well. These are sad changes."

"Indeed they be," said the old fellow, beaming down at him from the box. "Yet the master lived to a ripe age. Seventy-five he were, sir, yet he often told me he were prophesied churchyard clay from the hour he were born. I hope you've come to stay a bit, Mr. Ralph."

"For the funeral, Jeffcott."

The old fellow's face clouded over.

"We thought as you might be comin' back for good, me an' the missus," he said. "Meaning no offence, sir, I'm sure."

Again Ralph Bretherton had a sense of irritation. How simple they were, these people. Did they think he was coming back to take up his residence at Littlecombe, under the same roof as his cousin's widow? His eyes roamed over the sleek sides of the bays. They were shining as he remembered them, the silver on the harness winked in the cold white light of the December day. The carriage and pair had that inexpressible sense of leisure, of luxury, of rank, which the motor lacks so singularly. Everything was as he remembered it, except for the absence of the eager, flushed face of the young-old man bent forward to welcome him tenderly and graciously when he came in the old days. The absence caused a pang. Plainly there had been no cataclysm at Littlecombe, because the Squire had married a peasant, and the rightful heir had been cast out.

As they drove along the clean, frosty roads—by oaken coppices which had not yet shaken down all their leaves, by woods in their winter sleep, by village greens, with old houses standing around them from which came ancient bodies at the sound of the carriage wheels to catch a glimpse of the Littlecombe carriage as it went by—Ralph Bretherton's old love for the place awakened, and with it a new, poignant sense of loss. The country was very still. No sign of life in the fields except for the ploughman, and his horses cutting straight furrows in the purple earth. The sun had come from behind the clouds, and made a silver haze between the road they were traversing, and the distant Malvern Hills, which rose up mirage-like from a plain of mimic sea. Now and again they passed a long black-and-white house steeply roofed, or a group of cottages clustered about a church. The colouring was yet autumn's, the roads yet carpeted with the drift of leaves. The old feeling for the place stirred in Bretherton's heart, making him desolate with a sense of loss. Littlecombe had been his paradise during childhood and boyhood. He had been used to think of it as his—the great, beautiful house, set in the lovely fruitful country. Some day he had looked to bring his bride there, and in time their children should gather about them, finding Littlecombe more dear and home-like than it had been to their father.

LAW REPORT.

CRIMINAL APPEAL COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Pring.)

ASSAULTING A CONSTABLE.

Rex v Richard Larkins.

Mr. G. C. Russell Jones appeared for the prisoner, in support of an application for leave to appeal. Prisoner had been convicted at the last Goulburn Assizes, before Mr. Justice Sly, of inflicting grievous bodily harm upon a constable, and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. He now asked for leave to appeal, on the ground that the sentence was excessive, and that the assault was not of such a serious character as to warrant the punishment inflicted.

His Honor said the evidence showed that while the constable was making an arrest for non-payment of a fine, prisoner kicked him about the body and face, and inflicted injuries which, beyond all question, were of a very serious character. He was taken to the hospital in a state of collapse, and had to be attended to by a doctor. Instead of three years being too heavy, he thought it was, if anything, too little. Leave refused.

THE USE OF DEADLY WEAPONS.

Rex v Charles Dent.

Mr. S. A. Turner appeared for the prisoner, and asked for an extension of time, and for leave to appeal. Prisoner was charged on an indictment, containing three counts. 1. Shooting with intent to murder. 2. Shooting with intent to do grievous bodily harm. 3. Common assault. He was convicted of common assault, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, and it was now contended, on his behalf, that there was no malice on his part, and that the offence was committed during a drunken row about a dog.

His Honor said he thought the jury took an extremely lenient view of the case in finding prisoner guilty of common assault only. Prisoner, according to the evidence, fired point blank at the prosecutor, and, half an hour after he was arrested he said, "I am very sorry I did not do it properly:" and afterwards repeated it. There could not be stronger evidence than that. People who use deadly weapons ought to be punished severely. There was too much of it nowadays. Leave refused.

APPLICATION FOR BAIL.

Rex v George Arthur Gellin.

Mr. J. J. Kiely appeared for the prisoner, and applied for bail, pending the determination of the appeal to the Full Court against the conviction. Prisoner was convicted of an offence upon a girl, and sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment.

His Honor said the appeal would be heard next week, and he refused the application.

Mr. Walter Bevan appeared for the Crown in each case.

SUBURBAN BURGLARIES.

Mrs. Metta, Yarra Bay, La Perouse, has reported to the police that her home was entered on Friday, and money and jewellery valued at £30 stolen. An entrance was gained by forcing a back door.

Thieves forced an insecurely fastened back door at the home of Mr. W. Lord, Raglan-street, Mosman, on Friday, and stole money and jewellery worth £25.

The house of Mr. W. Peake, in Milner-street, Mosman, was entered by burglars on Friday afternoon, and jewellery valued at £10 was stolen. Mr. Peake and his family were absent in the city, and on their return they found that the thieves had broken a pane in the back window, and, pushing back the catch, had gained an easy entry and ransacked the place.

The residence of Mr. Arthur J. Brown, Narooba, Carrington-street, Randwick, during the absence of the inmates, was robbed on Thursday. A gold watch, £4 in cash, and jewellery, valued in all at £30, were stolen.

Similar robberies were also carried out at the residences of Mr. Elias Pilcher, Morningside, Phillip-street, Neutral Bay, and Mr. A. H. Darling, Edithville, Brook-road, Manly. From Mr. Pilcher's house clothing and jewellery valued at about £15 were stolen, and from Mr. Darling's residence two shot guns were taken.

DIGESTIVE DISORDERS.

WAS AFRAID TO EAT—DESPAIRED OF BEING CURED. PERFECT HEALTH RESTORED BY BILE BEANS.

"For 12 years I was a martyr to ill-health, which was caused by digestive troubles," says Mrs. Frances S. Scovell, of 35 Margaret-street, Norwood, Adelaide. "Awful pains under the heart caused by flatulence became very alarming. I was afraid to lie down at night for fear I would suffocate, while headaches and acute pains between the shoulders were dreadful. After only a morsel of food I experienced a sensation of fulness accompanied by a feeling of suffocation, and I became almost afraid to eat. Sharp, shooting pains in my chest became so bad that I hardly dared breathe. My health was completely wrecked, and I despaired of ever finding anything which would cure me.

At last I was induced to try what Bile Beans would do. I commenced taking this medicine, and before I had finished the first box I felt a decided improvement in my condition. The distressing symptoms gradually left me, my appetite returned, and I was able to sleep well at night. I persisted with Bile Beans until my indisposition was at an end, and I was one more enjoying robust health. Now, thanks entirely to Bile Beans, I can perform my household duties with pleasure, and it is a treat to feel so well."

For all stomach and liver disorders Bile Beans are the world's finest specific, and are unrivalled as a general family medicine. Sold by all stores and chemists.—Advt.

THE LORDSHIP OF LOVE, by MARIE CORELLI.—See this week's "Woman's Weekly." All n'ag'ts.—Advt.

RAILWAY SERVICE.

SUPERANNUATION FUND.

At a meeting of the Railway Service Superannuation Board, in the Chief Commissioner's office, 27 officers over 60 years of age, and seven officers under 60 years of age, were approved for pensions, making 723 to date. It was reported that 57 pensioners had died. Seven officers under 60 years of age, with over 10 years' service, retired owing to ill-health, were approved for pensions.

Gratuities were approved to two officers whose services were dispensed with otherwise than for an offence, and who were not entitled to a superannuation allowance. A gratuity was approved to the representatives of an officer who died as a result of bodily injuries received in the course of duty.

Refunds of deductions, with interest, were granted to the representatives of 10 deceased officers; refunds of deductions were approved to three officers who voluntarily retired after 15 years' service; 19 officers dismissed for misconduct were considered for refunds (in four cases refunds were allowed, and in 15 cases disallowed).

During the three months ended March 31 the board authorised 41 pensions, amounting to £2826 4s per annum, to retired officers over 60 years of age. Sixteen pensions, amounting to £823 3s per annum, were allowed to officers under 60 years of age retired through infirmity of body or mind, the total pensions authorised during the quarter (57) amounting to £3649 7s per annum. The number of contributors at the end of March was 23,180, and the balance to the credit of the fund £50,641 1s 7d, to which should be added an amount of £6600 16s for life insurance premiums, making the total assets £57,241 17s 7d. There are now 633 pensions in force, totalling £41,522 12s per annum.

POLICE OFFICER SHOT.

BODY FOUND IN THE SCRUB.

The body of Senior-Constable David Farr, of the Concord police, was found in the scrub at Yaralla, Concord—Miss Eadith Walker's estate—early on Saturday.

The senior-constable had been missing from his home since Thursday morning. Earlier in the day Farr had a case before the Burwood Police Court, over which he worried considerably.

On reaching his home, it is stated, that Farr was much calmer than when at the court, and after having his lunch he dressed himself in civilian clothes, and told his wife that he was going for a walk. He did not return by nightfall, and as fears were entertained for his safety Sub-Inspector Baxter, officer-in-charge of the Burwood Police Division, was informed. He detailed a number of constables to search for the missing senior-constable, but no trace of Farr could be found.

The search was continued on Friday and Friday evening, but with the same results. Every available point in the vicinity of the officer's home was searched, but no trace of him was found until early on Saturday morning. The police were informed that on the Thursday morning Farr was seen walking along the Concord-road, towards the Parramatta River. Sub-Inspector Baxter ordered Senior-Constable Marrow and a number of other constables to search in the direction of the river.

The party ascertained that Farr had borrowed a shot-gun and three cartridges from a resident at Concord, stating that he was going to shoot some birds. They then commenced to scour the scrub at Yaralla. At about 9 o'clock on Saturday morning Constable Porter found Farr's body lying in the scrub close to the Walker Hospital. The shot-gun was lying beside the body, and it was apparent that the cause of death was a wound caused by the gun being fired at close quarters. The charge had entered the deceased officer's head, and death had been almost instantaneous.

Of late years Senior-Constable Farr had been in delicate health and troubled with his eyes. A few weeks ago he was given permission to wear long-distance glasses while on duty. Deceased was popular both with the residents of the district and his fellow officers. He leaves a wife and grown-up family.

"THE COWBOY AND THE SQUAW."

Change of atmosphere being essential to the sustained popularity of a stock dramatic company, the George Marlow direction made a departure from the beaten track on Saturday by the elaborate production of the American play, "The Cowboy and the Squaw." The story of the new piece is laid in Montana, and this makes for a deal of picturesque animation on the stage. The opening scene in Rosebud, with its weatherboard hotels, has been realistically put on. Horsemen ride in from the ranches, and Redskin Indians, in wonderful head-dresses of eagles' feathers, mingle with cowboys in "trouserines," as Ichabod Bronson would call them, faced with white angora goatskin, or brown bear, the shiny oilskin, rear view of which has an unexpectedly quaint effect. Mr. J. S. Mann has painted a whole series of effective scenes for the new drama, and he "gets the atmosphere" again in an up-country corral, or stockyard, where the audience is afforded a glimpse of cowboys breaking in a buckjumper, with the green prairie beyond, stretching away to the rose-tinted foothills. These form the surroundings of a melodramatic story of love, friendship, and revenge, which is carried on to a vigorous accompaniment of pistol shots. The cowboys seem to have their guns continually in their hands at the least quarrel, and how any of them survive the habit is a wonder! Amidst these detonations and changes of scene, the feud between Bronco Bob, the hero, and Bud Hawley, a rival "bronco buster," is carried to a fatal end. In the last act, where Bob is celebrating his marriage with Ruth, he is surprised by his rival. Silverheels, the dainty, dark-eyed Crow Indian, throws herself into the line of fire to save Bob, the man she loves so despairfully, and a solemn salvo of revolvers over the body of the Indian maid brings down the curtain for the last time upon one of the many tragedies of blood-stained old Montana.

The characters of the two rivals, Bob Westerman and Bud Hawley, are strongly presented by Mr. George Cross and Mr. T. W. Lloyd, the former appearing as a good natured cowboy with a lazy smile, but full of power and purpose when roused, and the latter as a not unattractive type of sullen, unscrupulous leader of men. Both are in love with the girl from Chicago, Ruth Tompkins, and one of the best scenes in the piece is the proposal by Bob at the corral, in which Mr. Cross rose to the kind of eloquence that a simple warmth inspires, whilst Miss Nellie Fergusson there, as elsewhere, sounded an attractive note of serious sincerity. The villain, with his two comrades, Yaller Tail, half Indian, half greaser, vividly made-up and acted by Mr. Frank Reis, and Snaky Bill, presented as a strong and surly cowboy by Mr. W. Ralston, are dismissed from the ranch. In revenge they carry off Ruth to the Giant's Cave. Bob and his men get upon the trail through the cunning of Silverheels, who pretends to aid and abet Bud, whilst slyly marking half-moons with her foot on the mountain path, and in this way, amidst scenes of melodramatic excitement, Ruth is tracked and rescued. The big sensation shows Bob and his party surprised into surrender high up among the ranges in winter. There they are with their horses amidst the snow-covered grasses, with a blue lake, hard frozen, far below, sentinelled by precipitous cliffs that gleam with touches of snow. All are to be released except the hero, who is to meet his death, Mazeppa-like, bound to the back of a wild steer. A separate tableau showed the horned beast galloping along the mountain side, pursued by Silverheels on a mustang that flies faster and faster until a rescue is effected. The "galloping-machines," originally identified with "The Country Fair," and then with "Ben Hur," were smoothly worked, and the audience roared with delight at what was, in fact, a capital theatrical effect.

The Crow Indian, Chief Bear's Tooth, and his daughter Silverheels, figure picturesquely and prominently in the evolution of the story. Mr. T. E. Tilton was admirably made-up as the Chief, and his impassive silence and gravity, varied by terse grunts, were quite in character. Miss Nellie Bramley looked handsome in her Redskin garb as Silverheels, whose broken English "Him you love. He belong me. Paleface take him away Indian maid," etc., etc., proved a serious obstacle to complete success, though the interpretation was always sound. Mr. Frank Crossley suggested the dense rusticity of Shorty Ray; Mr. W. Ryott's brief moments of pathos were impressive as the love-lorn Pete; and Mr. Marcus St. John as Ike Tartar, and Mr. John J. Ennis as Tompkins, were suitably in place. Miss Ethel Buckley's breezy animation as Prairie Wolf, a waif of the plains, as Mr. John P. O'Neill's broad Irish humour as Bridget M'Ginnis, brightened the action. Mr. George Willoughby successfully produced "The Cowboy and the Squaw," which initiates the last three weeks of the present season.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE ROYAL.

A great audience witnessed Saturday night's performance of "Antony and Cleopatra" at the Theatre Royal. That the enterprise of Mr. Oscar Asche in lavishly reviving this glorious but seldom-staged tragedy should be so generally appreciated is highly satisfactory. The great play is now in its third week.

LITTLE THEATRE—"FANNY'S FIRST PLAY."

Bernard Shaw's much-talked-of comedy, "Fanny's First Play," will be produced by the Little Theatre direction for the first time in Australia at 8.10 this evening. Mr. Hugh Buckler, Miss Violet Paget, Mr. G. Kay Souper, and other artists will appear in the new piece, which ran for nearly two years in London. The plan is at Paling's.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

The last eleven nights of "Puss in Boots" are now notified at Her Majesty's Theatre, where matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday until the end of the season. The J. C. Williamson pantomime, in addition to the artists figuring in the story, brings in two splendid acrobatic turns by the Gaudschmidts and Hartnell and Collins. On Saturday the house was crowded.

CRITERION THEATRE.

"The Fortune Hunter" entered upon the seventh week of a buoyant run on Saturday, when the Criterion Theatre was crowded. Mr. Fred Niblo again cleverly sustained the youthful romance, varied by touches of humour, which mark the character of the hero, and the whole piece ran smoothly.

PALACE THEATRE.

Many people were unable to gain admission to the Palace Theatre on Saturday night, so great was the attendance, and "On Our Selection" was accompanied as heretofore by hearty bursts of laughter. Mr. Bert Bailey, and the other artists of the company, will give a matinee of Steele Rudd's story of the troubles and trials of a family out back on Wednesday next at 2 o'clock. The plan is at Paling's.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.

An entirely new programme was presented at the National Amphitheatre on Saturday. "House Full" cards were displayed long before 8 o'clock. Patrons showed their appreciation of the new turns by frequent encores. An excellent entertainment was provided by the Musical Avolos, two men and two women from America, who are experts on the xylophone. They had a splendid reception. The four artists play together on four instruments, the selections, including the overture to "William Tell," "My Hero" (from the "Chocolate Soldier"), "In the Shadows," and the "Avolo March." Princess Wanatea, described as the "Indian Tetrazini," has a voice of beautiful quality. Her "Song of Sun Worship"—the stage is in semi-darkness, and she comes out of an Indian tepee to sing an invocation to the sun—should prove one of the most popular items on the present bill of fare. The four monkeys shown by Carl Prinz are clever acrobats. Besides figuring in a trapeze act, the monkeys gave an exhibition of sharpshooting. The Margean troupe of acrobats—four men, two girls, and a boy—provided a rather sensational turn. The boy is, perhaps, the best of the bunch. He throws somersaults from the shoulders of the men to the ground, and from one man to another. The boy gives his body a twist sideways as he is turning over. Their turn, which was loudly applauded, is an attractive feature of the programme. Other newcomers who won their way into favour were Big Tom McGuire, the famous Irish singer of Scotch songs, Miss Beryl Gilman, balladist, the Four Alroy Girls, acrobatic dancers, and the Two Romas, heavyweight lifters. The programme will be repeated every night this week, and a matinee is announced for Wednesday.

ALHAMBRA THEATRE.

On Saturday the Haymarket house of entertainment was reopened with a vaudeville and minstrel show, and the performance given augurs well for future success. The first half of the entertainment is devoted to the apparently popular style of minstrel equipment, in which corner-men indulge in the old-time "business," while the second part is run on the strict principle of up-to-date vaudeville. The various artistes who appeared on Saturday were quite in accordance with the average standard of professionals. Maud Stewart, in her coster songs, was remarkably true to the original, also Verlie Ross, a clever child contortionist, proved an adept in the art. The Seyffer Twins, in vocal efforts, dances, and acrobatic feats were distinctly good. The remaining artists, Florence Orville, Ida Merton, Delwyn and Tye, Marsh and Marsh, Joe Charles, Alf. Edwards, Keenan and Lewis, and the Alhambra Quartet, Hartly Court (baritone), Ernest Fernleigh (tenor), Harry Cooper (bass), and Gladys Gordon (contralto), were heard to advantage in both their concerted and individual numbers. The new scenery, by Messrs. Whaite and Dixon, made an effective background, and the orchestra, under the baton of Mr. Joe. Somers, played well.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

The programme provided for the patrons of Bain's vaudeville show at the Princess Theatre, this week, is a very strong and varied one. Paul Pedrini, who is assisted by a cleverly-trained baboon, presents the "star" turn. His equilibristic and cannon-balancing feats are neatly manipulated. Jules and Lillian, who gave a display of athletic strength tests, are also good. Others on the bill are Linda Davis, the Three Midgets, the Sparkes Trio, Ruby Tointon, Lulu Eugene, Arthur Touchert, Ada Sadler, Con Moreni, the Bright Sisters, and James Chaydon. Amateur trials are held on Friday evenings, and the professional on Tuesday nights.

AUSTRALIAN PALACE.

"Twixt War and the Girl"—an episode in the Franco-Prussian campaign—will be the "star" dramatic study at the Oxford-street Picture Palace to-day. It is a film of 8000ft in length, and will be supported by other fine films, including the Western drama, "A Girl of the Pampas," "Louisa Miller," an historical subject, and "St. Valentine's Day." A variety of comic pieces will also be screened.

GRAND THEATRE.

At the bi-weekly change of programme, which takes place at the Grand to-day, the star element will be represented by "Black-eyed Susan"; while on Thursday next a dramatic picture entitled "His Blind Wife" will be shown. On Saturday, crowded houses ruled, and the high standard set at this theatre was maintained.

AMERICAN PALACE.

The American Picture Palace attracted large audiences on Saturday. To-day's change will include, among many other fine pictures, a star film, "The Flower Girl," a pathetic story of the streets of Paris; while "The Queen of Sheba" will also be re-screened by special request of numerous patrons. Apart from the dramatic studies, a liberal series of comic subjects will assist in brightening up a distinctive selection that should appeal to the picturegoer.

CENTENNIAL RINK.

Large attendances were registered at this rink during the various sessions on Saturday, and the special area reserves for beginners was also well patronised. A forthcoming attraction will be a feature night, introducing roller-roulette, and exhibition skating by Mr. George C. Irving.

VICE-REGAL RINK.

Enthusiasts of the roller pastime have it that nothing equals skating, especially in the open air, and at the above rink devotees have certainly the latter advantage. At all the sessions on Saturday the attendances were quite up to the average.

IMPERIAL RINK.

The Imperial Roller Rink continues to receive liberal patronage, which is justified by its numerous attractions. Such speaks well for a pleasant resort and the sport provided by the management.

COLISEUM RINK.

This skating rendezvous is being well patronised, and the management has in active preparation quite a number of attractions to be presented during the season. Frequenters of this rink are enthusiastic regarding the splendid condition of the skating surface, and crowded floors are being recorded.

CONCERT AT MOSMAN.

A concert will be given at the Mosman Town Hall this evening in aid of the widow and children of the late Walter Moore, who lost his life in the Thelma disaster. A number of well-known artists and amateurs, including Miss Hopwood-Foldi, will assist in an attractive entertainment.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

The box plan opens at Paling's this morning for "Quo Vadis?" which is to be presented at the Lyceum Theatre next Saturday night. This film will depict the scenes so ably described by Henry Sienkiewicz in his great work. "Quo Vadis?" will take the entire evening to present, thus marking a departure in picture shows in this city. The management of Spencer's has made great preparations for this film, for it is believed that it will be the most popular picture yet presented at this house. In addition to the full orchestra of 25 performers, a hidden choir of twenty voices will sing the incidental music. The film is 8000ft long, and will show the burning of Rome, gladiatorial combats, chariot races, and other thrilling scenes in a manner that could never be produced on a stage.

The feature film for this week is the "Rajah's Casket," which will be supported by an entire change of programme to-night.

WEST'S OLYMPIA.

In view of the fact that West's Pictures terminated the Glaciarium season on Saturday night to make room for ice skating, the directors announce a big combination show at West's Olympia, Oxford-street, Paddington, throughout the winter. The combined forces of West's, including De Groen's orchestra, will be installed at this house. For this evening the management promises a new star film, entitled, "By Unseen Hands," being a story of the adventures of a band of thieves, who, by the aid of a woman, commit many crimes, but after some exciting adventures, a clever detective manages to annihilate the gang. In addition, a new London programme will be presented, arriving by to-day's mail.

CRYSTAL PALACE THEATRE.

Britain's navy being reviewed by King George is to be shown at the Crystal Palace Theatre this week. The launching of the latest Dreadnought is included in the series, which offers a fine spectacular view of the Royal yacht steaming down the long lines of warships to the accompaniment of booming guns. The whole fleet is shown in motion, steaming in line ahead and in line abreast, and there are pictures of the manoeuvring of destroyers, submarines, and smaller craft. The battleships carry aeroplane platforms, and from these the aircraft whirl aloft, returning to their places with the accuracy of birds. A panoramic bird's-eye view of the whole scene completes the series.

LYRIC THEATRE.

"The Ticket of Leave Man" is the feature film to be presented to-day in the change of programme at the Lyric Theatre. This is a dramatic picture, and should be well received. It tells of the reformation of a man after he has served a term in prison, and the success that attends his efforts to do right. There will be an excellent bill of varied subjects to support the star picture. This programme will be changed again on Thursday next.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

The change at the Colonial Theatre to-day will introduce an excellent programme, the star picture of which will be entitled "Leopard Avenger." This is an animal film, dealing chiefly with the duel to the death between a man and a leopard. It is a solid picture, and very fascinating. Five other films go to make up a programme of great strength.

EMPRESS THEATRE.

At the Empress Theatre to-day the change of programme will introduce as the star film "The Mystery of the Corner House." This is a three-act drama, full of intense and thrilling situations. The English Gazette will give the most striking happenings in the old world, and in addition there will be the usual varied subjects, one of the best of which will be "The Lady at the G.P.O." This is one of the funniest films presented at the Empress.

Builds Up Health and Strength.

Angier's Emulsion is both healing and strengthening. Soothing alike to throat, lungs, stomach and intestines, an aid to appetite and digestion, and a most invigorating tonic and restorative, it is invaluable in lung affections, digestive and bowel disorders, "run down" conditions and all wasting diseases.

Because of its peculiar soothing, healing properties, in combination with exceptional tonic and strengthening qualities, it is different and superior to other emulsions. Moreover, it is as pleasant to take as cream and it agrees perfectly with delicate stomachs, aiding digestion instead of disturbing it.

Angier's Emulsion will be found especially useful for building up strength after influenza, Pneumonia, Pleurisy, or any illness of the lungs; also after Measles, Fevers, etc., and in those nervous "run down" conditions associated with digestive disorders. For over twenty years Angier's Emulsion has been prescribed by the medical profession and used in the hospitals. It is a standard remedy of proved value.

ANGIER'S (PETROLEUM WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES) EMULSION

"I RECOMMEND TO ALL WITH WEAK DIGESTIONS WHO NEED A TONIC."

Dear Sirs,—I have pleasure in expressing my gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the use of Angier's Emulsion. After an operation for Hydatid disease of the liver, that organ was so out of order that I was unable to assimilate ordinary tonics, and, till a Sydney physician recommended your Emulsion, I was unable to recover my strength. I would recommend Angier's Emulsion to all with weak digestions, who need a tonic; for, unlike other tonics I have tried, it benefits the digestive organs, as well as builds up the system. You may publish my letter if you so desire, but I should prefer my name to be suppressed.

AFTER SERIOUS ILLNESS. "THE RESULT HAS BEEN MARVELLOUS."

The Lodge, Hamilton, Waikato, N.Z.

Dear Sirs,—Recently during a serious illness, a friend, Mr. Alexander Allan, of Papakura, who is a most enthusiastic believer in Angier's Emulsion, induced me to give your remedy a trial. I have little faith in advertised remedies and Mr. Allan had much difficulty in persuading me to try Angier's, but he was so persistent that I finally purchased a bottle and the result of using it has been most marvellous. I have not only benefited myself, by using Angier's Emulsion, but all those to whom I have recommended it are satisfied with the results of its use. You have therefore my authority to publish this letter in support of what my friend, Mr. Allan, has stated in favour of your Emulsion.

(Signed) WILLIAM A. GRAHAM, J.P.

"MY FRIENDS ARE GREATLY ASTONISHED AT THE IMPROVEMENT."

Footscray, Vic.

Dear Sirs,—I wish to tell you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of Angier's Emulsion. After an attack of pleurisy I suffered much from debility, and could not regain strength. A few weeks later I caught cold, which resulted in pneumonia, and this left me very weak with much loss of weight. The doctor said I was in a decline and ordered me up north, which, however, I did not find convenient to do. I determined instead to give Angier's Emulsion a trial, and the result has been most gratifying. My friends are greatly astonished at the improvement in my appearance, and I can honestly and thankfully say that I am better now than I have been for many years. I do not wish you to publish my name, but will gladly answer any inquiries that may come to you concerning this testimonial.

(Name and address furnished privately).

"EVERY DOSE SEEMS TO MAKE ME STRONGER."

Mount Pleasant, Pickmere, near Knutsford.

Dear Sirs,—I must thank you for such a valuable remedy as your Angier's Emulsion, which has proved very beneficial to me. I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and weakness, and have tried to take several kinds of emulsion, but never could manage them before trying Angier's, which I can take without any trouble, as it is almost like taking cream. It has also improved my appetite a great deal, and I can digest my food better. Every dose seems to make me stronger, and I like it so well that I feel I cannot take enough of it.

QUEST FOR £10,000.

HOSPITAL SATURDAY.

LAST YEAR'S TOTAL EXCEEDED.

UNIQUE OCCASION IN SYDNEY.

Hospital Saturday, apart altogether from its financial aspect, was unique in the annals of the big metropolitan charity movement.

The amount collected during the day was £8030 14s, and, while this fell short of what the board of directors of the fund had hoped for, it represented an increase of £131 15s 4d over last year. The fund thus maintained the annual upward trend which has characterised it since its establishment 19 years ago.

It fell on the same day as the first review of military cadets and trainees by the Governor-General, and the two things, so to speak, became part and parcel of each other. The lady collectors took the field, or rather the streets, earlier than the khaki-uniformed young soldiers, but the day was, as matters developed in the afternoon, really that of the lads being reviewed. The persuasive, smiling collectors, with the old familiar rattle of the coin boxes, had their best opportunity in the forenoon, before the crowd began to throng the line of route taken by the cadets, and thus hampered the freedom of action of the winsome emissaries of the hospitals. The game was certainly afoot, and plenty of it, so plentiful indeed as to embarrass the collectors in their work. This, however, was only for the afternoon, and the eager hunters after coin of the realm of however humble a denomination were repulsed only, and not defeated. They had still at their disposal the later part of the afternoon, when the restrictions of traffic were removed, and they were again free like busy bees to flit from flower to flower, gathering honey from every pocket, willing or unwilling though the owner might be.

THE OBJECTIVE.

The objective of the fund promoters was £10,000. This meant that the ladies with the appealing faces and the bright smiles were expected to do better than last year to the extent of £2100 odd. Elaborate arrangements with this praiseworthy object in view were made. The marauding hordes, compared with 1912, had been augmented, and so many beflagged motor cars buzzed about between the collecting stalls and the head office of the Bank of New South Wales as to lead to the suspicion that the fair pirates attacking the pocket money of the many were being aided and abetted by motor-bandits, for, be it remembered, that the cars were occupied mostly by ladies wearing the badge that seemed to give a looting license almost equal to that French-leave taken by gentlemen of the highway. In any case the morning was a profitable one for the collectors, but up to 1 o'clock they had only succeeded in getting some £50 ahead of 1912. The 11 o'clock record was £901 9s 2d, against £807 8s 11d, and at 1 o'clock the sum was £1958 10s 9d, as compared with £1906 12s 3d, last year.

And then the crush in the streets came, everybody crowding to watch the march past. For several hours metallic concussion of the collection boxes was not heard in the land, and the fund promoters began to experience some anxiety as to whether the £10,000 quest was going to be successful. The situation demanded the putting forth of all the resources of the collectors in the hours still at their disposal when the martial music at last died away and the record procession of 20,000 young defenders was over.

The streets were crowded, and, with a sort of now-or-never resolution, the troops of despoilers let themselves loose once again upon the populace, who showed a delightful docility under the bail-up order of things that prevailed. And the barometer outside the bank showed that the collectors were nobly making up for lost time.

HAMPERING CAUSES.

By 4 o'clock the barometer showed £3209 17s 10d. The procession had hampered the collection to such an extent that this total was £150 behind the 4 o'clock returns in 1912. The discovery that there was a leeway to make up in the receipts spurred the collectors on to redoubled efforts.

At 6 o'clock a deficit still stared the workers in the face—£3805 as against £4005 last year. The procession impeded the collection for no less than three hours, and after it broke up the deficit was soon overtaken and annihilated, the 8 o'clock postings showing £5227, being £321 ahead of 1912. The takings along the route of the procession had taken a big jump ahead. But the people were tired with waiting for the march past, and they hurried for train, tram, and ferry-boat, too jaded to later on face the pressing requests of the sedulous couriers of charity. The result was that the comparative surplus slumped, and had dwindled by over two-thirds before the evening was out.

SPLENDID ENTHUSIASM.

The day's collection of £8030 was only possible because of the splendid invincible spirit which animated the collectors and those assisting in the general organisation. A staff of some 300 at the head office of the Bank of New South Wales worked harder in the cause of charity than at any other time during the year, and a visit here disclosed a scene of extraordinary activity. Copper and silver poured into this reservoir in mighty streams, and the stream of gold was by no means insignificant. A few pence under £2000 was taken, and the officials removed it to the vaults in buckets. The copper coins weighed about three tons.

It is hard to drop a coin from a balcony into a collection-box in the street below. Somebody tried it as the crowd was thick on each side of George-street, in the vicinity of the Royal Hotel. The shot missed, but it proved an inspiration. A shower of coins from the crowded balcony and from the people waiting in the street followed, and the collectors, who were unable to collect in the ordinary way, gathered in the harvest that thus made its appearance in the thoroughfare.

CANINE COLLECTORS.

The collecting dogs outside the Hotel Australia did rare business. The bull dog Barry was in the thick of the fray, a collie rounded up the flock of contributors in most approved style, and a St. Bernard made so many excursions from the hospice, in the cause of suffering humanity, that in the end he lay down, dead beat. The chairman of the fund, Mr. Justice Gordon, called them all noble dogs.

Some of the most successful collectors during the day were:—Mrs. M. Deery, Martin-place, £136 8s; Miss R. Creal (matron of Sydney Hospital), Exchange corner, £101 11s 6d; Mrs. R. Brinsley Sheridan, Hotel Australia, £73 8s 7d; Mrs. E. J. Carver, Milson's Point and McMahon's Point Jetty, £65 18s 1d; Mrs. P. Leahy, Mosman and Cremorne Jetty, £65 12s 5d; Mrs. A. J. Gray, Customs House, £59 12s 8d; Mrs. J. Kain, Hotel Metropole, £51 3s 5d.

COST OF LIVING.

GOVERNMENT STATISTICIAN'S VIEWS.

Mr. J. B. Trivett, Government Statistician, giving evidence on the question of the cost of living before the Gas Wages Board (Mr. N. G. M'William, barrister, chairman), stated, under examination by Mr. Bevan (who is watching proceedings on behalf of the Crown—the interests of the public), that in Sydney groceries had increased since 1911 by 12.1 per cent., and meat by 15.5 per cent. If grouped together groceries, dairy produce, meat, and house rent would show an increase in Sydney for 1912, as against 1911, of 11.3 per cent.

Mr. Bevan: Those combined groceries, food, and rent, including houses having four rooms, Sydney, shows what?

Witness: 7.8 per cent. above par, par being the average condition for Australia.

Taking all houses, what is the weighted average for Sydney?—8.2 per cent. above par.

On the purchasing power of money, starting with 1901, what could you have purchased £1 worth of goods for in Sydney?—According to this (Mr. Knibbs's) table, 18s 2d.

And, in 1911, what could you have purchased £1 worth of goods for?—21s.

Mr. MacLaurin (for the gas companies): This table shows that what would have cost 21s in 1911 would in 1912 have cost 23s 4d?—Yes; you can compare any one of these columns with any other column.

Where the wages in 1901 were 19s 11d, they were 23s 4d in 1911?—Yes.

TRAM ACCIDENT.

CONDUCTOR'S LEG CUT OFF.

James M'Inerney, 28, a tram conductor, residing at 6 M'Garvie-street, Paddington, had his left leg cut off in a tram accident in Castlereagh-street on Saturday afternoon.

M'Inerney was in charge of a tram running from the railway to Circular Quay. About 1 o'clock he was short of change, and when his car stopped at the corner of Martin-place and Castlereagh-street M'Inerney ran into a shop and secured change. The tram was moving when he returned, and M'Inerney attempted to board the front car. He, however, missed his footing, and while holding to the stanchion was dragged along for several yards. He then lost his hold, and fell between the front and rear car, the wheels of the latter car passing over his left leg. The limb was almost severed. The unfortunate man was removed to the Sydney Hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the limb at the knee.

MISSING CUTLERY.

ALLEGED THEFT.

Cutlery and other articles, valued at £100, were taken from a house in Collingwood-street, Manly, on May 1.

At the Water Police Court on Saturday morning, Henry Newman, 22, was charged with stealing the cutlery, etc. Sergeant Mitchell informed Mr. Wilkinson, S.M., that none of the property had been recovered. Accused was remanded until Friday next, at the Manly court. Bail was fixed, self at £150 and one surety of £150, or two of £75 each.

FOOTBALL.

OPENING OF THE SEASON.

AN AUSPICIOUS START.

FOUR CODES IN FULL SWING.

Naturally the concentration of so many people in the city, owing to the great cadet parade, had a marked influence on the various football matches. Nevertheless, good attendances marked the games, which in the majority of cases were featured by a high standard of skill—individually and collectively.

So much rain had fallen on Thursday and Friday that a wet Saturday was generally expected. However, the weather cleared, and though it again became dull, no rain fell to speak of, and the matches were played in rather warm weather, and on much softer grounds than is usual. Some of the areas were rather slippery, especially in the centre, where the wickets are laid down. This had the effect of cutting short many sprints that began to look dangerous, the player, in attempting to dodge, measuring his full length on the sward as the result of his feet shooting from under him. Everything considered, however, the opening day proved most successful, and presages a splendid season for all concerned.

The Metropolitan Rugby Union commenced its season, the chief fixture being that between Glebe and Western Suburbs, at the University Oval, when the former won narrowly, the premiers having a close call.

At the Sydney Cricket Ground, for the first time in history, a Rugby League club match was played, when the premier club, Eastern Suburbs, defeated Newtown in an interesting game that fluctuated from start to finish. The attendances at this and the other matches were, all things considered, eminently satisfactory.

The Australian League—the governing body of Australian football—made a distinct step in advance by playing the first round of the newly-organised scheme of district matches. It is only by creating a local interest that field games and sports thrive and become popular. The most important match was at the Australian Football Ground, between Sydney and South Sydney, when the premiers won rather comfortably.

The British Association authorities began their numerous competitions of the Rawson Cup, and first League games are the most important, and the standard of play witnessed was most gratifying.

RUGBY UNION.

PREMIERS DEFEAT WESTERN SUBURBS.

Glebe defeated Western Suburbs by 6 points to 3.
University defeated St. George by 16 points to 6.
North Sydney defeated Newtown by 19 points to 14.
Balmain defeated South Sydney by 29 points to 12.
Eastern Suburbs defeated Manly by 17 points to 11.

The first rounds of the metropolitan competitions were played on Saturday in weather slightly too warm for Rugby, but the players lasted the forty minute spells in excellent style. The attendances were satisfactory, showing increases on the opening day of last year.

The premiers maintained their reputation by defeating Western Suburbs, at University Oval. They owe their victory to their better combination and opportunism. There were several new men in the side, and they acquitted themselves splendidly. The backs should be a very powerful set when they have had a few more matches together. The forwards are lusty and heady. Western Suburbs promise to be just as powerful as last year, but on Saturday they seemed to be short of team work, and lost opportunities in this way.

University were hard pressed by St. George, at Hurstville Oval, during the first half, but in the second spell their backs asserted themselves, and executed some neat passing movements, and the cross-kick was used to good advantage. The play throughout was featured by some fine runs by M'Ilmurray, who, with better support, would have made the local side's score much larger.

After losing both of their trial games, North Sydney gave Newtown a surprise at Metters' Ground, by defeating them by 19 to 14. The game was most interesting, and the scores varied in such a way as to keep the ultimate issue in doubt right up to the final whistle. The Shoremen should play most attractive football this season.

At Rushcutter Bay, Balmain maintained their winning record this season by defeating South Sydney easily. Although at one time the score was 9 to nil against them, they won by a margin of 17 points. Quick and resolute forward play was responsible for this.

The much-fancied Eastern Suburbs defeated Manly, at the village, and earned their win by clever combined work among the backs. The home team showed their best form to date, and promise to equal the best side that has yet represented Manly, whilst the victors should certainly make a bold bid for the premiership.

The second and third grade and the city and suburban clubs commenced their season in a most satisfactory manner.

GLEBE v WESTERN SUBURBS.

Played at the University Oval. Glebe won by two tries to one.

Glebe.—Full-back, F. Buckle; three-quarters, J. Prenderville, F. Fisher, J. Kohane, W. Massey-Westrop; half-backs, L. W. Wogan (captain), P. Buchanan; forwards, G. Walters, J. Cunningham, J. O. Donohue, C. Grimes, W. Cooper, J. Clarken, O. Campbell, and R. Stone. Campbell subsequently retired hurt, and was replaced by C. Bowen.

Western Suburbs.—Full-back, M. White; three-quarters, F. Postle, H. Prentice, A. Prentice, H. Sly; half-backs, B. Heavener, W. C. Prentice (captain); forwards, C. W. Prentice, R. Tremain, D. R. Mercer, H. Cooper, M. Anderson, A. Arnold, M. Bosser, and H. J. Leddy.

Referee, Mr. J. Nicholls.

Western Suburbs won the toss, and defended the scoring board end. Glebe started play to their opponents' twenty-five line. White relieved with a long line kick, the ball going out of play past half-way. Mercer, Tremain, and Leddy dribbled well into Glebe's territory, and for a time the premiers' defence was disorganised. The Western attack, however, lacked cohesion, and although they frequently looked like scoring in the first ten minutes no try resulted. A mark and long kick by Buckle put Glebe out of danger; then Clarken and Stone broke through the line-out at half way and took the ball on for 30 yards or so, when a clever mark by Heavener pulled them up. Glebe soon came back, and seemed to be doing better in combined work. From the scrums the ball invariably went to Buchanan, and he set his backs going several times. From one of these Wogan cut through and sent to Fisher to Kohane to Prenderville, who raced for the corner, but was splendidly tackled by White. But the relief was only temporary, for with Clarken and Walters in the van the Glebe forwards took the ball on to their opponents' goal line, where, picking up, Wogan sent to Stone to Grimes, who reversed to the left, and the ball flew to Fisher to Buchanan to Prenderville, who crossed over in the corner just as he was tackled. It was a fine try. Buchanan failed at goal. Glebe, 3 to nil.

From a drop out Glebe returned to the attack, and their forwards were now outplaying the opposition pack. They were masters in both scrums and line outs, and Buchanan had plenty of opportunities. The attack was maintained, however, by the forwards, with Clarken the most prominent figure on the field. The Suburbs were kept on the defensive, and eventually Buchanan, securing, sent to Wogan to Kohane to Fisher to Westropp, who outpaced White and finished a fine effort by scoring. Buchanan again failed at goal, and Glebe led by 6 points to nil.

Just before half-time another score was missed by Fisher neglecting to send the ball to Westropp. There was no further score at half-time, and Glebe was undoubtedly the better side.

Again in play, the Western Suburbs' forwards showed to much better advantage, but there were one or two who still neglected combination. C. W. Prentice, Mercer, and Anderson were in the thick of it all the time, and were the means of their side keeping up the attack on Glebe's line for some time. Buckle repeatedly got in long and telling line kicks, which often gained 50 yards for his side. The Reds invariably heeled to their backs, so that the rearguard received plenty of chances. There was, however, a lack of finish. Once or twice a score seemed certain, but support was wanting. From a scrum in front of goal W. C. Prentice feinted around, and reversed, passed to H. Prentice, who dodged and wriggled through half a dozen opponents, only to be grassed under goal for want of some one to pass to. The second spell was 30 minutes old before a score resulted; then from a straggling rush Tremain picked up near the line and went over. C. Prentice failed at goal. Glebe, 6; Western Suburbs, 3.

There was no additional score. The contest was even with Glebe predominant in the first half, and Western Suburbs in the second. Glebe, however, made better use of opportunities.

NEWTOWN v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at Metters' Ground, and won by North Sydney by 19 points to 14. Teams:—

North Sydney.—Full-back, G. Henderson; three-quarters, L. Mayo, S. Glisson, C. Rabie, W. Gregory; halves, G. O'Neill, O. Humphreys; forwards, L. O. Asmus (captain), B. D. Hughes, R. Batchelor, W. Tucker, H. L. Pitt, T. Britton, T. Griffin, N. Graham.

Newtown.—Full-back, A. M'Dowell; three-quarters, T. Lee, S. Smith, P. Ferguson, J. Parry; half-backs, W. G. Tasker, L. Newman; forwards, W. T. Watson, T. Cooper, H. Quartley, A. Cooper, R. B. Hill (captain), S. Gilliver, W. Peters, R. Roberts.

Referee, Mr. C. L. Morgan.

North Sydney kicked off from the Erskineville end, but Newtown attacked at once, Parry making a long run from 25 to 25, but being unsupported the opening was lost. North Sydney forwards retaliated, Griffin securing the ball in five out of six scrums, though from the press table it appeared as if the Northern front row men were securing some assistance from their half when putting the ball in the scrum. From a scrum at the Blues' 25 the Shoremen heeled to Humphreys, to O'Neill, to Mayo, who had crossed right from the other wing, and completed a fine movement with a try well out. Henderson failed at goal. Newtown, led by Watson and Quartley, now advanced, but their tackling was weak in the two centre three-quarter positions, and repeatedly let the Shoremen through, only to be stopped by Full-back M'Dowell. However, from a line out Pitt secured, and ran well to the full-back, and punted over his head. He again secured after a fumble, and scored. Henderson converted. North Sydney led by 8 to nil. Newtown appeared to be conquered, but the forwards livened up, and from a scrum at half-way heeled to Newman, to Tasker, to Ferguson, who passed badly to Perry. Hill, however, had backed up from the scrum, and, fielding the ball, sent it to Quartley, to Roberts, who crossed in fair position. M'Dowell converted, and the score stood 8 to 5. Half time.

On resuming, the Newtown forwards showed much better form in the line outs and in the ruck play. At times, however, their judgment was astray, and from a penalty Hughes kicked a magnificent goal from the extreme wing at the 25. Newtown forwards, dribbling well, rushed the ball from 25 to the Northerners' line, where from a throw-out Watson scored a try. M'Dowell failed at goal. North Sydney retaliated with some fine runs by O'Neill and Gregory, but faulty handling spoilt several openings. Newtown, not to be denied, tried short passing amongst the forwards, but over anxiousness spoilt some fine rushes. However, Quartley started a movement which ended in Roberts scoring. M'Dowell failed at goal. The score was now 11 all. The North Sydney pack heeled repeatedly to Humphreys, who set his backs going, but Glisson kicked too often. Shortly afterwards Mayo almost scored, and then in some loose play under the posts Newtown were adjudged off-side, and Henderson kicked a goal. North Sydney leading by 14 to 11. The Blue forwards again made several passing rushes, but hanging on was too prevalent. However, from a scrum at the 25, they heeled to Newman, to Tasker, to Ferguson, to Smith, to Parry, who scored a neat try well out on the wing. M'Dowell failed at goal. Scores again equal, 14 all. Time was drawing in, and it appeared as if the result would be a draw, but North Sydney backs opened up the game. Humphreys passed to O'Neill, to Glisson, who, finding the Newtown centres wofully out of position, ran over. Henderson converted, making his third goal out of four attempts, and his side won by 19 points to 14.

SOUTH SYDNEY v BALMAIN.

Played at Rushcutter Bay, and won by Balmain by 29 points to 12. Teams:

Balmain.—Full-back, H. Grose; three-quarters, S. French, A. Brett, A. H. Grimsley, A. Kinman; half-backs, R. Roberts, A. Jonas; forwards, C. Kaser, F. Morgan, W. Sutcliffe, R. Nelson, E. Burnicle, Dr. Christiansen (captain), F. Plumb, R. Fetherstone.

South Sydney.—Full-back, W. Wall; three-quarters, V. Jenkins, N. Cruise, W. Lawrence, B. Fusedale; half-backs, J. Nicholson, J. Barry; forwards, T. G. Radcliffe (captain), W. Buist, H. Morris, J. Pagani, M. Maloney, E. Neugelly, J. Bond, W. Lenton.

Referee, Mr. O. H. Harding.

South Sydney kicked-off, and play was taken to Balmain's quarters, where Bond secured a mark in a good position, and Morris goaled. Balmain were kept defending, and were fortunate in not having another score registered against them, as Jenkins crossed the line, but stepped into touch in goal. Balmain became more aggressive, and opened up the play, but South Sydney were soon back, and Radcliffe scored from a scramble on the line. Morris failed to goal. From just outside the 25 Nicholson passed out to Barry, to Fusedale, who beat the full-back with a side-step, and scored behind the posts. Morris made a poor attempt at goal, South Sydney leading by 9 to nil. Balmain now rallied, and as the result of a spirited rush Kinman scored well out, but Brett failed to improve with his kick. Next Jonas picked up in the loose, near centre, and put in a good run before he transferred to Brett, who beat a few opponents, and scored in a good position, and then converted it. South Sydney leading by 9 to 8. Balmain had now fairly settled into their stride, and a misunderstanding took place amongst the Southern backs, after which there was a scramble for the ball, when some illegal interference took place, and Balmain were awarded a try. Brett converted it. Balmain were now leading by 13 to 9. Play was very lively, and from a scrum at centre Jonas secured and opened up the play, Nelson finishing the movement with a neat try. Brett again converted. Balmain 18 to 9. Half-time.

On resuming South Sydney led off with a passing rush amongst the backs, but the defence proved impregnable. Balmain were penned on their line, when Nicholson tried to work the "blind side," but the ruse failed, and Balmain transferred the ball to the opposite 25. Here play was confined to the forwards for a time. Then Roberts passed to Grimsley, who ran well, and transferred to Brett, who scored behind the posts. Grimsley missed an easy shot. Balmain, 21; South Sydney, 9. The latter were indulging in a passing rush, when Grimsley intercepted, and kicked over the full-back's head. Fetherstone smartly followed up, and scored, to which Brett failed to convert. Balmain 24 to 9. South Sydney now made an effort, and some good passing by the backs resulted in Jenkins scoring. Fusedale failed to convert. Cruise was now responsible for some smart play. Securing the ball at centre he tricked his opponents by feinting to pass, and raced to the 25, where he passed to Fusedale, who was stopped by Grose, when a score seemed assured. Nicholson picked up at his own 25, and, supported by Cruise, ran to centre, where he passed to the three-quarter, who transferred to Radcliffe, who knocked-on, and spoilt a fine bit of play. From a loose rally Grimsley picked up, and passed to Kinman, who cut in nicely, and scored behind the posts. Brett converted, making the score 29 to 12 in Balmain's favour. There was no further scoring.

EASTERN SUBURBS v MANLY.

Played on Manly Oval, and won by Eastern Suburbs, by 17 points to 11. Teams:—

Manly.—Full back, S. Perry; three-quarters, E. Carr, J. Randell, J. Cooney, C. Terry; half-backs, R. Thom, E. Kirke; forwards, A. Buckley, S. Riddington, R. Campbell, A. Wright, D. Jackson, R. Mitchell, J. D. Archer, R. Farnell.

Eastern Suburbs.—Full-back, H. Baker; three-quarters, Gordon, Bolden, Adamson, Gardiner; half-backs, Coulson, Walker; forwards, Duffy, Cody, Thompson, Wallach, Hardwick, George, Cameron, Barnes.

Referee, Mr. C. Butt.

About 500 spectators saw the ball set in motion by Eastern Suburbs. After the visitors had defended for some time, Cody found an opening near the line, and passed to Barnes, who scored. Wallach failed to convert. The Villagers now executed a number of passing bouts, which landed in the Easterners' territory. From a throw-out near the corner, a scramble ensued, and Mitchell scored. Randell added the extras. Manly 5, Eastern Suburbs 3. Although Eastern Suburbs' forwards attacked, they were unable to break through the defence of the Villagers. A few minutes before half-time, a neat piece of passing was witnessed between the Manly backs, but Carr overran the ball when near the line and a certain score was lost. Half-time, Manly 5, Eastern Suburbs 3.

Eastern Suburbs were the aggressors in the second half. Walker started a passing bout, which culminated in Adamson scoring. No goal resulted. Off-side play on both sides was noticeable, and Adamson piloted a penalty goal for the visitors. Shortly afterwards Manly were awarded a penalty, and Randell almost evened matters by landing a splendid goal. Eastern Suburbs 9, Manly 8. With one point in arrear, Manly rallied, the forwards, headed by Buckley, rushing down the field. Archer scored, but Randell failed to convert. Manly 11, Eastern Suburbs 9. From this on the Easterners had the advantage. However, in several instances roughness was observed, and the referee administered cautions to a number in each team. Eastern Suburbs next scored a try, the result of a clever dribble by Wallach, Bolden putting the finishing touch to it. Adamson added the extras. Just before time, Adamson potted another goal for Eastern Suburbs, and the final scores were: Eastern Suburbs 17, Manly 11.

UNIVERSITY v ST. GEORGE.

Played at Hurstville Oval, and won by University by 16 points to 6.

University.—Full-back, Beith; three-quarters, Barton, Harden, James, Hamilton; half-backs, Jeckyll, Aspinall; forwards, Cooney, Massie, Heath, Abbott, Allen, Irving, Javleson, Henry.

St. George.—Full-back, Freeman; three-quarters, Mulfarlow, Sadler, Bowen, Fleming; half-backs, M'Ilmurray, Trimm; forwards, Billingham, Paul, Naess, M'Lachlan, Proudfoot, Crouch, Hatchmann, Gates.

In the presence of a fairly large crowd, University kicked off. The ground was on the slippery side, but notwithstanding this the game in the first half was fast and clean. For a considerable time play was confined to St. George's quarter, until from a scrum Jeckyll passed to Hamilton, who was tackled, and a score was frustrated by M'Ilmurray. A series of scrums followed, and a free to University in front of the posts was badly directed by Beith. The greasy ground was telling its tale, and attempts at breakaways were unsuccessful. After a long spell of defensive work, St. George encroached on the visitors' territory, but Barton forced, and saved a score to the home team. Penalties were incurred on both sides, and full-backs Freeman and Beith were called upon for a full share of the work in defence. The half-time whistle blew without either side having scored.

University lost no time, and Barton crossed the line. Beith failed at goal, and the first three points were recorded to the visitors. This seemed to rouse St. George, and from a free Fleming put the ball over. Three all. Play continued fast, and when near St. George line Hamilton passed to Jeckyll to Aspinall, who got through. A goal resulted, making the game 8-3. After smart passing, in which department of the game University showed up well, Hamilton was successful in getting over, but the attempt at goal failed; 11-3 in the visitors' favour. St. George pressed, and by a smart and tricky run Crouch got over. Fleming's attempt at goal failed, and the game stood 11-6. Up and down the field for a time, then a run set in by the University back division, finished by Barton getting over. Aspinall kicked the goal, and the game resulted in a win for University by 16 to 6.

SECOND GRADE.

EASTERN SUBURBS v UNIVERSITY.

Played at University Oval, and won by Eastern Suburbs, by 11 to 5. In the first half, Barton scored a try for Eastern Suburbs, which Smith converted. Moscombe and Walker added tries for the winners in the second half, and Harrison scored a try, which O'Shea converted, for University.

NEWTOWN v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at Rushcutter Bay Oval, and won by Newtown, by 18 points to nil. Martin (3) and Clew scored tries, Cleland converting 2 and Lane 1.

GLEBE v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at North Sydney, and won by Glebe by 18 to 6. For Glebe, Holt (2), Armstrong, and Burke scored tries, and F. Thomas converted three; for North Sydney, Dennis and Pirie scored tries.

Y.M.C.A. v CHATSWOOD.

Played at North Sydney Oval, and won by Y.M.C.A. by 18 to 3. Lake (2), Pearce, Fluke, and Charlesworth scored tries, and Spratt kicked a penalty for the winners; while Hapmund scored a try for Chatswood.

RANDWICK v WESTERN SUBURBS.

Played at St. Luke's Oval, and won by Randwick by 18 to 3. The former quickly took the ball into West's territory, where Hillier's kick averted danger. Randwick again got possession, and from McNair's try Grace kicked a goal. From a free Muggridge landed a goal for Western Suburbs. Grace added two more goals for Randwick, who led at half-time by 18 to 3. In the second half Randwick added to its total by tries scored by Ahearn (2), Harrison (2), and Kinhick.

BALMAIN v MANLY.

Played at Ryde, and won by Balmain by 12 to nil. Neither side scored in the first half, but in the second Balmain, through the agency of O'Toole, Wood, and Walker, scored 12 points to nil.

TRAINING COLLEGE v ST. GEORGE.

Played at Hurstville Park, and won by Sydney Training College by 6 to nil.

THIRD GRADE.

Y.M.C.A. v GLEBE.

Played at Waterloo Oval, and won by Glebe by 11 to nil. Sermon and Fraser scored tries, one of which Walker converted, and Ewen kicked a penalty goal.

DARLINGHURST v ST. GEORGE.

Played at Waterloo Oval, and won by Darlinghurst by 15 to nil, P. Wilson and L. Guilfoyle each crossing the line twice, while J. Wilson kicked a goal.

NEWTOWN v SYDNEY TRAINING COLLEGE.

Newtown defeated Sydney Training College by 23 points to 3.

RANDWICK v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at Randwick, and won by North Sydney by 5 points to nil. W. Dhu crossed Randwick's line, and N. Gardyne converted.

EASTERN SUBURBS v RYDE.

This match was set down for Randwick Oval, but Eastern Suburbs forfeited.

BALMAIN v MANLY.

This match was to have been played at Manly, but Balmain forfeited.

Chatswood had the bye.

BATHURST, Saturday.

This afternoon Perthville defeated All Saints II. by 37 points to nil.

RUGBY LEAGUE.

PREMIERS' CLOSE CALL.

Eastern Suburbs defeated Newtown by 17 points to 15.
Balmain defeated Annandale by 7 points to 5.
Glebe defeated North Sydney by 19 points to 15.
South Sydney defeated Western Suburbs by 33 points to 11.

The Rugby League season was officially opened on Saturday. The football was of a keen and exhilarating character, and the public were most liberal with their patronage.

At the Sydney Cricket Ground Eastern Suburbs and Newtown provided a stirring contest—one worthy of the occasion, it being the first League competition match played on this historic enclosure. The game attracted about 7000 people. The premiers' brilliant performances last season gave their supporters hope that they would score an easy win. But the unexpected nearly happened, as Newtown contested every inch of the ground. In the first portion of the game, two-thirds of the play was in Newtown's favour, and for the greater part of the time they were attacking strongly. Minus Roy Farnsworth and C. Russell, they were greatly handicapped, but the young players who filled their places rose to the occasion splendidly. Newtown's backs were smarter all-round than the men playing opposite them. They showed fine combination, and kicked with excellent judgment, and they kept their positions much better. Yet the side went down. White, the Eastern Suburbs' three-quarter, had the misfortune to dislocate his collarbone, and was forced to retire towards the close of the game. W. Messenger's all-round form for Eastern Suburbs was excellent, as he was smart in attack, sturdy in defence, and clever at goal-kicking.

Anticipations of a stirring game between Glebe and North Sydney was responsible for a large attendance at North Sydney oval. In the trial games, both teams had displayed splendid form, though early in the season. Viewing the game as a whole, honours were very even, the final scores being 19 to 15 in favour of Glebe. But, while the game was keenly waged, it failed to reach the plane that thrills the crowd. Cubitt was absent from Glebe, and Devereux from North Sydney, and the absence of pivot men like these in the combination seriously impaired the movements of the rearguard. Glebe had a substantial lead at half-time, scoring three tries (one converted) to a penalty goal, and later led by 19 to 5, having up to that time played the better football, but in the concluding stages the local team rapidly piled up points, and executed some of the best bits of combined play which the game provided. The brothers Deane worked together nicely, and full-back Moore displayed high-class form, but the full-time whistle ended the game when North Sydney were within reach of their opponents' total.

In the presence of about 2000 people at Pratten Park, Western Suburbs were given an object lesson in back play, being defeated by a much better all-round team. It was not the forwards who were responsible for the Westerners' defeat—though even here South Sydney were speedier and more resourceful—but in the backs, where the wonderful combination of Butler and the Horder brothers carried the day. Harold Horder seems to possess the happy knack of being able to do the right thing at the proper time. The absence of a scoring board was felt by the spectators.

Balmain provided their supporters with a pleasant surprise by defeating Annandale, at Wentworth Park, in the presence of 5000 people. In the forwards Balmain were superior, their dribbling and tackling being excellent. The passing movements of Balmain had more method than those of Annandale, whilst the latter indulged in far too much kicking. Challis played an admirable game for Annandale. His fielding and kicking were very sure, and many times gained him applause from the spectators.

EASTERN SUBURBS v NEWTOWN.

Played at the Sydney Cricket Ground, and won by Eastern Suburbs by 17 points to 15. Teams:—

Eastern Suburbs.—Full-back, F. Kinghorn; three-quarters, D. Frawley, W. Messenger, D. Flannery, F. White; half-backs, R. Tydeman; five-eighth, A. Holloway; forwards, L. O'Malley, R. Williams, C. Lees, S. Pearce, J. Watkins, P. White.

Newtown.—Full-back, A. H. Bead; three-quarters, T. Anderson, H. T. Bolt, G. Bain, and W. Collins; five-eighth, W. Green; half-back, D. Turner; forwards, S. Mogan, T. Byron, J. Murray, J. T. Barnett, J. McCue, D. Grundie.

Referee, Mr. L. H. Kearney.

Last year's premiers will not readily forget the first League grade match played on the Sydney Cricket Ground, for, whilst they had the satisfaction of scoring more points than the wearers of the royal blue, they were sorely pressed to avert defeat. That they won was primarily owing to the inability of Newtown to take full advantage of their chances.

The game contained few dull moments, and, though there was a fair amount of vigorous forward work, the play was both clean and clever. The opening of the game raised the hopes of Eastern Suburbs, as Watkins and W. Messenger made determined efforts to break through Newtown's defence only to be checked in the nick of time. Halloway next opened up play by an excellently-placed punt, which found the Newtown three-quarters out of position. In the scramble for the ball White, the speedy Eastern Suburbs' wing three-quarter, gained possession near touch, raced across field, and sent out a long pass to Messenger, who manoeuvred past several opponents very cleverly, then cut in and scored near the post, amidst great excitement. He converted, and thus gave Eastern Suburbs a five-point lead.

The tricolours continued to press, but Bead, Newtown's full-back, was doing grand work, and time and again repulsed what looked like very dangerous attacks. His fielding and superb line-kicking were a feature of the game. A bad mistake by Kinghorn, who essayed a left-footed punt, gave Barnett an opportunity of charging it down, and of registering Newtown's first score, but Green failed to equalise the scores, though the kick was from the easiest of positions. Shortly afterwards Messenger landed a penalty goal, and Eastern Suburbs led by seven points to three. Newtown now brightened up in their play, and Turner, behind the pack, set the three-quarters moving, which worked play into the Easterners' territory. Off side by a tricolour forward resulted in Green notching two more points for Newtown by a well-judged kick. Immediately afterwards the same player indulged in brilliant combination with Turner, and the movement ended with Barnett scoring his second try. At the interval Newtown were leading by 10 points to seven.

Early in the second half, Pearce's alertness in the loose opened up the attack for Eastern Suburbs, and a smart pass was taken by Watkins, who scored. Eastern Suburbs were now playing at their top, and the Newtown defence was again beaten. Frawley sidestepped several opponents, and scored in a handy position. Messenger converted, and Eastern Suburbs led by 15 points to 10. Newtown appeared to be temporarily rattled by the rapidity of their opponents' attacking movements. However, they rallied, and tried desperately to break through the defence, but Messenger again increased the Eastern Suburbs advantage by landing a magnificent penalty goal. The game was now nearing a close. The Newtown men repeatedly drove their opponents back, and by sheer hustling got to the line, but on nearly every occasion the passing was faulty. This undoubtedly saved Eastern Suburbs from facing defeat. Ultimately the efforts of Newtown were rewarded, as Bain, by a clever side-step, worked his way over, and Green added the extras. Eastern Suburbs now played determinedly to maintain their two point lead, and though Collins went within an ace of scoring the Easterners succeeded in keeping their advantage till the sounding of no-side whistle, the scores being 17 to 15.

ANNANDALE v BALMAIN.

Played at Wentworth Park, and won by Balmain by 7 points to 5. Teams:—

Balmain.—Full-back, C. Fraser; three-quarters, L. Eyles, L. Wall, H. Judge, B. Fraser; half-backs, A. Wheatley and A. Johnson; forwards, W. Noble (captain), R. Graves, G. Cummins, F. Moore (injured, place taken by John Woodward), R. R. Craig, and H. Baulkwell.

Annandale.—Full-back, G. Challis; three-quarters, P. Lillyman, Rex Norman, G. Reynolds, W. Lindsay; half-backs, Ray Norman and H. Corbett; forwards, S. Perry, G. Munce, P. M'Cue (captain), James Woodward, W. Haddock, and F. Burdett.

Referee, Mr. A. Farrow.

After their fine display against Eastern Suburbs in the trial game, the Balmain thirteen were heartily welcomed at Wentworth, and, though the play was not of a brilliant character, there was general satisfaction with the game. Annandale need not be greatly perturbed by their first downfall, for few teams could have withstood the charges of the Balmain forwards. However, Annandale did not display that high standard of attack which gained them their successes in the practice matches. The men from Birchgrove met with a severe loss very early in the game through the retirement of Moore owing to a broken collarbone. The match showed Balmain in a very favourable light, and a continuance of the same form must inevitably carry them very much higher in the competition table than last year. On Saturday's form the forward line would embarrass an opposing forward line of internationals. Balmain were always the superior force, and their play was full of dash and method. On the other hand—especially during the opening spell—Annandale's movements were slow and somewhat aimless. There was not one passing rush on their part of any note during the whole of the first half. The only man who really performed well was Challis at full-back. The three-quarters were weak to a degree. Neither of the Normans gave of their best.

Johnson opened up Balmain's scoring account by a clever movement round the pack well inside Annandale's twenty-five. Cummins added the extras, and Balmain led by 5 points to 0. Annandale forwards were frequently obtaining possession of the ball, and, although Corbett kept his backs well supplied with the ball, no appreciable headway was made. For some reason or other the three-quarters would persist in kicking, which was nullified by the fine fielding on the part of Balmain's backs, particularly Fraser. Wall landed a goal from a mark, and at the interval Balmain were 7 points in the lead.

Soon after resuming Balmain were penalised, and Ray Norman landed a beautiful goal. The play now brightened up, with Annandale attacking strongly. Opportune marks by Wheatley and Fraser temporarily relieved the situation for Balmain, but Fraser's kick was cleverly intercepted by Lillyman, who moved goalwards. A wild pass resulted in a scramble, out of which Munce emerged in possession, and, going on strongly, transferred to Burdett, who ran over and scored. Reynolds failed to add the extras. Balmain, 7 to 5.

Annandale now worked the crowd up to a high pitch of excitement; but, although many clever passing movements were initiated by them, lack of resource on the part of their centres nullified any effective movement. Nearing the close play was very strenuous, and Referee Farrow administered several cautions for wild play in the loose. Ray Norman endeavoured to equalise the scores from penalty kicks, but without success, although one kick passed outside the post by inches only. Annandale kept up the attack, but the coolness of Balmain's defenders prevented them breaking through, and time was called with Balmain victors by two points—7 to 5.

GLEBE v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at North Sydney, and won by Glebe by 19 points to 15. About 2000 people were present. Teams:—

Glebe.—Full-back, D. M'Gregor; three-quarters, R. Algie, J. Hickey, T. Leggo, Roy Norman; five-eighth, F. Thiering; half-back, C. H. M'Kivatt (captain); forwards, F. Burge, T. Redmond, B. Gray, S. Pert, D. Kelly, S. Griffiths. North Sydney.—Full-back, S. Moore; three-quarters, A. Broomham, O. Deane, S. Deane (captain), W. Thomas; five-eighth, E. Taplin; half-back, S. M'Farlane; forwards, J. Gosper, H. Franks, C. Sullivan, A. H. Burge, S. Lloyd, B. Wilkinson. Referee, Mr. T. M'Mahon.

Glebe lost no time in scoring. North Sydney were penalised, and Leggo took the kick, but it flew wide, and to the right of the posts, where S. Deane fielded, but Algie and a comrade tackled him, and the former grounded the ball. Leggo failed to add the goal. Glebe, 3 to nil.

North Sydney forwards were troublesome in the open. They swung the attack from wing to wing, and only sound tackling prevented them from scoring. Points came to the local team, after O. and S. Deane had made a determined but futile attempt to break down the defence, owing to Glebe being penalised for illegal interference. Moore kicked a goal from 30 yards out, and Glebe led 3 to 2. F. Burge broke through the ruck near half-way, but Broomham and Moore closed on him. Hickey started back, and worked to the quarter-way mark, where Redmond whipped across to his left to Leggo, and Norman raced in with the try. Thiering failed badly at goal. 6 to 2. Norman was forced into touch at the corner flag, but M'Kivatt secured from the scrum, drew the opposing five-eighth, and passed out to Thiering, who went hard and low, and secured the try, which M'Gregor converted. Glebe, 11 to 2 at half-time.

Glebe opened the second half with a splendid combined rush, in which the three-quarters and halves all handled the ball, but a forward was in front when Algie centred, and the whistle pulled up the movement. A hot rally followed, the play now going very fast up and down the field, with Wilkinson and Sullivan making herculean efforts to cap the rushes of the locals. At length Thiering flashed out and dived for the line, but lost the ball as he was tackled by Moore; Pert went after it, and Glebe had 3 more points. The visitors were now caught napping, as A. H. Burge and another forward followed the kick-off down the right wing, and before the reds were quite awake to the move, Gosper had the ball and was over in the corner. Moore failed from an extreme angle. Glebe, 14 to 5. Off-side play by Glebe retarded many scoring efforts, and the whistle sounded at critical moments for North Sydney, but they got in again, Kelly securing from a cross-kick by Algie, and transferring to Pert, who ran in near the posts. Leggo converted. Glebe, 19 to 5. Glebe's efforts had sorely tried their condition. M'Gregor repulsed a dribbling rush led by Sullivan, but M'Farlane and the Deanes came back with it, and from the corner the locals forged in-field, until Wilkinson dodged through the loose and scored. Moore converted it. 19 to 10. Taplin and O. and S. Deane were prominent in a good combined move, but though checked, they tried at another point, S. Deane starting up the centre. The ball went to Thomas, who got a clear run to the line, scoring near the posts, but Moore's kick was just outside. 19 to 13. A penalty brought two more points, but the whistle ended play, and Glebe won by 19 to 15.

WESTERN SUBURBS v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at Pratten Park, Ashfield, and won by South Sydney by 33 points to 11. Teams:—

Western Suburbs.—Full back, W. Joass; three-quarters, H. Bissett, J. Stuntz, J. Lindsay, C. McFadyen; half-backs, H. Naylor, R. Steward; forwards, E. Courtney (capt.), A. Burdon, A. Gillett, S. Carr, S. Griffiths, W. Foord.

South Sydney.—Full back, H. Hallett; three-quarters, C. Horder, H. Horder, H. Thompson, A. Smith; half-backs, W. Hilliard, A. Butler (capt.); forwards, H. Brighton, W. Spencer, H. R. Thompson, H. Butler, E. Hilliard, W. Cann. J. Leveson replaced H. Thompson in the first half.

Referee, Mr. C. Hedley.

H. Butler kicked off for South Sydney towards the railway end, and after about two minutes' play Smith, picking up in the ruck, passed to H. Horder, who transferred to his brother, who scored in the corner. Hallett converted with a splendid kick. A determined rush by the Westerners was stopped by Hallett with a splendid line kick. South Sydney were now getting the ball from almost every scrum. In some open play at half-way McFadyen intercepted a pass and raced ahead, but was brought down a yard from the line, and lost the ball. However, Stuntz was handy, and, picking up, scored. Foord failed at goal. South Sydney, leading by 5 to 3. The leaders were not long in adding to their score, as H. Horder, gaining possession, passed to Cann, who evaded several tacklers, and scored between the posts. H. Horder goaled. For a time the Westerners had the better of matters, their opponents being kept busily defending their line. Western Suburbs were next awarded a free (Cann offside) and Griffiths kicked a goal. At this stage H. Thompson retired owing to an injury to his head, and Leveson came on in his place. H. Horder and Cann scored for South Sydney in quick succession, and just before half-time McFadyen crossed over for the Westerners, after a splendid run by Griffiths. At half-time South Sydney led by 18 to 8.

In the second half the game was generally of a scrambling nature, although several bursts by South Sydney's backs relieved the monotony. One passing rush which ended in H. Horder scoring, being especially brilliant. From a scramble on Western Suburbs' line A. Butler scored and Hallett converted, making the tally 23 to 8 in favour of South Sydney. A good run from half-way by Naylor resulted in South Sydney forcing—the first of the match. The Western forwards were often in the ascendant, but their backs failed to put the finishing touches on their good work. From a melee on the right wing the ball was worked across to Cann, who bumped his way across and scored under the posts. Hallett converted. Almost immediately H. Horder scored after a brilliant passing rush, in which nearly all the Southern backs participated. Joass now retired with an injured finger, and Griffiths went out of the forwards to the full-back position. Lindsay soon made an opening for Foord, who scored. Stuntz's attempt at goal was a poster. Just before time Hallett kicked a penalty goal for South Sydney, who won by 33 points to 11.

ANNANDALE v BALMAIN.

Played at Wentworth Park, and won by Balmain by 10 to 8. For winners A. Potter scored two tries, and G. Potter kicked two goals. For Annandale, Palmer and M'Inerney scored tries, and Palmer kicked a penalty goal.

SOUTH SYDNEY v WESTERN SUBURBS.

Played at Pratten Park, and won by South Sydney by 28 points to nil. For winners, Talbot scored three tries, Rowley (2), Dymant converted three tries, and Dwyer one.

REDFERN v MARRICKVILLE.

Played at the Agricultural Ground, and won by Redfern by 13 to 3. Phelan, Field, and Downey scored tries for Redfern. The first was converted by Freeman. Downey added the extra points to his own score. Moroney crossed the line for Marrickville, but the kick for goal failed.

GROSVENOR v WEST SYDNEY.

Played at the Sydney Sports Ground, and won by Grosvenor by 21 to 4. J. Scannell (2), M. Scannell (2), and M'Gee scored tries for Grosvenor. M. Scannell converted two of the tries, and Cooper one. West Sydney's score consisted of two penalty goals by Wilson.

NEWTOWN v EASTERN SUBURBS.

Played at Sydney Cricket Ground, and won by Eastern Suburbs by 11 to 2. Nicholson scored two tries and Watson one for Eastern Suburbs. Barker converted Nicholson's second try. Luscombe kicked a penalty goal for Newtown.

GLEBE v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at North Sydney Oval No. 2, and won by Glebe by 17 to nil. For winners, Wright (3), Mackay (2), and Darrity secured tries, one of which Saunders converted. Glebe scored 6 points in the first half. They played a forcing game.

MOSMAN v SYDNEY.

Played at Mosman, and won by Mosman by 15 to 12. M'Guinness, Pattinson, and Dawson scored tries; Hall kicked two goals, and Griffiths one for the winners. Jones, Freeman, and Locke scored tries for Sydney. At half-time the score stood at 8 to 3 in favour of Mosman. In the second half Callaghan, of Mosman, received a nasty scalp wound, which necessitated his retirement from the game.

THIRD GRADE.

DRUMMOYNE v BALMAIN.

Played at Birchgrove oval, No. 1, and won by Balmain by 12 points to 8. For winners, Scholtz, Wallace, and Henzies (two) scored tries. For the losers King and Jamieson scored tries, and Mackie kicked a goal for Drummoyne.

EASTERN SUBURBS v BALMAIN IONAS.

Played at Birchgrove oval, No. 2, and won by Eastern Suburbs by 7 points to nil. Gladesbrook scored a try, and Cooney kicked two goals.

SURRY HILLS v CAMPERDOWN.

Played at Redfern oval, Surry Hills winning by 43 points to nil. The try-getters were:—Ward (4), Castello, G. Hartman, R. Lindsay, D. Lindsay, and Forgie. G. Lindsay converted five tries and kicked a penalty goal, and D. Lindsay and Cohen converted a try each.

NORTH SYDNEY v PARRAMATTA.

Played at Redfern oval, and won by Parramatta by 23 to 16. Cook, Vild (2), Warby, and Newling scored for Parramatta, Warby converting three, and scoring a penalty goal. For North Sydney Court (2), Neil, and Choquenot crossed the line, and Lynch kicked two penalty goals.

SOUTH SYDNEY FEDERALS v SYDNEY.

Played at Alexandria oval, and won by South Sydney Federals by 44 to 3. The try-getters for the winners were Potter (3), Brogan (3), Climpson (2), Conroy, Campbell, Brown, and Booth. Brogan, Beaumont, and Sickley converted tries, and Bonner scored a penalty goal. Land crossed the line for Sydney.

WESTERN SUBURBS v MOORE PARK.

Played at Alexandria oval, and won by Western Suburbs by 19 to 9. The scorers for the winning team were Gilbert (2), Swanson, Mahoney, and Ross, while Holt and Ross each converted. Miller (2), and Sykes scored tries for Moore Park.

SOUTH SYDNEY KINKORA v MARRICKVILLE.

Played at the Agricultural Ground, and won by South Sydney Kinkora by 16 to nil. Hardy, Antonio (2), and Thompson scored tries, of which Mulholland and Thompson converted one each. Three of the Marrickville players were injured, and had to leave the field.

SOUTH SYDNEY v GLEBE.

Played at Sydney Sports Ground, and won by South Sydney by 21 to nil. Stead, Booth (2), Brown (2), and Simmonds scored tries, of which Brown, Mulqueeney, and Riddell converted one each.

THE LEAGUE GAME AT BATHURST.

BATHURST, Saturday.

This afternoon Lithgow Small Arms Factory defeated City Seniors by 10 points to 9. For winners E. Silk and P. Mantle scored tries, Jenkins and Calden converting them. Davidson scored for City, and Dawson kicked three goals. City Juniors defeated Railway by 16 points to 6. For winners H. Upfold, A. Shea, and Robinson (2) scored tries, and Robinson and Morris kicked a goal each. Flanagan and White scored tries for Railway. The members of the Bathurst branch of the Rugby League have decided not to allow the action of the trustees of the sports ground, in accepting the lowest tender for the use of the ground for the present season, to pass without protest. At a special meeting it was contended that the action of the trustees was most unfair, and it was decided to take further action in the matter.

ASSURANCE CONDITIONS.

A central medical officer has been appointed. He will attend to all injured players. Notice of injury, endorsed by the club secretary, together with the central medical officer's certificate, must be in hands of the League secretary within four days. Injured players must be signed "on" and "off" by central medical officer. Expert or specialist treatment may be had only on an order from the League on the recommendation of the central medical officer. All serious cases requiring immediate attention must be taken to nearest hospital, arrangements being made for immediate attention there. The League will not be responsible for the fees of any doctor other than the central medical officer. Prescriptions (central medical officer's) only to be recognised must be made up at a duly appointed chemist's. Players on the fund must obey all the directions of the medical officer, or forfeit privileges. Sixteen weeks is the limit of sick pay, and no player shall be entitled to receive emolument of the benefit who is injured within eight days of the previous injury, for which he received benefit from the fund. Affiliated clubs shall pay a premium of 1s per match, in advance, or players will not be entitled to assurance benefits.

AUSTRALIAN.

OPENING MATCHES OF THE SEASON.

PREMIERS AND RUNNERS-UP SHOW GOOD FORM.

The opening contests of the season under this code were won in decisive fashion, the one exception being that between the second grade contestants—Paddington and Northern Districts. Sydney, last year's premiers, playing with the dash and system that were such marked characteristics of their last season's form, completely outclassed South Sydney, who entered into the fray with confidence. But they were no match for the well-disciplined and systematic "Red-legs."

After a fine contest, Paddington won handsomely from North Sydney, who, though unable to place their best team afield, played in fine style. Both teams seem likely to play important parts in the settlement of the season's premiership, Paddington especially.

Though East Sydney won by a big scoring margin from Newtown, the victory is somewhat discounted by the fact that up to within a few minutes of half-time the losers were giving away a handicap of three men—only 15 players doing duty for the side.

In the second grade, Paddington won from Northern Districts (last year's premiers) after a fine contest. Newtown gained the most decisive victory of the day, defeating South Sydney in hollow fashion. Sydney and the newly-formed East Sydney II. played a non-competition game at Moore Park.

LEAGUE.

SYDNEY v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at the Australian Football Ground, and won by Sydney by 81 points to 16. Teams:—

Sydney.—Blacksby, Clark, Hyett, Mack, M'Cullagh, Muggivan, Lynch, Vincent, Page, Mitchell, Rafferty, Eastment, Conn, Hume, O'Grady, M'Neill, M'Cormack, Harris.

South Sydney.—Dowell, Payne, Burrell, Mollier, Gray, Moralian, Sands, Davenport, C. Hughes, Maine, Duigan, Lappin, Elliott, E. Hughes, Moore, Stephenson, Boxall, Curphey.

Field umpire, G. A. Petrie.

Sydney demonstrated their superiority over the Southerners almost from the first bounce of the ball. Despite some fine play by the Southerners' ruck and centres, Sydney, by systematic effort, worked the ball into their forward lines, where O'Grady, the ex-Fort-street schoolboy, kicked a brace of goals during the opening quarter of play, the termination of which found Sydney with a lead of 30 points to nil.

As the game progressed, Sydney's superior combination enabled them to forge ahead, almost at will, although the Southerners fought hard to the finish. The premiers' display was quite on a par with their best efforts of last season, when they stood out as the finest local combination that has done duty under the League. Their quick foot passing enabled them to pierce the Southerners' defence lines in easy fashion; though it may be said that defence was South Sydney's weaker point. The final scores were:—Sydney, 12-9 (81 points) to 2-4 (16 points). O'Grady (3), Conn (2), Eastment (2), Harris (2), Hume, Rafferty, and M'Cormack were Sydney's goal-getters; while Elliott and Maine scored major points for South Sydney.

PADDINGTON v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at Hampden Oval, and won by Paddington by 99 points to 50. The attendance was excellent, considering the counter-attractions of the afternoon. Teams:—

Paddington: Day, Robinson, Drill, Morgan, Watts, Beaver, Mahoney, Lambourne, Voeckler, Nesbitt, Parr, Flynn, Miles, Farmer, Ryall, Chapman, Gorman, Limbrick.

North Sydney, M'Whirter, Spencer, Lakeman, Butler, Cannon, Meadowcroft, Robertson, Kitt, Tittler, Morton, Filgate, Goutz, Anderson, Begg, McLean, Lear, Anthonas, Shannon.

Field umpire, Mr. T. Richardson.

Paddington swung into play in bright fashion, and through systematic effort gradually forged ahead of the Maroons till at the end of the opening term they led by 3-4 to 1-3. Robertson, Filgate, and M'Lean were showing excellent form for the Northerners, and mainly through their example the side kept the Paddingtonians very busy up to the end of the third quarter. The final term, however, was all in favour of Paddington, and they eventually ran out winners by 13-21 (99 points) to 8-14 (50 points). When the Northerners, whose side was largely composed of new players, have had a few more games together, they should prove a formidable side. Several of the new players in Paddington's team showed splendid form, and there can be little doubt that last year's runners-up will again occupy a forward position.

EAST SYDNEY v NEWTOWN.

Played at Moore Park, and won by East Sydney by 83 points to 28. Teams:—

East Sydney: Paterson, Leighton, Chidley, Trotter, Bishop, Shannon, M'Kenzie, Mitchell, M'Conville, Scott, Milne, Delaney, M'Namara, Stewart, Dummett, M'Inerney, M'Conville, Newton.

Newtown: F. Sanders, Drummond, Charles, C. Sanders, A. Provan, Pearson, L. Provan, Munro, O'Gorman, Barnett, Davis, Hortin, Hallas, Taylor, Swindell, Ellis, Brooks, Blackburn.

Field umpire, Mr. C. Ellison.

Newtown took the field with a shortage of 3 players, due to the fact that the second-grade team was playing at the Australian Football Ground. Though the "Red and White" tried hard, the Easterners held the upper hand throughout the first half, and at the interval led by 7-9 (51 points) to 1-0 (6 points).

With a full complement of players—Newtown put on 15 points to nil during the third term, but in the concluding quarter played in semi-darkness—the Easterners held sway, and won by 12-11 (83 points) to 4-4 (28 points). The play was always interesting, though both sides showed a lack of effective combination—particularly Newtown. The stab-kick, which plays such an important part in foot passing, was almost wholly absent. On the other hand, the high marking was excellent, the best work in that direction being done by M'Inerney, M'Conville, and M'Kenzie, of East Sydney; and Swindells, Munro, Davis, and Charles, of Newtown.

SECOND GRADE (ASSOCIATION).

PADDINGTON v NORTHERN DISTRICTS.

Played at Hampden Oval, and won by Paddington, after a keenly-contested game. Both sides showed excellent form. The final scores were: Paddington, 2-9 (21 points); Northern Districts, 1-3 (9 points).

NEWTOWN v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at the Australian Football Ground, Newtown scoring an easy victory by 7-9 (51 points) to a solitary point.

MELBOURNE MATCHES.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

In yesterday's league football matches St. Kilda (67 points) beat Fitzroy (34 points); Melbourne (90 points) beat University (72 points); Collingwood (77 points) beat Geelong (68 points); Essendon (80 points) beat Richmond (78 points); Carlton and South Melbourne played a draw, each scoring 61 points.

In the association competition Footscray (77 points) beat Port Melbourne (33 points); Williamstown (60 points) beat Northcote (37 points); Prahran (100 points) beat Melbourne City (45 points); Brunswick (98 points) beat Brighton (55 points); North Melbourne (78 points) beat Essendon (62 points).

ADELAIDE MATCHES.

PLAYER INJURED.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

The league football season opened on Saturday. West Adelaide (premiers) beat North Adelaide, 62 points to 21 points; Sturt beat Torrens, 75 points to 44 points; South Adelaide beat Norwood, 58 points to 56 points. Bernie Leahy, captain of the North Adelaide team, broke a small bone in his left leg, and will probably not play again this season.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

A splendid attendance witnessed the games at Epping. The late fixture was evenly contested, but Newtown's attack was not so vigorous as its defence. Balmain's splendid half-back combination made the good set of forwards always dangerous. Sydney held Annandale throughout, and a disposition by the latter's halves to defend rather than assist the attack was not to their side's advantage.

FIRST LEAGUE.

SYDNEY v ANNANDALE.

Won by Sydney by 5 to 2.

Sydney: Le Leon, Kirkpatrick (C.), Hughes, Davies, Mill, Love, Burroughes, H. Holt, Tucker, Herron, and Willingham. Annandale: Lowe, Harrigan, Mertus, Newson, Nash, Keith, Towle, Butcher, Chalmers (C.), Bond, and Gaunt. W. A. Campbell, referee.

Sydney kicked off, and kept Annandale's halves busy, Keith and Nash being conspicuous. Davies received from a clearance by Mertus, and enabled Holt to defeat Harrigan, and secure Sydney's first score. Annandale quickly retrieved their position; some fine dribbling play from Butcher equalling the scores. Splendid defence by Hughes and Kirkpatrick checked all moves by Annandale's attack. Heron put Sydney in the lead again with a lightning-like ground shot, and, although Annandale strove hard (Keith, Newson, Bond, Nash, and Towle being prominent), half-time scores were 3-1 in Sydney's favour.

Annandale attacked determinedly, but Tucker scored Sydney's fourth goal, and Holt made the total five just on time.

GRANVILLE v CANTERBURY.

Played at Clyde, and won by Granville by 2 to nil. Granville: Mobbs, Gill, Pearson, Platt, Hilder, Watkins, Willesford, Hoffmann, Turrell, Barrell, and M. Smith. Canterbury: Geering, Lane, Bannister, M'Beth, Haigh, Deane, J. and G. Smith, Edge, Billett, and Holcombe. E. Kukemann, referee.

Geering was called on to defend for Granville shortly after the commencement; but Hilder kept his forwards going, and Barrell scored from a neat pass. Turrell very shortly registered their second. Wellesford displayed some fine speed bursts, a fine centre to Turrell just missing. No addition was made to the score at half-time.

Canterbury displayed more combination in the second half, and Haigh, Deane, and M'Beth were prominent. Good combined play was shown by each set of forwards, Smith, Wellesford, Turrell, Billet, and G. Smith being conspicuous, but no further scores were registered.

GLEBE v NORTHERN SUBURBS.

Played at Naremburn Park, and won by Glebe by 7 to nil.

Northern Suburbs: Powell, Richards, Turnbull, Oxx, Brown, Hibbard, Cornwall, Gleeson, Williams, Lane, and M'Gowen. Glebe: Storey, Hall, M'Ewen, Santry, Buckley, Kelly, Teasel, Lamb, Stone, Brailey, and Hill. Referee, S. Roer.

Glebe attacked, and their persistency prevailed, as, after M'Gowan had troubled Storey, Buckley carried the play to North's goal, where Teasel netted. Cornwall and Hibbard initiated a movement to Glebe's goal, but a free against Lane spoiled the opportunity. Stone scored for Glebe, and at half-time they were 3 to nil.

The locals did better after the resumption, but Glebe were in a winning vein, and were irresistible. Their combination was alert, and their score was further augmented by four goals by Teasel, Stone, Kelly, and Hill.

BALMAIN v NEWTOWN.

Played at Epping. Balmain won by 1-0.

Newtown.—Mitchell, Dennis, Tracey, Bywater, Carmichael, Blakeley, Podmore, Newton, Bruce, Lawrence, and Blake.

Balmain.—Hughes, Latta, W. G. Smith, Rose, Moore, Byers, Grogan, Robertson, Pryde, Ferguson, and O'Hehir.

Referee, J. M'Donald.

Blake and Grogan were responsible for some fine sprints and crosses. Robertson, Newton, J. Ferguson, and Lawrence opened the game splendidly for their sides. There was no score in the first half.

Newton and Bruce put Podmore in good position, but Smith was equal to stalling him off; and this fine back was prominent throughout. Balmain's hopes were raised by a corner, but Grogan missed by inches only. Balmain's consistent half-back trio drove Newtown back, and Moore secured, sent to O'Hehir; he crossed finally to J. Ferguson, who netted. Balmain then redoubled their efforts, and applause marked some fine saving by Mitchell. Bruce, just on time, gave Hughes an opportunity, and full-time was called with Balmain 1, and Newtown 0.

FIRST RESERVE LEAGUE.

ROYAL NAVY v ANNANDALE.

Played at Federal Park. The Navy was too powerful for the local side. In the first half they ran up two to Annandale's none, Turner and Lough scoring. Navy had the game to themselves in the second half, wining by 6 to nil.

BURNS' CLUB v Y.M.C.A.

Played at Moore Park. In a very even game Burns' Club prevailed, 2—4. Smith (2) and Tegart were the scorers.

NEWTOWN v NORTHERN SUBURBS.

Played at Sydenham. Newtown won by 5—1. M'Anish was a big factor in the victory, scoring 2 goals.

The matches arranged between Balmain v Police and Sydney v The Glebe were not played.

SECOND LEAGUE.

Callan Park beat Y.M.C.A. 6—0 at Callan Park. The match terminated at half-time. Hazlette (2), Fairweather, Laidlaw, Hill, and Evans scored for the winners.

Rozelle beat Annandale at Federal Park 2 to 1. Wetherill and Sellars were the scorers.

Gladesville beat Northern Suburbs at Gladesville, and won by 3 to 1.

Glebe beat Burns' Club at Moore Park 5 to 1. Meres (2), Crum (2), and Lyne scored for the winners.

Balmain had an easy win at Eastern Park, defeating Sydney 8 to 1.

SECOND RESERVE LEAGUE.

Caledonians, 2, beat Balmain, 1, at Easton Park. Scottish Rifles, 3 (G. Rennie (2), Clarke, Glenday, and Gerrard) beat Pyrmont Church, who failed to score, at Moore Park.

At Lyne Park, H.M.A.S. Tingira defeated Drummoyne, 2—0. Haskins converted two penalty kicks. Glebe forfeited to Botany.

ALL-AGE COMPETITION.

Balmain Caledonians, 4 (A. Derham (3) and M'Intyre) beat Pyrmont Royals, 0, at Moore Park. Kogarah District and St. Paul's played a one-goal draw.

WOOLBUYERS v S.S. COMMONWEALTH.

The French woolbuyers' team opened the season at Mosman Oval against a team from the steamer Commonwealth, the latter winning by 4 goals to 1.

When Ruby Coughs and Fanny chokes,

RIFLE SHOOTING.

M.D.R.A. GRADE MATCHES.

RANDWICK WINS CHAMPIONSHIP.

RAILWAY BEST IN B GRADE.

The final round of the Metropolitan District Rifle Association's grade matches was shot off at the Randwick range on Saturday afternoon. Excellent weather conditions prevailed, with the result that the shooting was good and consistent. For both the championship and B grade competitions, the final shoot was from the 300yds range.

The contest for the coveted championship, and possession of the Mick Simmons Champion Trophy, was robbed of much of its attractiveness in the earlier stages, when the Randwick Club (which also won last year) established a big lead at the long-distance ranges. At the conclusion of the fifth round they were 29 points ahead of Parramatta, whose members have been shooting with remarkable accuracy and consistency of late. Although Parramatta again beat the champions' score for the afternoon, they only succeeded in reducing the lap by 14 points. Strangely enough, Randwick, the winning club, with an aggregate of 2067 for the six shoots, could only get into seventh place on Saturday's 300yds range shooting.

The B grade contest was more interesting. At the end of the fifth round, Clyde led by 4 points from Railways B and Rockdale B, who were together for second place. In the final shoot, however, Railways B put up a score of 376 to Clyde's 369, and took first place.

A FINE RECORD.

At the send-off tendered to Mr. F. G. Harrison, at the Randwick Town Hall, on the eve of his departure with the Australian rifle team for Bisley, reference was made to his past successes. Mr. David Storey read the following record achieved by Mr. Harrison as a marksman:—Randwick championship, 1906; second in "The King's," 1907; metropolitan service aggregate, 1909; tied for "The King's" (Melbourne), 1910; metropolitan championship, "The Parramatta," "The Longfield Aggregate," metropolitan service aggregate, 1911; tied for Scottish championship (at Darnley, Scotland), N.R.A. medal, at Scotland, 1912; Randwick championship, 1908, 9, 10, 11, 12. Mr. Harrison was a member of the New South Wales interstate teams, 1908, 9, 10, 11, and 12, and has captained the Randwick's club's A team for three years, in which it has won the metropolitan championship in succession. The guest was presented with a smoker's outfit and a purse of sovereigns.

RAILWAY RIFLEMEN'S FEDERATION.

The inaugural dinner of the New South Wales Railway and Tramway Rifle Association was held at the Railway Institute on Saturday. Among those present were the Lord Mayor (Alderman Cocks), the State Commandant (Colonel Wallack), and Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Crawford, Ms.L.A.

During the course of his presidential address, Mr. E. Milne, who is the captain of the Orange Railway Rifle Club, and president of the newly-formed association, said that possibilities of the greatest value were offered to the Commonwealth in the industrial army of 70,000 servants of the railway and tramway systems. Australia could not afford to ignore this great asset. South Australia and Victoria had linked themselves in the federation of railway and tramway rifle clubs and there were prospects of the other States joining. It was probable that New Zealand would become a party also, and thus make the federation one of Australasian importance.

An interesting feature of the function was the presentation, by the Lord Mayor, of the medals won by the Sydney tramway team for first place in the recent service competitions.

BATHURST, Sunday.

The first stage of a competition for prizes presented by Mr. A. Cutler, the international crack, was decided by the Bathurst civilian riflemen, at the 500 and 600 yards' ranges to-day. The competitors were allowed ten shots at each range.

JUNIOR CRICKET.

MOORE PARK ASSOCIATION.

PICK MEMORIAL CUP.

WON BY SYDNEY JUNIOR A.

The Pick Memorial Cup competition was concluded on Saturday, and was won by Sydney Junior "A" team, who beat Victoria Park by 153 runs. Sydney Juniors have now won the cup twice in succession; but it must be won three times to retain absolute possession. Sydney Juniors, in their first innings, made 106, second 194; Victoria Park, first innings, 75, second 72 (R. Boay 25 and P. Ryan 21). Parry got six wickets for 21, Smith three for 15.

WESTERN SUBURBS ASSOCIATION.

PLAY-OFF FOR RUNNERS-UP.

CAMPERDOWN v BURWOOD UNITED.

Continued on Saturday. Burwood United, first innings seven wickets for 104 (H. Riley 17, A. Collis 26). E. Hayes three for 19.

HAWKESBURY DISTRICT COMPETITION.

WINDSOR, Saturday.

The Hawkesbury District Cricket Association's competition was won by the Wilberforce team, with Windsor second, and Sackville third.

PENRITH, Sunday.

The final match in the Nepean District Cricket Association's B grade competition, between Emu and St. Marys, was concluded on the Penrith Park yesterday. Emu, first innings, scored 82 (F. Mitchell 24, T. Ellison 18), and in the second 56 (T. Ellison 11). For St. Marys, H. Bennett secured four wickets for 16 runs, and Albrecht three for 22 in Emu's first innings and in their second innings H. Bennett four for 16, and C. Innes three for 15. St. Marys' first innings realised 55 (H. Bennett 33), and their second 57 (A. Morrison 13). Bowling for Emu, F. Mitchell secured five for 15 in St. Marys first innings. Emu won by 46 runs, and the premiership of the association for 1912-1913.

BOXING.

AUSTRALIAN SUCCESSFUL.

The international character of Saturday's contest at the Sydney Stadium made it of exceptional interest, and a large crowd witnessed the return to the ring of Australia's former champion, Bill Lang, who was opposed to Petty-officer Curran, of England. Lang won decisively, boxing in his best form, but not until after a hard contest, that was fast and exciting for the first 12 rounds. The visitor scaled 15st 10½lb to Lang's 14st 5½lb, but he looked too bulky to be quite at his best. In the first round Curran hustled, and had Lang down, but the latter soon got going, and began to pile up a lead on points. The eighth and twelfth rounds saw heavy exchanges, and it looked at one stage as though Curran would win, but then he slowed down, and Lang was master to the finish. It was subsequently explained that Curran injured his left hand in the twelfth round, which, of course, proved a handicap. Lang was undoubtedly the better boxer, but Curran was fast with both hands at close quarters, and possessed a great capacity for punishment.

SID STAGG MATCHED.

The English middleweight, Sid Stagg, will meet Pat Bradley, of America, at the Stadium next Saturday. Bradley was to have met Jerry Jerome, but Mr. Baker had difficulties in his negotiations with the Queensland Government regarding the aboriginal, and decided not to bother further about securing his services.

AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPS.

FINALS TO-NIGHT.

The amateur boxing and wrestling championships of New South Wales will be decided at the Stadium to-night, when the final round will be contested. There are four classes in the wrestling and six in the boxing, so that ten events will be staged. The New South Wales Sports Club is controlling the event. Following is the programme:—

WRESTLING.

Heavyweights.—J. Ventzentz (Newtown R. and T. Club) v A. J. Pitt (Dupain's Institute).

O'GRADY AND HICKMAN.

WEST MAITLAND, Sunday.

O'Grady defeated Hickman in the second round at Andrew's Stadium last night.

M'COY v RUSSELL.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

A boxing contest at the Olympic Stadium on Saturday night between Herb M'Coy and Joe Russell ended abruptly in the third round in M'Coy's favour. He had the advantage of nearly a stone in weight.

McGOORTY v CLABBY.

DENVER, May 3.

"Eddie" McGoorty fought a draw with "Jimmie" Clabby in a ten-rounds bout last night. The boxing was fast and even throughout.

ANGLING.

CLOSE SEASON FOR FRESHWATER PERCH.

The close season for eastern freshwater perch in the Richmond and Hunter rivers and tributaries, as well as lakes and lagoons, will extend from the 1st inst. until November 1. South of the Hunter, however, the rivers and their tributaries will remain open until July 1.

Save You a Guinea on the Price of Your Suit to Order.

Only one condition I make. And that is that you pay me cash.

Here no men's debts are added to your bill, because no man leaves debts behind him at Frank Fanning's.

I save you the guinea because my prices are based upon the fact that I will receive cash on delivery.

The ordinary tailor charges you a guinea more than I do, because HIS prices are based on the fact that plenty of his credit accounts will turn into bad debts.

But I will make you an 84 - Suit for - - 63/-

I ask only the bedrock price because I will receive cash—because I have no collectors or travellers to pay—because I buy direct from the Woollen Mills, and dodge the middlemen's profits—because I buy in tremendous quantities, and so obtain special prices and discounts.

Now about my Guarantee.

It is the original Tailor's Guarantee of Satisfaction or your money back. Been copied all over Australia. But they are unable to copy my unique Cash Tailoring Method. My guarantee means that you are to be satisfied with everything connected with the making and material of your suit, or I shall pass back to you every cent you have paid. You get this guarantee in writing, signed personally by me. It is a hard and fast agreement which you won't get anywhere else.

REMEMBER, that all my Coats have 3 Special Features.

The "Frank Fanning" Permanent Coat Front, Natural concave Shoulders, Smooth Hanging Back. These are worked into each coat by experienced labour, and keep the coat shapely for as long as ever you feel inclined to wear it.

Call and view my Extensive Range of Suitings.

You will find nothing better in the "exclusive" tailoring establishments where the credit business is rampant. I have hundreds to show you—Imported and Australian Tweeds, Serges, Worsteds, Flannels, etc.

If you cannot call I will send Patterns on request.

In any case—whether you can call or will need to write—get in touch with me. I can show you a definite and clear saving of a guinea on your next suit order.

FARM AND STATION.

STRAWBERRY CULTURE.

Several correspondents have written, asking for some verification of the figures given relating to the returns from a strawberry plantation in a suburban area referred to previously in these columns. To these correspondents we have given the name of the grower, and in general support of the article some further comment on the possibilities of this industry will not be out of place. Small returns generally have been so common from strawberry plantations in New South Wales during the last five or six years that any returns out of the ordinary are discredited by those not actually known to the grower. Most of the strawberry plantations in this State have been "run out" now for some considerable time. This has been brought about through growers endeavouring to obtain crops from plants which have been allowed to remain in the ground four or five seasons, and from which they expected to obtain prolific runners. It should be understood that old plants of this description cannot produce perfectly-developed runners, and that these mother-plants are quite incapable of producing runners that will bear anything in the way of a heavy crop or choice fruit. As a matter of fact, in the end they will produce only "non-bearing" plants. There is probably only one variety in New South Wals to-day, the "Creswell Seedling," which is possessed of a heavy fruit-producing organism, and these plants, although in some isolated instances producing good crops, have generally so deteriorated in most instances that very poor results are obtained.

Probably not more than 10 per cent. of the runners taken from such plants have inherited the heavy fruiting tendency characteristic of this particular variety during the first years of its introduction here. By following this mistaken practice for so many years the number of barren plants has increased enormously, and have deteriorated so much that they cannot be further grown with profit. New varieties have been tried in many districts unsuccessfully. This non-success is mainly attributable, not so much to lack of proper methods of cultivation as to want of knowledge on the part of the grower in the finer points of the game, namely, pollenation and fertilisation. It is impossible for a perfect fertilisation to take place unless male and female varieties are planted within the vicinity of each other. For instance pistillate varieties planted alone will not bear fruit. Indeed, a number of growers questioned on this point frankly admitted that they did not know that the question of sex in strawberries had anything to do with the crop.

The perfect flowering and fruiting strawberries, such as a "Creswell Seedling" and the "Marguerite," for instance, are bisexual, which means that these varieties are both staminate and pistillate, or what is known as perfect flowering plants. These bisexual varieties require no mating, but will yield ful crops of fruit when set entirely by themselves; but such varieties as "British Queen" or "Sunbeam" will give very poor returns, unless planted with some of the former varieties. In order that complete pollenation may be secured it is necessary for these different varieties to be planted, if not in alternate rows, then in patches adjacent. It is where perfect fertilisation takes place, and under favourable conditions of seasons and cultivation, that these big yields, which are somewhat discredited, are obtained. Scientific experiment plots in America have returned as much as 16,000 quarts of fruit to the acre. Many plants have yielded five quarts of berries in a season. These figures are vouched for by the officials at the Government experiment farms, so that they may be taken as fairly reliable. Such a crop, if obtained in this State, would yield the fortunate grower something like £600 net for his acre of plants. Of course, such an example is very uncommon, and could only be obtained under the scientific conditions mentioned and at some expense, but there is no reason whatever to doubt returns up to £300 per acre.

ITEMS.

The manager of the experiment farm, Bathurst, forwards a copy of the Visitors' Guide to the farm. It is a useful publication, and the information contained therein will be of value for reference.

The demand for stud sheep is such that some breeders of merinos find it is greater than the supply, that is, for high-class rams and ewes.

Stud sheep breeders do not favour the establishment of merino flocks at the experimental farms. They think that the breeding of merinos should be left to specialists.

This State is the buying centre for stud merinos for all parts of the world. Even rams bred in the western district have been sent to Tasmania; while orders are being constantly executed for South America and South Africa.

In the breeding of stud sheep stud breeders, as a rule, make the conditions as natural as possible, and for this reason a large area is necessary. At least one western stud breeder is breaking up his flock owing to the amount of country required to keep a stud going.

A good deal of prominence has been given to the suitability of the Northern Territory for cotton-growing, but there are many parts of this State where it has received attention from enthusiasts. In the Coonamble district it grows well, and could be made a success if labour was not such a difficulty.

The Commonwealth Government is making use of the agricultural shows in this state as a means of advertising the Northern Territory. At Coonamble the exhibit of Northern Territory products attracted the attention of many. Coonamble is a district where the pioneering instinct is much in evidence, and the north wants pioneers.

In the last 10 years the hide market of Germany has undergone wonderful changes. In Berlin ox hides have appreciated 67 per cent., cow hides 73, and bull hides 77. The increased use of leather in manufacturing processes is mostly responsible for this upgrade. The wars of last year and this also had a stimulating effect.

Imports of Indian linseed to Australia for 1911 make up a total of 19,730 centals, worth £17,434. Yet linseed grows well in many parts of the Commonwealth, while the oil-cake produced as a by-product is a splendid dairy fodder. It is estimated that India exports nearly 700,000 tons.

Victorian experts contend that it would be a mistake to hold over the fast-accumulating stocks of butter till the beginning of next season. Such consignments sent out the beginning of the campaign must, they urge, recoil against the reputation of the Australian product. The Victorian Superintendent of Exports recommends that exporting should be actively continued until the market recovers its tone.

WHEATGROWING.

DEVELOPMENT AT PALLAMALLAWA.

RAILWAY WANTED.

Each year sees new districts added to the wheat-growing area. One of the latest, and not the least promising, is the Pallamallawa district. Pallamallawa is in the Moree district, being about 30 miles slightly north of east of the town of that name. The nearest railway siding is Bisdguy, on the Moree-Inverell line, but the nearest railway point to the village of Pallamallawa is about five miles distant. The name of Moree is coupled generally in the public mind with rich black soil plains, and hot dry weather, though why the latter is rather obscure, as it is one of the richest grazing districts in the State. Anyone who is acquainted with only the black soil plains of Moree will be rather surprised to learn that the district contains immense areas of land, which from a wheatgrower's point of view is first-class. It is a fertile loam, containing the right proportion of sand and clay, and enriched by the remains of dense forests of belah and other trees which have flourished upon it, probably for ages. It is a delight to the eye of a farmer to see how kindly the soil works under the plough. The soil is full of decayed vegetable matter, as indicated by the long periods that it remains moist after rain, and by the countless worms that are turned up by the ploughs. Where the ground has been fallowed the soil is full of worms, almost as thick as a man's small finger, and from nine inches to a foot in length. From six to nine inches of this rich soil overlies a good clay subsoil.

A favourable feature is that this soil exists in large areas, and is uniform in character. Very gently undulating the wheat country stretches for miles almost without a variation. Pallamallawa stands on the banks of the Gwydir, and the red soil wheat country commences a mile or two south, and stretches with some breaks right to Boggabilla. It is only during the past two years that a comprehensive test has been made of the wheat-growing capabilities of the district. Wheat has been grown for a good many years, but the crops were located generally on the alluvial flats, and consequently usually failed for grain. Much credit is due to Mr. A. J. Blunt, of Emu Park, for the successful establishment of the wheat-growing industry. He possessed only red soil land, and considered that what could be successfully grown upon it. He knew little of wheat growing, but communicated with the Department of Agriculture, and, acting upon the advice of its officers, placed a large area under fallow. The result was that in 1911, one of the driest seasons, he harvested an average of 20 bushels per acre. He was so satisfied with his success that the following season he naturally increased his area, and invested in a traction engine for ploughing purposes. Other landholders also cleared and cropped extensive areas, with so much success that over 10,000 bags of wheat were trucked. This, for the second season of the experiment, was a most creditable achievement.

From his old land Mr. Blunt averaged 30 bushels in 1911, and 25 bushels in 1912, while new land yielded 14 bushels per acre. During the present season the area under wheat is being greatly extended. Several new men have acquired land, and these and the more progressive of the old settlers are energetically clearing and ploughing. Traction engines are playing an important part, both in clearing and preparing the land, no less than four plants being at work. Prickly pear is to some extent an obstacle, but even this formidable pest is being overcome by crushing with heavy logs drawn by traction engines, after which the pear is ploughed in by the disc plough. Altogether, operations in the district serve as an illustration of the energetic, determined, and self-reliant nature of the Australian settler. Land which a few years ago was going begging is now being converted into rich farming areas.

Some of the more conservative of the settlers still hold that the rainfall is too scanty for wheatgrowing, and that exceptionally favourable circumstances have led to the success which has been achieved. But they forget with the possession of a favourable soil the immense advantage which the farmer of to-day has in the knowledge available of the treatment of soil to conserve moisture, and the improvement which has been made in wheats to enable them to withstand unsuitable conditions. The last two factors have added, and will add, enormous areas to the safe wheatgrowing country. A favourite argument put forward by the conservatives against wheat-growing is that wheat-growing will, if successful, increase the value of the land, and therefore increase the Crown rentals to such an extent that the industry for which the land is primarily suited, according to them—wool-growing—will become profitable. It is contended that a living can be made more easily by running sheep, and that the few progressives are operating against the interests of many by engaging in wheat-growing. One other charge seriously made by a large grazier of the district was that the cultivation of the land ruined it for many years for grazing purposes. The was counted that weeds of no value would spring up, and choke out valuable grasses. Instead of this being the case, the wheat-growers have already discovered that the stock-carrying capacity is largely increased by cultivation, and that for this reason alone it is worth while to bring the land under wheat for a time.

As is the case with many other districts, a railway is required to open up the country suitable for wheat-growing. Most of the growers of the present are within a reasonable distance of the Inverell line, but an immense tract of rich wheat land reaches out towards Boggabilla, which is too far from the line to allow of wheat being grown profitably. In fact, practically all the land from Pallamallawa to Boggabilla is suitable for wheat-growing. Further, nearly all the country is held under improvement lease or settlement lease tenure. The former is subject to resumption, and can be settled in small areas at any time. The desirability of linking up Boggabilla with the present system is admitted, and in the selection of a route the claims of this section of the country should be considered. Such a line would run through Crown leases practically all the way, and would open up an immense area of good wheat land. It is estimated by men who know the district that it would place approximately a quarter of a million acres of wheat land within reasonable distance of railway communication. Such a line may be taken along either of two routes. It may leave the Moree-Inverell line a few miles south of Pallamallawa, and proceed to Pallamallawa, crossing the Gwydir at that village, and proceed then due north to Boggabilla, or leave the Moree-Mungindi line on the northern side of the Gwydir at Booloorco, and then proceed nearly east to within a few miles of Pallamallawa, to bring it into the wheat country, when it would take a turn, and run north to Boggabilla. The first proposal has the disadvantage that portion of the route would lie within the flooded area, and would require a costly bridge at Pallamallawa. The latter route would be slightly longer, but the existing bridge at Booloorco could be utilised, and the line cheaply built, as no engineering difficulties would be encountered. At present only land is being brought under cultivation which lies within a reasonable distance of the railway. As, however, the nearest boundary of the wheat land is about eight miles from the existing railway, it can be seen that only a small area can be considered as being within reasonable distance. A vast area lies further west, which is only fair woolgrowing country, but which is first-class wheat land. By the construction of a line production would be enormously increased, as much wheat would be grown, and the improvement of the country by cultivation would at the same time increase its carrying capacity.

CLOSER SETTLEMENT.

PROMOTED BY THE C.S.R. COMPANY.

(BY P. W. T.)

During the last decade or so the average student of political economy in Australia has frequently heard the words "octopus" and "monopoly" applied to the C.S.R. Company. In some respects it may be. But, despite the fact that the sugar industry of the Commonwealth has passed almost exclusively into the hands of the C.S.R. Company, there is another side to the oft-repeated story that the C.S.R. Company is a monopolistic concern which is perpetually sucking, in a figurative sense, the lifeblood of the smaller class of sugar-growers to satisfy its own greed for big dividends. The writer is only acquainted with the company's operations in the Tweed River district as far as actual personal knowledge goes, but he is aware that what the company has accomplished for many agriculturists on the Tweed it has also rendered equally good service for growers on the Richmond, Clarence, and in a number of cane-growing districts in Queensland. Less than 20 years ago the company acquired a large tract of rich, alluvial river-flat land on the Tweed River, only a mile or so from the thriving town of Murwillumbah. This land is now familiarly known as the C.S.R. Company's subdivision. This large area, as its title implies, was subdivided into a number of small farms, averaging, perhaps, about 100 acres. These were sold to farmers on very easy terms, the upset price being about £10 per acre, more or less, according to the quality of the land. Part of the agreement was that so much cane was to be grown by the purchaser of the land and supplied to the company's mill at Condong. To-day this land is worth from £40 to £50 per acre; and the unearned increments (and it was largely the operations of the C.S.R. Company which earned the increments) have gone to the farmers who were fortunate enough to place themselves in the hands of the so-called "octopus." And what the C.S.R. Company did for those particular farmers nearly two decades ago, it is still doing for other agriculturists on the Tweed today. Of course, the conditions are far different now from what they were nearly 20 years ago, when the company promoted closer settlement, which proved so successful for the fortunate participants. Land values have gone up some 500 or 600 per cent., according to quality, situation, etc.

Despite this, the company recently acquired the Robb Estate at Cudgen, not far from where the Tweed River empties itself into the Pacific Ocean. This estate, which embraces an area of about 1200 acres, had been worked for many years by the late Mr. Robb, under black labour conditions. The estate had its own mill, so that the sugar was crushed on the property. But the deportation of the Kanakas appeared to sound the death-knell of Mr. Robb's enterprise, and the estate fell into a condition of neglect. Lantana and weeds of every description literally took possession of what was some of the finest land in the big scrub country. Then the "monopoly" stepped in and purchased the property. The deal was made about 12 months ago, and the company lost no time in having the estate subdivided into 26 farms, in areas ranging from 40 to 60 acres. These were made available to agriculturists, who, knowing what the company had done for other farmers, literally rushed the blocks. The farms were placed out under astonishingly easy terms of occupation. No deposit was required, and the company undertook to provide the necessary capital for construction of residences, purchase of horses and farm implements, etc. These loans were repayable by a deduction of 2s per ton on the farmers' cane as it was delivered to the company's mill. Five per cent. interest was charged, but when 40 per cent. of the loan had been discharged the interest was reduced to 4 per cent. The capital value of the land was fixed at sums varying from £15 to £30 per acre, according to quality. The soil is of rich chocolate loam, capable of growing anything. Properly worked, this soil is capable of yielding from 80 to 100 tons of cane per acre; so that these agriculturists who were lucky enough to secure blocks are on a good wicket. The holders are even provided with building plans by the company, which also covenants for the supply of a certain quality of sugar-cane every year by the farmer.

In short, the company finds the land, finds the capital to improve it, finds the market for the cane grown, provides access roads and a tramway to deep water, and when the farmer has made his pile, and has paid off his loan, he is handed the deeds of the property he has been working. Can any of the Government's closer-settlement schemes equal this for liberality? Only a comparatively small area of the land must be placed under cane; the holder can dairy, grow maize, potatoes, or do as he wills with the remainder. Already, as a result of the company's operations there, Cudgen has undergone a wonderful transformation during the last 12 months. The black race has given way to a very desirable class of white yeomanry; picturesque and comfortable villas have supplanted the hovels and huts of the Kanakas; lantana and weeds have been supplanted by healthy, well-cared-for crops. But best of all, an air of sweet contentment pervades the place, utterly repudiating the socialists' contention that the C.S.R. Company is synonymous with all that bids for greed and plunder. Some of the most prosperous landowners on the Tweed are agriculturists who went into occupation of the C.S.R. Company's original subdivision at Murwillumbah; and it is the writer's firm belief that similar prosperity awaits those who have ventured into the company's closer-settlement scheme at Cudgen. The work which the so-called monopoly is accomplishing in this direction is of the utmost value to the State; it is a work of great national importance, and it is a complete answer to the detractors of the company.

KOORINGA ESTATE.

Under instructions from the Perpetual Trustee Company, Limited, executors of the will of the late Mr. H. W. Fairfax, the New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company, Ltd., Sydney, in conjunction with Ellerman and Co., Young, have received instructions to sell the property known as Kooringa, formerly portion of the famous Berthonge estate, and situated 13 miles from Young. The property comprises nearly 3000 acres of fertile land, and is within a short distance of the railway stations. It is a highly-improved property, the homestead being a most commodious brick dwelling, with all appointments, and wool-shed fitted with machines (six stands). All the boundaries are netted, and also the paddocks. About 1200 acres are cleared ready for the plough, a large area now being under cultivation. Two-thirds of the property is excellent wheat land, with some black soil flats, suitable for lucerne, and the balance is good grazing country. The seasons are regular, and the rainfall is 26 inches. Kooringa is an ideal home, and a safe investment, and only comes into the market on account of the death of the late owner. The property will be sold at Young on Tuesday, June 17, and the terms are liberal.

WORMS DESTROYING RABBITS

Since the rabbit made its advent in the South Coast districts of this State the dairy farmers have been fighting the pest assiduously; but despite wire-netting, fumigation, and digging-out methods, bunny has made steady progress. The long sequence of dry seasons appeared to favour the acclimatisation of the rabbit to coastal conditions; but now that wet times are being experienced the noxious rodent is having anything but a good time of it. Since the recent bountiful rains promoted an abundance of green, succulent grass the rabbit, contrary to expectations, has entered upon a period of decline. The pest in the Bega district is dying off in thousands. Those still alive have an emaciated appearance, as though they were half-starved. A worm appears to be the destroying agent. Dead rabbits, on being opened, were found to have their paunches literally full of worms. Live but emaciated rabbits were found to be similarly affected when examined. In fact, the condition of the rabbits in this district at the present juncture is such that the trappers are said to have practically abandoned skinning operations. It is the earnest wish of land and stock owners that these worms will entirely eliminate the pest.

PRICE OF MILK.

WOLLONGONG.—The milk supply here is on the increase, but dairy farmers contend that it has not increased to an extent to justify the distributing companies in reducing the price to 3d per gallon. A reduction from 11d to 8d per gallon three weeks is considered to be a great deal more than the average farmer can accept. It is understood that the dairymen from the south coast have been in communication with the Camden suppliers.

CROWS DECLARED NOXIOUS.

YASS.—The Chief Inspector of Stock has notified the Yass P.P. Board that approval has been given to crows being dealt with as noxious, for a period of two years.

LAKE COWAL FARMS.

WEST WYALONG.—The following are the names of the first 56 persons drawn in the ballot of 1001 for the Lake Cowal homestead farms:—W. J. Hardwick, J. R. Kennedy, Ed. F. Hines, Geo. H. Pratt, Albert E. Gladman, F. W. Mechan, M. Kellher, Leslie Butler, F. D. D. Sutherland, Geo. C. L. Pettit, Alex. M. M'Leod, Sydney J. Edgerton, Thos. J. Deane, W. J. Dempsey, Jno. M'Donald, W. H. Bodel, M. F. Canty, Geo. M'Donell, Percy R. G. Sullivan, A. J. Deutcher, W. C. Hunter, H. P. Chalmers, Frank Horden, Jno. E. Woods, A. S. Vandenberg, B. M. Jones, A. A. Neill, J. K. Coelli, C. W. Armstrong, W. W. Rees, Patrick Cowie, J. B. Ward, Chas. E. Grinter, Patrick Gallagher, W. C. Patton, J. Field, Thos. W. Holland, Geo. J. Bland, Rob. Young, jun., W. B. M'Garry, Robt. Dawson, Tyrell Webster, T. J. Mitchell, C. E. Dale, A. J. Maskill, R. M'Lean, Jas. Murphy, J. W. Gripes, S. A. Coe, S. J. Biggs, P. J. Whiting, R. R. Whiley, Wm. Tait, J. R. Miller, F. A. N. Papsey, F. A. Franke. Other names on the excess were drawn in case of some of the above being rejected.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

GRAFTON.—The Lower Clarence Agricultural Society made a profit on the last annual show of £36. The income totalled £421, of which £170 was gate receipts. The amount paid in prize money was £246.

MEETINGS OF FARMERS.

GUNBAR.—At a meeting of the Gunbar Farmers and Settlers' Association, indignation was expressed at the action of the Lands Department in its proposed curtailment of the Hay to Gunbar stock route, it being regarded as a breach of faith on the part of the Lands Department, which, it was held, had promised various deputations that no action would be taken without a public inquiry.

YERONG CREEK.—At the annual general meeting of the Yerong Creek branch of the Farmers and Settlers' Association Mr. G. F. Hutchings was elected president, and Messrs. G. F. Plunkett and John Galvin were elected joint secretaries, and Mr. T. McMicking treasurer. It was decided to reaffirm a former decision, to support the Pullitop farmers in certain deviations on the present road from Yerong Creek to that centre. The Lockhart Shire Council are to be asked to resume a piece of land in the vicinity of the township for the purpose of excavating a large tank as a water supply for Yerong Creek.

PASTURES BOARDS.

BOURKE.—At the Pastures Protection meeting the secretary read the annual statement of receipts and expenditure for last year, which showed the receipts to be £656 17s 6d, and the expenditure £1059 5s 5d, leaving a credit balance of £390 16s. The rate for 1913 was fixed at one-fifth of a penny on sheep, and 1½d on large stock.

SINGLETON.—Messrs. R. J. Graham, T. Jackson, W. M'Donald, and W. E. Ramsay were elected unopposed as directors of the pastures protection board.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

PARKES.—Mr. H. Ross, Chief Inspector of Agriculture, who visited the district this week, is making inquiries with a view to establishing branches of the Agricultural Bureau in the smaller centres. As far as this district is concerned, the plan of having one central bureau in the town has proved a failure, the paucity of attendance at the meetings and lectures offering no encouragement for the maintenance of the bureau.

HARDEN.—A nice steady rain set in on Friday morning, and continued all day, with the likelihood of keeping on. This was just what was wanted, as the new land was too hard to plough; and farmers who were lucky to get their manure have now nearly got all the fallowed land sown. The fallow again has come to the front, as it nearly always does, last year being an exception through rain keeping off so late.

HARGRAVES.—Rabbits are increasing rapidly. Rabbiters are doing their utmost to catch and poison them, but results are not encouraging. Men are disposing locally of the skins, whereas a few months ago they dealt with the city markets. An increased area of land has been put under potatoes this year, and good yields are expected. Garden produce has been very plentiful, and people living on the river have been able to supply the Mudgee markets. An exceptionally large pie melon was grown at Maitland Bar, turning the scales at 100lb. Pumpkins also show a remarkably good growth, and splendid quality.

YERONG CREEK.—Splendid rain commenced to fall on Friday morning. This will be very welcome, and prove of great value to the farmers. The ground was becoming too hard for the ploughs, though operations in this line have been pushed well ahead lately.

BREWARRINA.—The country about Brewarrina and Goodooga is looking much better lately, and stock is beginning to put on condition. All stock routes are good. Shearing was commenced at Byra Station on Wednesday last, the Up-to-date Shearing Company having the contract. This company has just finished shearing at Kookaburra. Boring operations at Boorooma Station have been suspended for the time being, owing to the plant being temporarily out of order. Messrs. Overall and McCray are conducting operations, and the site of the present bore is almost in the centre of the run. It is expected that shearing will commence at Boorooma on July 21 next.

WEST MAITLAND.—A successful auction sale of farm lands in the Dunmore Estate took place on Saturday afternoon. Farms of 9 and 18 acres respectively sold at £90 per acre. Farm of 29 acres brought £57 10s an acre; one of 17 acres £76 per acre; one of 17 acres £80 per acre; one of 20 acres £91 per acre; one of 32 acres £88 per acre; one of 11 acres £77 per acre; one of 20 acres £55 per acre; one of 96 acres of grass land sold at £8 per acre.

SYDNEY UNIVERSITY.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The first annual meeting of the Sydney University Agricultural Society was held in the Union-building on Monday last. The president, Professor R. D. Watt, occupied the chair, and there was a full attendance of members. The annual report and balance-sheet were read and adopted, the former showing that the society had made favourable progress during the year, a number of papers having been contributed by undergraduate members. The following officers were elected for the year 1913-1914:—President, Professor R. D. Watt; vice-presidents, Messrs. G. Wright, J. H. Maiden, W. W. Froggat, F.L.S., and E. A. Southee, B.Sc.; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. H. Stephens; assistant hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. L. Waterhouse; year representatives, Messrs. H. Wenholz, J. K. L. Massay, R. J. Noble, and S. Grudgeon. The business of the evening was an address by the retiring president, Professor R. D. Watt, on "Life on an Ayrshire Farm." In a most interesting discourse Professor Watt gave a general account of farming in Ayrshire (Scotland), and a more detailed account of the routine from month to month, and season to season on a typical farm. Some comparisons were drawn with dairy-farming in New South Wales.

VETERINARY SOCIETY.

At the annual meeting of the above society, held at the Veterinary School, there was a large attendance of members, Professor J. D. Stewart occupied the chair. The annual report showed that the work of the initial year of the society had been excellent, many papers dealing with stock diseases in Australia being discussed. Special reference was made to the energy of the secretary in arranging the various meetings. The following officers were elected for the current year.—President, Dr. S. Dodd; vice-presidents, Dr. S. J. Johnston, Mr. E. S. James; hon. secretary, Mr. W. L. Hindmarsh; committee, Messrs. Stuart, Dowling, and Whitehouse.

In appreciation of his practical interest in the society, a special vote of thanks to the retiring president, Professor J. P. Stewart, was carried. A paper on "Phosphorus Poisoning" was read by Mr. H. C. Veech. The discussion was keen and the paper much appreciated by those present. Communications were received from Mr. J. S. Stewart, "Result of an operation on a horse for roaring;" Mr. G. F. Finley, "Some curious cases of Parotitis in Bulldogs;" and Mr. W. L. Hindmarsh, "An obscure disease in a cow and the post mortem findings."

JOHNE'S DISEASE.

By proclamation in the "Commonwealth Gazette" Johne's disease is declared under the Quarantine Act to be a disease affecting animals.

STALLION PARADES.

The Department of Agriculture (Stock Branch) has published in pamphlet form a programme of stallion parades for the coming season 1913.

BUILDERS' LABOURERS.

MR. JUSTICE HIGGINS ASKS QUESTIONS.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The hearing of the plaint of the Australian Builders' Labourers' Federation against the Master Builders' of Victoria, New South Wales, Tasmania, and South Australia, was resumed on Friday by Mr. Justice Higgins (president of the Federal Arbitration Court).

Respecting the engine-drivers' case, Mr. Ranson asked when the Queensland case was likely to come on.

The President said that he must leave for Sydney to-morrow. He was going to suggest that the parties to the present case might meet and see whether it was not possible to agree upon the minor matters in dispute. It was likely that he would not sit next week, at least not before Thursday or Friday.

Mr. Ranson asked whether there was any likelihood of the case coming on when Mr. Justice Higgins returned from Sydney.

The President said that he intended to take first of all the Melbourne and Tasmanian evidence here; as to what would be done afterwards the Queensland and New South Wales parties would have ample notice. The engine-drivers' case had to be got rid of, and how long the case would occupy he could not foresee.

The parties consented to have a consultation at the offices of the Master Builders' Association this evening. The President intimated that the case would be adjourned over next week.

Henry Hannah, formerly secretary of the Federation, continued his evidence. He said that preference to unionists would remove a great amount of dissatisfaction. The unions in Victoria had had to fight the employers for every advantage gained. There had been a great deal of trouble because of the employment of non-unionists on jobs.

Mr. Millard: Have members of the Independent Workers' Organisation caused any trouble with your union?—There have been several instances where our men have refused to continue working with the independent workers.

The President (to Mr. Millard): Do you impeach the union as not being a true union?

Mr. Millard: Yes.

Do you mean that the union is dependent for its funds on outside subscriptions?—Yes.

The President: A matter like that must, of course, be proved up to the hilt. (To witness): Would you rather have a wage that could not be touched if bad times come or a wage which has to come down in bad times?

Witness: That is a rather difficult question to answer.

The President: I know it is. But you should help me to answer it. Which would you rather have?—I think I would rather have the wage based on the state of affairs at the time the award is made.

Mr. Millard: If you were offered 50s a week all the year round, wet or dry and all holidays paid for, would you accept it?

Witness: Yes.

HEAD BECAME BALD IN PATCHES.

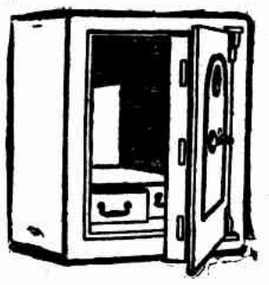

Orchard-street, Armadale, Vic.—"About two years ago I was employed as a boundary rider in the north of Queensland. My head and scalp became quite dry, and my hair began to fall out in large quantities. For a time I paid no attention to it; I did not think it was serious, and my head became bald in patches.

"I was almost giving up in despair, when I noticed an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies, and made up my mind to give Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment a trial. I used the Cuticura Ointment, and washed my head with Cuticura Soap night and morning. After I had continued this for a few days, the itching seemed to stop, and after about three months I had my full growth of hair again." (Signed) John Williams, July 19, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a sample of each, with 32-page Skin Book, will be mailed free on application to R. Towns and Co., Dept. M., Sydney, N.S.W.—Advt.

Dear Sirs,

Re the "Globe" iron safe we purchased from you and had at the time of our fire at our Furniture Factory and Timber Store at Engine-street, Haymarket, Sydney. We are pleased to say that after the debris was removed, and though the outside of the safe was much damaged and battered about, upon opening, all books and papers, etc., were in perfect order to our great relief.

We are pleased to say that we have replaced by another of the same make from you, and had the old one painted and done up outside, and are now using it for minor papers.

Yours faithfully,

Symonds Furnishing, Ltd.,
Sydney.

Dear Sirs,

We have very much pleasure in testifying to the satisfactory way the "Globe" iron safe we purchased from you six months ago came through the fire at our premises at Tingha, on the 8th instant. The heat was so intense that it melted the brass handle on the front of the safe, but for all that the lock was not in any way damaged, and it opened quite easily. The contents, which consisted of notes and cheques and some account books, were not injured in any way. We are so pleased with it that we are replacing it with another of the same brand.

Yours faithfully,
Signed PEPPER and CUTCHER.

Down Quilt Exhibition.

Throughout this week we are holding a Special Exhibition of Down Quilts, which surpasses any previous collection. The variety of designs is greater, the range of colourings more beautiful, and the values throughout superior in every way. A selection of these Quilts is shown in Nos. 1 to 6 George-street Windows, and forms a magnificent display, well worth inspecting. The materials used for covering, whether Sateen, Satin, or Silk, are in every instance of the best quality. The covering, however, is not the only good feature. The method of ventilation, and the inside filling, both important considerations, are of the best class. The filling consists of nothing else but the purest Down, and every Quilt is thoroughly well ventilated. In every instance the colours are well blended, and form a combination of artistic and beautiful shades. So great is the assortment that no matter in what shade your room is furnished, you will be able to select something to harmonise. The prices, too, are specially moderate. Our Guinea Quilt, Double Bed Size, is a splendid example of our value-giving. It is covered with good-quality hard-wearing Sateen, of various shades, and has Plain Sateen Panel and Border. Everything that could make for perfection has been embodied in this Quilt, and, considering the excellent quality, the price, to say the least, is remarkable. We cordially invite everyone interested to call and view this exhibition. Country Residents should remember that we pay carriage.

The "Caloric" Fireless Cookstove

Reduces Your Gas Bill——Saves Time and Labour.

The "Caloric" actually cooks without fire. After you prepare the foods and put them in the "Caloric," no further attention is necessary. Come to our Model Kitchen from 2 till 5 p.m. to-day, and let us show you how this is done. The "Caloric" bakes and roasts as well as steams, boils and stews. The "Caloric" bakes all food from the raw state without fear of burning or failure. It will save you 60 per cent. of your fuel bill. Two hours' work saved daily in the kitchen. It saves 30 per cent. of your food, due to slow cooking. The "Caloric" Fireless Cookstove effects a saving in every way, and is such a boon to the modern housewife that if given an opportunity of proving its value you would not fail to purchase one now.

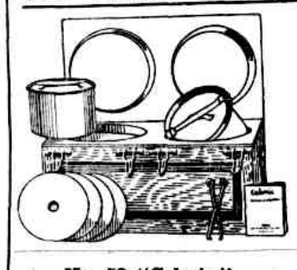

A Whole Menu Cooked In One "Caloric" Stove In Our Model Kitchen.

To-day at 2 p.m. a demonstration of the "Caloric" Fireless Cookstove will be held in our Model Kitchen (downstairs), and a whole Menu will actually be carried out and cooked in one "Caloric" Stove all at the same time.

If You Buy a "Caloric" Our Demonstrator Will Instruct you In your Own Home.

Our demonstrator will visit the home in the city or suburb of every purchaser of a "Caloric" Cookstove, and show exactly how to obtain the very best result. We do not wish anyone to buy a "Caloric" from us and not understand fully how to use it or how to get the very best results. Our stock is complete, and we are able to give immediate delivery.

BEFORE THE BUTTER, CHEESE, AND BACON FACTORIES' BOARD, No. 6 Board, FOOD SUPPLY AND DISTRIBUTION, No. 2 Group.
NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO BOARD.
Take NOTICE that application has been made to the Butter, Cheese, and Bacon Factories Board, No. 6 Board, Food Supply and Distribution, No. 2 Group, by the COLD STORAGE AND ICE EMPLOYEES' UNION OF NEW SOUTH WALES, Industrial Union of Employees, to determine industrial matters, particulars of which may be obtained at the office of Mr. A. R. CROFT, 156 King-street, Sydney, without charge, and that any award thereon shall be made for the County of Cumberland and inside a radius of ten miles of the principal Post Offices of Newcastle and Maitland. The Board will meet at the Central Police Court, Liverpool-street, Sydney, on MONDAY, the 19th day of May, 1913, at the hour of 7 p.m., and at such other places and on such other subsequent days as the Board may appoint, to consider the said application. Take Notice also that if you desire to be exempted from any award made by the Board, or to make any objection to the application, you should do so by lodging application for such exemption, or any objection to the application, with the Chairman of the Board, at the undermentioned address, on or before the abovementioned date of meeting. If application for exemption or objection to the application is not lodged by you, you may be made subject to such award as the Board may think fit to make in respect of the said industry or industries for which the Board has been constituted. Take Notice also that you may be heard before the said Board on any application or any objections before the Board. Take Notice also that the Board may make an award differing from the particulars contained in the application, and may determine that its award shall cover any area or areas which may be within its jurisdiction. Dated this second day of May, 1913.
A. W. M. d'APICE, Chairman of the Board, 151 Phillip-street, Sydney.

ENGLISH AGENCY.—The Undersigned, established upwards of 60 years, confine themselves exclusively to a General Commission Business, are well acquainted with Australian requirements, and possess special facilities for purchasing goods to the best advantage in the English and Continental markets.
Indents should be accompanied by cash remittances, or bank letters of credit, to ensure full trade discounts. Account sales of produce under consignment rendered promptly, and net proceeds remitted or invested to order.
The Shipping Department has been largely developed of late years, and where indents are sent direct to manufacturers the shipment and insurance of the goods are effected upon the most favourable terms.

INTERCLUB COMPETITIONS.

STRATHFIELD DEFEATS SYDNEY.

Although fine overhead on Saturday afternoon, some matches were postponed on account of the courts being affected by rain earlier in the week. For this reason there was no play at the Double Bay courts and the Sydney Cricket Ground. In some cases matches set down for the former ground were contested by consent on the courts of what should have been the visiting team. The qualifying rounds of all competitions except C grade should have been completed on Saturday, but the numerous enforced postponements throughout the season have left a large number of matches yet to be disposed of before the semi-finals can be commenced.

The Strathfield courts were in very fine condition, though somewhat slippery in places, and it was here that Strathfield I. met Sydney I. in A grade, with the result that the home team was successful after a contest keenly fought out from start to finish. E. O. and R. O. Anderson gave their side a good start by defeating Clark and Goddard to 3 games in the opening sets. Wright and Sayers made up some of the leeway by winning two sets against C. O. and J. O. Anderson, so that at half-time sets were equal, with Strathfield 3 games to the good. The two winning pairs then met, and each took a set, Sydney having one game the better of the encounter. In the concluding engagement, Clark and Goddard put Sydney ahead by 4 sets to 3, with games equal, by taking the first set from C. O. and J. O. Anderson to 4 games. All then turned on the last set, and C. O. and J. O. Anderson made amends for their previous losses by winning 6 games in succession. For the winning team, E. O. Anderson played the best game, being versatile and accurate. R. O. Anderson was splendid overhead and good in other departments of the game, but got out of position rather frequently. Wright and Sayers shaped well as a pair, Wright, especially, from the right court, to which he has been unaccustomed of late, and into which E. O. Anderson was serving with great pace, showing good form. Sayers was brilliant on many occasions, and cut off returns of the service in most daring style.

BOWLS.

SATURDAY'S PLAY.

ORANGE WINS THE B CONTEST.

RAWSON CUP COMPETITION.

The final of the B competition was played on Saturday, and was won by Orange, after a strenuous day's play. In the morning they put up a capital performance against Mosman at Waverley green, after an all-night journey in the train; and so soon as they had disposed of Mosman they crossed over to the Randwick green. After another close contest they beat Ryde, and the club is the first country combination to win the trophy under existing rules. The victory is a popular one amongst Sydney players, who realise that it will render future competitions more interesting, and widens the scope of play. There was, therefore, general rejoicing on Saturday night.

On Friday night it was doubtful whether the contest could be played, as the weather was threatening, and the greens were heavy. Mr. Shadforth, secretary of the association, supervised the games, and at Waverley the teams were the guests of the Bowling Association.

THE PLAY.

At Waverley, Mosman led off well, and when five heads had been played they were up nine points, but Orange quickly got the hang of the green, and within the next half-hour the scores were equal, and practically remained so until another 10 heads were played, when Orange managed to gain a little, and they won by 8 points.

At Randwick in the afternoon another close game was played between Orange and Ryde. Orange led from the start, and there were only 2 points between the totals at the fifth head, but the visitors went ahead, and had a majority of 8 at the tenth head, and 13 at the fifteenth. It looked like an easy win for Orange, but Ryde made a recovery, and at the twentieth head were only 4 points in arrears. Ryde continued to improve their position, but Orange won by 5 points. Following are the individual scores:—

RAWSON CUP CONTEST.

The Rawson Cup contest was continued on Saturday, when the clubs met on four greens, and some surprises resulted. Under the sudden death principle North Sydney, Chatswood, Warringah, and Waverley were beaten, and now Mosman, Parramatta, City, and St. George will be drawn against each other for the semi-final round, to be played on Saturday. It was not expected that Mosman would secure an almost two to one victory over North Sydney, and Bullot's rink was the only one up on the North Sydney side. The other rinks only totalled 37. Evans and his men added 44 to the Mosman score. Parramatta and Warringah had a close contest, and there were only 7 points between the totals. But there was a still closer game between the pennant rivals, City and Chatswood. The result was in doubt right up to the last bowl, when City won by a single point. St. George had a comfortable win over Waverley, the latter being only up in one rink, and 27 points was the margin in favour of St. George.

Following are the details of the matches:—

Cooper; assistant secretary, Mr. V. Kean; treasurer, Mr. W. Gornall.

MOTORING THROUGH THREE STATES.

MR. E. M. PERDRIAU'S GREAT TOUR.

A motor tour, in comparison to the length and severity of which the usual automobile trial pales into insignificance, has just been completed by Mr. E. M. Perdriau, a well-known figure in Sydney motoring circles. The motorist, who was accompanied by his wife and daughter, covered a distance of 3204 miles, embracing Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Broken Hill, Nyngan, and Dubbo, in five weeks. Brisbane was originally included in the itinerary, a central course being mapped out from Nyngan (N.S.W.) to the Queensland capital. "I propose making the northern trip as soon as I can spare the time," said Mr. Perdriau to a "Herald" representative yesterday, which in itself is a complete answer to the question of the enjoyment to be derived from extensive touring in the backblocks. The Federal capital site, upon the natural advantages of which Mr. Perdriau was most enthusiastic, was reached via Goulburn, Queanbeyan, and Duntroon, a few days after the laying of the foundation-stone. The monument was not found to be as severely damaged by relic-hunters as was expected, the chips fortunately being small and inconspicuous. Grong Grong, the nearest station to the Ardlethan tin mines, was passed en route to Yanco, by way of Yass, Cootamundra, and Junee, and was found to be in a state of ferment. The residents had pressed almost every style of domestic utensil into service to display samples of tin ore to new arrivals.

The tourists were greatly impressed with the Yanco irrigation area. "Land which before the Barren Jack sluices were opened," said Mr. Perdriau, "would not carry a sheep to the acre now appears capable of supporting a man to the acre. Healthy fruit trees and lucerne paddocks were found in abundance, and there is no doubt as to the ultimate success of the scheme." Leeton was found to be a city of tents, even to the municipal offices. The streets are laid out in quite the modern style.

The Victorian border was crossed at Albury, after a rough stock route trip, via Lockhart and Walbundarie. The Victorian roads were in a frightful condition through rain and neglect, and after a short stay at Shepperton to inspect the irrigation farms the party pushed on to Melbourne.

"Perfect roads led to Ballarat, situated in a district like the Garden of Eden," and the lakes, of which Lake Bolac, a 10-mile stretch of water, is the most impressive, were made the venue of a side trip. Penola, via Hamilton, and Casterton, was the first town encountered in South Australia, and the roads were fair until Kingston was reached. Here coir matting, food, and water were taken aboard for the crossing of the Coorong Desert. Right in the centre of the Coorong is a stretch of firm sand, and for 9 miles the indicator needle of the speedometer never dropped below 40 miles per hour. Perfect mirages were seen on the desert, one always a little ahead, and one following up behind the car, and it appeared that any moment the car would be overwhelmed by the waters. The desert was crossed in eight hours, and the journey to Adelaide from Kingston was completed comfortably in the day.

Turning northwards, the beaten track was left behind at Burra, and for the 240 miles' run through the saltbush to Cockburn the compass was in use. The passing of the car disturbed numbers of kangaroos, emus, and wallabies, while wild dogs prowled round the camp at night. Twenty cars were counted at the N.S.W. border town of Cockburn, but there was no petrol to be had on account of the Broken Hill strike. Mr. Perdriau was put to some difficulty in obtaining a supply. The road to Broken Hill, which had taken the place of the railway for some weeks, was cut to pieces. Camels harnessed like horses and others laden like Soudanese donkeys, were passed en route. Broken Hill was quite orderly, food was in abundance, and at normal prices. Wilcannia, a pretty little town, with pepper trees planted on both sides of the streets, was the next stop, and then a visit was paid to Banarto Station, which is a property measuring a hundred miles in length. The two houses on the property are 70 miles apart. The remainder of the journey through Cobar, Nyngan, Warren, Nevertire, and Dubbo was interesting but uneventful, and Sydney was reached without mishap just 35 days after starting.

Through the whole of the trip the car, a 30-h.p. machine, ran like the proverbial sewing machine, and the one set of tyres are still good for further strenuous service.

100 MILES MOTOR CYCLE RACE.
MELBOURNE, Sunday.
The annual 100 miles handicap road race promoted by the Victorian Motor Cycle Club was decided yesterday, and resulted in a win for J. Lukey (3½-h.p. Triumph), with 5¼min. handicap, his riding time being 2h 41m 30s. Rain fell at intervals during the contest, rendering the going somewhat treacherous in places, and causing several falls. At Diggers' Rest R. C. Howard and H. Jenkins collided. Howard sustained a broken arm and Jenkins had a wrist fractured.

SHEPHERD'S DEPARTURE.
NEWCASTLE, Sunday.
A. H. Shepherd, the Australian champion rider, attempted to cover 40 miles in an hour's riding on Saturday. After 15 miles and riding well inside the record time, the motor that was pacing him failed, and Shepherd was delayed for six minutes. Later the crank of Shepherd's bicycle broke, and he was again delayed. He covered 30½ miles in the hour. The record is 31 miles 1363 yards.

A smoke concert was tendered to Shepherd on Saturday night, and he was presented with a gold medal for being the champion pace-follower of Australia. The secretary of the Rugby League handed Shepherd a cheque for £10 10s, being the result of a benefit football match.

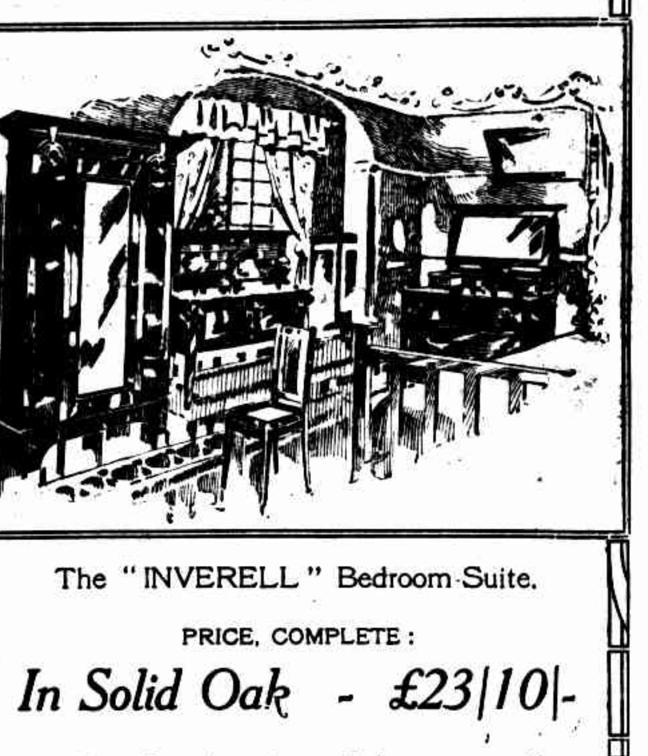

Shepherd leaves this week for the Continent.

The "NORFOLK" Dining Room.
PRICE, COMPLETE:
In Solid Oak - - £35

A GLANCE at our illustration will perhaps help your appreciation of the graceful, if severe, lines of this furniture. The photograph, however, gives a very poor idea of what we consider one of the best of our Low-priced Suites. It would appeal to you if you could see it in its proper surroundings in a simply decorated dining-room. After all, simplicity, ceteris paribus, is the one supreme quality that will give the most enduring satisfaction.

A 5ft. Sideboard, 2-tier Dinner Waggon, Extension Table, with heavy legs (Table extending to 6ft.), 6 Chairs, and 2 Carving Chairs comprise the "NORFOLK" Suite, which is strongly and faithfully built in solid Oak, and will cost you the reasonable sum of £35.

PERRY.—In ever fond and loving memory of my dear husband and father, J. A. Perry, who passed away at Marrickville Cottage Hospital, May 5, 1912.
Cold lies the heart that beat so fondly,
Oh, how we miss his loving care;
Lone is the home that once was so happy,
No loving husband or father there;
My sorrow is great, my loss hard to bear,
God knows I have lost a good husband's care;
I miss him, I mourn him, in silence unseen,
And dwell on the memories of days that have been.
Inserted by his loving wife, M. E. Perry, 12 St. Peters-street, St. Peters.

PERRY.—In loving memory of our dear Alf, who departed this life on May 5, 1912, aged 40 years.
Although this world divides us,
And your face we cannot see,
Let this little token tell
We still remember thee.
Inserted by his loving brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Thomas and Annie Devaney, and little Willie.

IN MEMORIAM.

PERRY.—In fond and loving memory of our dear father, who passed away on May 5, 1912.
We saw him suffering day by day,
It caused us bitter grief
To see him slowly pine away,
And could not give relief.
Not dead to us, we loved him dear,
Not lost, but gone before;
He lives with us in memory still,
And will for evermore.

THE COMING DEFICIT.

"Money does not rain down into the Treasury like showers from heaven," so Mr. Cann told those railway men at Bathurst on Saturday evening who demanded still further concessions and privileges. It is a pity that this truism was not earlier realised. As the financial year lengthens out it is becoming more abundantly clear that Labour is failing to make good on its business side. Instead of the modest surplus of £34,308 foreshadowed by the Treasurer in his Budget speech in October last, present indications would lead us to look for a deficit of well over a million sterling after mopping up the credit balance of £61,362 with which the accounts opened at the beginning of the year on July 1 last. Besides, there has been heavier expenditure of borrowed money than ever before in the history of the State, and the general loan account at the end of April was overdrawn to the extent of £3,312,519. Taking all the accounts together, the Government has disbursed in the first 10 months of the financial year the record sum of over 23 millions sterling, against something less than 19 millions during the corresponding portion of the previous year. All this has taken place in a period of buoyant revenue and prosperous times. Money has come in freely, the business undertakings of the State have been fully engaged, both passengers and goods have been largely carried on our railways and tramways, and there has been no decrease, but rather a substantial increase, in the receipts from the Commonwealth Treasurer. So the task of the Treasurer should have been an easy one, yet we are face to face with a heavy deficiency, with the prospect either of an increase in taxation or retrenchment as the prospect for next fiscal year.

This much must be said for the Labour party and its failure, that it has had to face difficulties of quite another order than those that usually make the path of a Treasurer thorny. The exigencies of the party have been such that there has been little continuity at the Treasury. When Labour first captured the Treasury benches no member of the Ministry had had the slightest experience in the manipulation of accounts. The first Treasurer was Mr. Dacey, and no sooner had he begun to appreciate the difficulties of his office than he was suddenly cut off. This loss was unfortunate, and arrested continuity of policy and of knowledge. Then came Mr. M'Gowen, who, not even in his wildest flights, ever posed as one with any financial ability. He merely stopped the gap for a time, being assisted in his duties by Mr. Carmichael. Later Mr. Carmichael had his turn, and he showed not a little aptitude in his new surroundings, but he, too, was doomed to have but a brief spell at those particular duties that fall to a State Treasurer. His mantle eventually fell upon the shoulders of Mr. Cann, and that gentleman is now doing his best to straighten out a rather bad tangle. To add to these difficulties there have been changes in the permanent staff. Mr. Boyce, after a lifetime of conscientious and able administrative work at the Treasury, latterly as Comptroller of Accounts, retired on his well-earned pension, and his place has been filled by Mr. Pearson, who was for a long period his understudy. Now the new Comptroller comes in at a time of exceptional difficulty, and if he succeeds in making even a fair show of sorting out the tangled threads he will do well. With all these changes, it is scarcely to be wondered that things have been allowed to some extent to drift, and the laxity engendered by the caucus system in relieving Ministers at the head of spending departments from personal responsibility to the Premier must have materially added to the difficulties of the position. This much may be said in extenuation, but does this relieve the Government from its responsibilities? That changes at the Treasury have been more frequent than were warranted by the circumstances, there can be no doubt, while for the bad effects of the caucus rule, who is to be blamed, if not those who, after taking solemn oaths of office, were weak enough to shift the real responsibility to a body unknown to the Constitution, and uncontemplated by it? The fact is that the accounts are muddled, and those in office alone must bear the responsibility and the odium that naturally attach to such as are unable to pay their way without getting into debt.

We have already directed attention to the fact that, despite receipts on consolidated revenue account having expanded by nearly £150,000 so far this year, the expenditure has mounted up by £1,701,918 during the same period, and the account is now in debit to the amount of £1,969,519. There has been expansion in expenditure all along the line. The departments have cost about half a million more than was the case last year, with the heavier borrowings the interest bill has been larger, while the business undertakings of the State have cost more than a million sterling in excess of what they cost to the same date last year. These business enterprises have for some years now proved a splendid nest egg for the consolidated revenue fund. Last year it got £383,900 from this source. This year, from present indications, it will get nothing, and if the present tendency continues much longer the day cannot be far distant in which they will be a burden. We have long urged a severance of these accounts, but have been opposed on the ground that such a reform would prove too great a strain for the consolidated revenue fund. Now the wisdom of our contention is being shown, so possibly there will be a better prospect in the near future of something being done in the direction indicated. The chairman of the Empire Commission recently adverted to the drawback of the "omnibus" loans that are involved under the present system. Certainly the loan account is at present in a rather bad way. Probably it has never been in a worse position. Already there has been expended on works out of borrowed money some £6,606,000 up to date this year, and the account is £3,312,000 overdrawn at the Government bankers. Yet the railways are hung up with their duplication works because they cannot get the money with which to go on, and other important works are everywhere suspended or being proceeded with at snail's pace on the same account. This is far from satisfactory, nor does the position become in any way alleviated when we are told that the Government proposes to enter into the ferry business, which is not called for, while much needed lines are being allowed to wait, and the more serious tackling of the harbour problem is left for another day. Mr. Cann is now said to be sitting somewhat tightly on the Treasury chest. He will need to sit tightly indeed if he is to avoid the heavy deficit at the close of the year that we have foreshadowed. Indeed, the best he can do is to reduce it somewhat; he cannot avoid it altogether.

POSITION IN THE BALKANS.

The settlement in the Balkans involves so many complicated interests, and has met with so many unexpected obstacles, that the aftermath of the war threatens to be almost as long as the war itself. There have been critical situations when it would have taken little to plunge the Peninsula into strife worse than that which has just come to an end; there have been times when it required the most delicate offices of diplomacy to reconcile the jealousies and suspicions both of the various combatants and of the Powers who constituted themselves their respective champions. Much water has still to flow underneath the bridges before everything is arranged, but at present the outlook is more hopeful than it has been for some time. Bulgaria has evacuated Salonika, which removes the principal cause of friction on the eastern side. Hitherto the claims of Bulgaria on the one hand, and of Servia with Greece on the other, have been a serious difficulty in the way of peace; now, apparently, Bulgaria, who has lavished men and money on the campaign, feels that her resources are not equal to the strain of further hostilities, and has decided not to insist upon her former demands. On the west, also, Montenegro is adopting a more conciliatory attitude, and Austria may take this as a sign of grace which does away with the need of the threatened intervention. Why Montenegro did not bow to the inevitable long ago is not very clear. Perhaps her persistence was simply bluff, inspired by the hope that one or other of the Powers might espouse her cause. But if this was so, she has been deceived in her hope. Some of the Powers have been sympathetic; one and all have deprecated her attitude, which endangered the peace of Europe, and had Austria carried out her threat of crossing the frontier, not a hand would have been raised on Montenegro's behalf.

With Montenegro and Bulgaria evacuating Skutari and Salonika, with more or less of a good grace, the two principal obstacles to the settlement of the Balkans have been removed. A week ago this might have meant the end of the whole affair, but things move fast in politics, and already there are two new developments which may postpone the solution. Essad Pasha has employed the interval since he was driven out of Skutari in setting up a government in Albania, of which he is the head, and which is to be under the suzerainty of Turkey. The whole difficulty upon the Montenegrin frontier arose out of Austria's demand that the autonomy and integrity of Albania should be complete. Whether she will be willing to permit an Albania which looks to Turkey for ultimate protection and control is quite another matter. Essad Pasha's intentions are not very clear. He may be acting thus simply to find a way out of the difficulty which has the approval of all parties. He may, on the other hand, be acting in sympathy with the Young Turks, and his acknowledgment of Turkey as suzerain may be an attempt to preserve for her some vestige of her former authority. Time will show. In the meanwhile Italy is supplying a new ingredient to the Balkan hotch-potch. Italy is Austria's ally, and is supposed to be acting in concert with her. Yet, with the utmost show of friendliness Italy proposes to step over to the coast of South Albania, which is directly opposite the Italian coast at the narrowest part of the Adriatic. If she succeeds in this she can fortify them, and will hold the strategical key to that sea. The Adriatic is Austria's only water approach: her important harbours lie on its shores, but if Italy commands its entrance, it will become an Italian lake. Austria can hardly be prepared to face such a prospect with any equanimity, and it will be interesting to see what will be the next move in the game.

CADETS PARADE.

The review of over 20,000 cadets by the Governor-General on Saturday afternoon was witnessed by many thousands of the citizens, and it could not but leave a lasting impression on all who saw it. It was something new in the way of reviews, this great parade of the cadets through the streets of Sydney, and it carried a message to the people of Australia—the message that the child is father to the man, that to-day has taken the place of yesterday, and that to-morrow is but a little way off. Soon the 20,000 boys of Saturday will be 20,000 men, with homes of their own to keep and defend, and every man of them will be a soldier as well as a citizen. Compulsory service does not mean that militarism is dear to us, but that our country is dear to us. It does not represent a spirit of aggression. It is simply a recognition of the fact that peace is best preserved by preparedness for war. Australia has been won by peaceful conquest; our people are a peaceful people; and we would be sorry to implant a spirit of aggressive militarism in our youth. We do not believe that universal training will do that; but that it will stimulate a healthy patriotism we do most certainly believe. And if it does that, we shall have reason to congratulate ourselves. Such a march as that of Saturday is calculated to do great good, for it was inspiring alike to the cadets and to the men and women who saw them march—the fathers and mothers who have given them to the service of their country. It was, indeed, a brave show, whose only handicap was the lack of organisation for controlling the crowds on the part of the police. The military authorities are entirely in the hands of the State in these matters, and where our streets are concerned there must be readiness for a great march.

There is one aspect of it all that we must not forget. Defence means sacrifice. It means a heavy monetary outlay year by year. Navies and armies mean a great expenditure of money. That is the taxpayers' burden, and it is cheerfully borne. And so long as might, in the last analysis, is right, we shall have to bear it. Then, there is the sacrifice which compulsory military training entails. Our boys may not have to pay taxes, but they are called upon to make sacrifices nevertheless. They are called upon to forego the pleasure of witnessing many exciting games on the cricket or football fields—even of taking part in them—and to the sport-loving Australian this means a good deal. Time, however, heals many wounds, and, hard as it was at first, we believe that our young soldiers are now cheerfully bearing their share of the bruden of defence. They are learning to realise that there are greater things than sport. It has been said of us as a people that we devote far too much time to sport. Doubtless, the sunshine of Australia and our wide, open spaces develop a love for out-of-door exercise and recreation; and sport, after all, has its legitimate place in our lives. But if in the past there has been a tendency to overdo it, we may claim that we are now in a fair way to a realisation of the responsibilities which nationhood entails. It is barely two years since the universal service scheme was inaugurated in this country, and the march of the 20,000 cadets on Saturday was a striking testimony to the progress we have made. In it we saw the beginning of a great national army. It was, too, a reminder of our naval aspirations, for at the head and front of the 20,000 marched the naval cadets. Criticism of our young soldiers on parade would be out of place. There were some faults, it is true, but what we have to remember is that they are soldiers in the making. Perfect discipline is not to be looked for in two short years, and, in any case, the marshalling of an army of 20,000 is no easy task. The real reason for the march was to elicit the sympathy of the public with this great national defence scheme. Alike from the business section of the community, who are called upon to allow the youths in their employ time off for drill, and from the heads of families, every encouragement should be given to this great movement.

Inadequate Police Protection.—Residents of Mosman, North Sydney, and other suburbs are alarmed at the number of house robberies which go unpunished. It is claimed that this is largely the result of inadequate police protection. The robberies are mostly perpetrated in the daytime by a class of criminals who pretend to be hawkers. The premises which are found unoccupied through the members of the family being temporarily absent, are the places that are mostly ransacked. The plan is to knock at the door, and if there is an answer the visitor asks some question, and passes on to the next place. It is claimed that if there were more police they could better control this class of traders. In a great number of the houses and cottages in the suburbs it is quite an easy matter, especially if there is an accomplice to keep watch, to smash the window and throw back the latch.

Shipping Nomenclature.—The names of the steamers engaged in our interstate and oversea trade in many cases indicate a lamentable lack of originality. The habit which some companies have of calling their steamers after the capital cities in Australia is likely to lead to no end of confusion. Lloyd's register shows that there are no fewer than five companies with steamers named Melbourne, three with steamers named Sydney, five with vessels christened Adelaide, and four with Brisbanes. The Federal Government has also followed in the steps of these companies in naming its cruisers. Therefore, when the official at the G.P.O., in his usual love for brevity, informs an anxious public that the steamer Melbourne has passed Gabo Island, much profitable speculation may follow as to whether it is the Melbourne Steamship Company's, the German-Australian's, the Messagerie Maritime's vessel, H.M.A.S. Melbourne, or one of the tramp steamers of that name which sometimes find their way across here. It appeared as if it remained for the foreigners to teach Britons something new in the matter of shipping nomenclature. Such names as Jozsef Agost Foherczeg and Grof Tisza Istvan, both of which steamers visit Australia, have quite an original sound, and might have been expected to give local shipowners a lead. A vessel recently launched on the Clyde, however, has been named the Y. Ddraig Goch. Perhaps if our shipowners followed in this direction they might be in danger of being hoist with their own house flag.

Wind-power in the Northern Territory.—In the course of a lecture on the practical application of wind-power for electrical generation at the Royal Society's Rooms on Friday, Mr. Harold Myers, vice-president of the Electrical Association, said: "It seems to me that these electro windmill plants are going to play a very important part in the co-operative business of the dairying industry in the Northern Territory of Australia." At another stage he referred to the recent remarks of Sir H. Rider Haggard with regard to the economic methods adopted by the dairying community in Denmark, and said that such cheap means of generating electro power by the aid of windmills would be especially practicable in the Northern Territory on account of the uniform wind velocities in that part of the country.

City Council's Accounts.—In order that the various standing committees of the City Council may be made fully acquainted with the accounts and expenditure connected with the work of each committee, Alderman Richards has given notice of a motion, to be considered at to-morrow night's meeting of the council, that it be an instruction to the town clerk and general auditor to submit the accounts to each committee concerned for verification and endorsement prior to submitting them to the finance committee for the usual recommendation for payment.

Canberra and Myola.—The Howard Smith Company, Ltd., has been frequently congratulated since the arrival of its new liner, upon having at last named a steamer after the Federal Capital. Captain Little, the Melbourne manager, however, laughingly stated yesterday that the boot was on the other foot, and the Federal Capital had really been named after the new steamer. The name was selected by the company, and permission to use it obtained from the Board of Trade, long before the naming ceremony at the capital site was arranged. When asked later on what name had been selected for a new collier which the company has on the stocks in England, Captain Little smiled, and said, "Myola!" That makes our fourth attempt at Federal Capital names. First there was the Bombala, then the Cooma, and then the Canberra. After we had decided on the latter it looked as if Myola was very likely to be chosen, so we took it for our collier. But I am sure the public would rather see the name of the Federal Capital on an 8000 ton liner like the Canberra than on a collier running between Sydney and Newcastle."

Punishment for Violent Assaults.—Mr. Justice Pring is strongly of opinion that the punishment should fit the crime. In refusing leave to appeal on Saturday in a case in which a prisoner had been convicted of violently assaulting a constable, his Honor said, "It ought to be understood that in cases of personal injury the punishment should always be severe, more especially in the case of constables who are violently assaulted while in the execution of their duty. The police must be protected, and I always inflict heavy sentences in such cases."

Fair Rents Court.—Some time ago Alderman Meagher endeavoured to get a motion passed by the City Council to urge upon the Government the necessity of promoting legislation with a view to the establishment of a fair rents court, and the abolition of bonuses imposed upon tenants. The motion lapsed, owing to Alderman Meagher's continued absence from the meetings of the committee to which it was referred, but has again been listed on the business paper for to-morrow night's meeting.

City Council Loan.—The finance committee of the City Council has recommended the raising of a loan of £34,000 for the purpose of constructing offices at Wattle-street, stormwater drains in Surry Hills, Camperdown, and Randwick-road, the purchase of motor waggons, and the construction of hot salt-water baths.

Diphtheria on H.M.A.S. Melbourne.—On Saturday last a case of diphtheria developed on H.M.A.S. Australia. Although the cruiser was not open for public inspection yesterday on this account, it is stated that to-day's visit of school-children will not be interfered with.

Immigrants from the Continent.—The German mail steamer Zieten, which arrived on Saturday, brought another large contingent of foreigners, including 32 Austrians, 34 Italians, 10 Greeks, and 7 Danes. The Austrians are bound for New Zealand to join their compatriots on the gum fields.

PERSONAL.

VICE-REGAL.

His Excellency the Governor-General, attended by Captain Nutting, A.D.C., and Captain Burnham, A.D.C., arrived by the Melbourne express on Saturday, and was received by his Excellency the Governor, attended by the Hon. Victor Nelson Hood, private secretary, Captain Talbot, A.D.C., Captain Forbes, A.D.C., and Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, A.D.C., the Premier of New South Wales, and the Lord Mayor of Sydney.

His Excellency the Governor-General visited his Excellency the Admiral at Admiralty House at 11.30 a.m.

His Excellency the Governor-General, attended by Captain Nutting, A.D.C., lunched at State Government House with his Excellency the Governor and Lady Edeline Strickland. His Excellency the Naval Commander-in-Chief and Lady King-Hall, attended by the flag lieutenant, were also present to meet the Governor-General.

The passengers by the Niagara for Vancouver will include Messrs. G. F. Diamond (president of the Actuarial Society of N.S.W.), Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Moreton, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Minter, Mr. A. M'Ilwraith, Lieutenant-Colonel Ramiccioti, Dr. Roland Pope, Mr. W. F. Kay, Mr. Harold Aston, Mr. John Cooke, and Mayne's cricket team. Sir James Mills will travel in the vessel as far as Auckland.

Dr. Silvestri, the Italian entomologist, who visited West Africa at the request of the Hawaiian Government in quest of parasites of the fruit-fly, left for Honolulu by the Sonoma on Saturday.

Mr. William Thompson Busby, who died a few days ago at his residence at Neutral Bay, was the youngest son of the late Mr. George Busby, of Bathurst, and was for many years in the service of the Commercial Banking Company of Sydney. He leaves a widow, three daughters, and a son.

Mr. L. Jagoe, manager of the Bank of New South Wales at Ganmain for nearly five years, was entertained at a smoke social and presented with an illuminated address, travelling bag, and purse of sovereigns on his departure for Sydney, to which place he has been promoted. He will be succeeded by Mr. H. A. Carruthers. The Church of England choir presented Mr. Jagoe with a gold-mounted ebony baton in recognition of his services as choir master.

The death of Mr. R. S. Hall, who for the past 29 years represented Toohey's, Ltd., in Sydney and suburbs, occurred on Saturday at his residence, Jersey-road, Paddington. The late Mr. Hall was one of the best-known travellers in the trade, and had a wide circle of friends. The funeral takes place to-day. A short service will be held at St. James' Church at 2 p.m.

Mr. Vincent Wheatley, accountant of the A.M.P. Society at Perth, is at present on a holiday visit to Sydney.

After a long career in the service of the Commercial Bank, Major J. W. G. Robertson will, on May 31, enter upon 12 months' leave of absence, at the conclusion of which he will retire, after serving 44 years as manager of the Wollongong branch. Prior to going to Wollongong in October, 1869, Major Robertson was on the relieving staff, and acted as manager at Cooma, Queanbeyan, and Nowra, then known as Shoalhaven. He was at Queanbeyan in what are termed the good old days, when the Clarke gang of bushrangers held sway, and whilst Major Robertson was there it was daily expected that the bank would be stuck up, and troopers with loaded rifles were concealed on the bank premises. Major Robertson has been treasurer of the local hospital for 38 years, and was connected with the artillery for 42 years, retiring with the rank of major. Mr. W. B. Thomas, manager of the Gladstone (Queensland) branch of the bank, has been appointed manager of the Wollongong branch.

Mr. J. Reynolds, first assistant at the Wallsend Superior Public School, was on Tuesday last entertained by the staff of the school on the eve of his departure on a six months' holiday tour through England, Ireland, and the Continent, and was presented by Mr. J. J. Craig, principal, on behalf of the staff, with a pocket-book and case of pipes.

Alderman W. P. M'Elhone, of the City Council, will leave Sydney on June 11 on a trip to the East.

Inspector Duncan Ross, of the staff of the Superintendent of Lines, who left by the R.M.S. Sonoma on Saturday on a six months' trip round the world, was on Monday last presented with a photographic outfit by his fellow officers. Mr. Ross is travelling partly on pleasure and partly on business for the Railway Department, and will visit America, England, and the Continent.

Mr. W. Robertson of the Low Moor Ironworks, Bradford, who is touring Australia, is on a visit to Sydney.

The remains of the late Mrs. G. P. Bowman, who died in Sydney, at her residence, Elizabeth Bay, early last week, were interred at Singleton, her native town, on Thursday. She was born in 1833, being the eldest daughter of the late Mr. Thomas M'Donall, one of the pioneers of the Singleton district. The deceased leaves a family of six sons and two daughters—Dr. A. S. Bowman, of Singleton; Mr. Arthur Bowman, solicitor, of Sydney; Mr. E. M. Bowman, of Wargundy Station, Gulgong; Mr. D. R. Bowman, of Parramatta; Mr. Frank Bowman, of Archerfield, Upper Hunter; Mr. Archer Bowman, of Tamarang, Quirindi; Mrs. F. B. Trude, of Perth; and Miss Alice Bowman.

Mr. F. G. Harrison, of the Randwick Rifle Club, who has been selected as a member of the Australian team to compete at the forthcoming Bisley rifle meeting, was accorded a valedictory in the Randwick Town Hall on Friday. The Mayor of Randwick (Alderman Campbell) presided, and a presentation was made to Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Cozens Spencer, who is departing on the Niagara for America and England, accompanied by Mrs. Spencer, to-day, was entertained at the Civic Club on Friday afternoon by many prominent members of the biograph world. Mr. H. A. Brierley occupied the chair, and on wishing "bon voyage" to the guest referred to his many excellent business and social qualities—sentiments which were freely endorsed by the citizens present. It is the intention of Mr. Spencer to proceed direct to New York, thence to London and the Continent, returning to Sydney before Christmas.

Mr. Thomas Day, an old identity in the boot trade, died suddenly at his residence, Kenilworth, Short-street, Summer Hill, on Saturday morning from hemorrhage of the brain. He had reached the age of 72 years. The late Mr. Day started business in a small way in Regent-street, Redfern, 40 years ago, and 10 years later built a factory in Edward-street, Redfern. In 1902 he took his son, Henry, into partnership with him, and they removed to their present premises in Federation-road, Newtown. Mr. Day held the position of treasurer of the Boot, Shoe, and Slipper Manufacturers' Association, with which he had been associated for a large number of years.

LORD DENMAN'S VISIT

A GREAT RECEPTION.

DEMONSTRATION OF LOYALTY.

The reception which he got from the great crowd that assembled at the railway station to greet him on his arrival, from the concourse of people that cheered him in the streets, and at the wharf when his all too brief visit on Saturday to this city came to an end, ought to have amply demonstrated to the Governor-General, if certain untoward events had given rise to any doubts on the point, that the hearts of the people of Sydney still throb with loyalty, and that a very warm regard is entertained for Lord Denman personally, apart from the high official position which he occupies. The welcome that his Excellency received was marked with great fervour and with deep sincerity.

The express from Melbourne was nearly an hour late. It was not a tedious wait, however, for those who foregathered on the station. Plenty of amusement was provided by a contingent of University students, attired in caps and gowns, who were in their traditional condition of demonstrative exuberance. They rendered great service to the lady collectors for the hospitals by capturing benevolent-looking citizens, and with more noise than ceremony introducing them to the ladies, and cheering when they contributed. Professor Anderson Stuart was one of those who had to face the music, and he seemed to rather enjoy it. This entertainment took place in the railway grounds. The platform itself was reserved for the members of the citizens' committee and other leading citizens. There also the hospital collectors reaped a great harvest, among those who dropped coins into their boxes being the State Governor and the Premier.

Those on the platform included the State Governor (Sir Gerald Strickland), attended by the Hon. Victor Hood (private secretary), Captains Talbot and Forbes, and Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, As.D.C., and accompanied by the Lord Mayor of Sydney (Alderman Cocks), who was attended by his orderly, Mr. Carrick, and the State Premier (Mr. M'Gowen). Others present included Colonel Wallack, C.B. (State Commandant), Colonel Kyngdon, Colonel Roberts, Colonel Carington, Commander Brownlow, Captain Read (Army Medical Corps), Lieutenant D. C. Howell-Price, Flag-Lieutenant Thomson, R.N. (representing the Admiral), Sir William M'Millan (President of the British Empire League), Sir Francis Suttor, ex-Senator Walker, Aldermen J. English, R. W. Richards, W. J. Cox, W. J. Walker, A. McElhone, G. T. Clarke, T. H. Kelly, E. Milner Stephen, and Gilpin, Mr. T. H. Nesbitt (Town Clerk), Mr. W. G. Layton (Deputy-Town Clerk), Professor Anderson Stuart, Major-General Finn, Messrs. H. Y. Braddon (President of the Chamber of Commerce), A. Gordon Wesche (vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce), C. G. Wade, leader of the State Opposition), A. W. Meeks, M.L.C., G. Earp, M.L.C., T. Henley, M.L.A., John Nobbs, M.L.A., C. T. Burfitt (secretary of the Historical Society), W. Cope, J. T. Tillock, J. M. Paxton, G. Allard, Walter Keep, E. W. Knox, T. A. Dibbs, Colin C. Stephen, A. W. Turnbull, K. G. Richards, E. Reading, J. A. Hogue, R. K. Allport, Douglas M. Severn, F. G. Crouch, W. Rigg, Clive Teece, R. J. Lukey, R. T. Remington, A. J. Riley, N. H. Murray, A. Rickard, Dr. Brady, and Dr. Jamieson. The platform arrangements were supervised by the stationmaster, Mr. Richardson, assisted by the deputy stationmaster (Mr. Marchant.)

At 10 minutes to 11 o'clock the express steamed in, the Governor-General, who was attended by Sir Walter Barttelot, Captain Burnham, and Captain Nutting, alighting from a special car at the rear of the train. Lord Denman immediately exchanged greetings with the State Governor, Mr. M'Gowen, and the Lord Mayor. He then shook hands with the various military and naval officers, the several members of the State Parliament, the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, and Chamber of Manufactures, the aldermen of the City Council, and the members of the committee of welcome. There were some notable absentees, among them, the whole of the section of city aldermen who own allegiance to the Trades Hall, of which organisation Mr. M'Gowen was the sole representative.

The introductions over, Lord Denman, accompanied by his staff, moved toward the western exit from the platform, and when the crowds assembled outside caught sight of him, cheer after cheer went up, real enthusiasm, genuine and heartfelt, being manifested. The Highland Society's pipe band, under Pipe-Major T. McKay, and Drum-Major Bellson, infused a special note with a stirring march. There were festoons of flags everywhere. It was a gay and joyous welcome. There were the Scotsmen in their kilts, there were the aides-de-camp of the Federal and State Governors, in the varied uniform of their respective regiments; there were the State military officers in full dress; several naval officers, a score of ladies, and close upon a hundred leading citizens, in frock coats and shining top hats; and standing on a bright new red carpet in front of them all, beaming and bowing to the cheering concourse that faced him, stood Lord Denman. It was a splendid reception, and any doubts that may have lingered in his mind must surely have vanished there and then.

There was more cheering as Lord Denman, who rode in the Lord Mayor's motor car, accompanied by the Lord Mayor himself, passed down the lane of spectators that lined Eddy-avenue, followed by an escort of carriages and motor cars, most of them decorated with ribbons, flags, and flowers. Unfortunately, owing to a traffic block, the procession got cut in two, and the tail never got joined up to the main body, arriving at the terminal point after his Excellency had gone.

Lord Denman proceeded along George-street to Hunter-street, and along Hunter-street to Bligh-street, as far as the Union Club. Every few hundred yards there were streamers of flags fluttering, and many of the business places were decorated. A particularly fine show was made between Bathurst and Park streets, and the Town Hall was most gaily decked out with bunting, while the south-east corner of the Queen Victoria Markets was adorned with a huge banner, on which were the words, "Welcome to our Governor-General," and "Long live the King." Some people carried flags and waved them as the Governor-General passed, and all along the route enthusiastic demonstrations were made.

When Lord Denman reached the Union Club, and escaped from a lady collector for the hospitals, he stood on the portico and bowed his acknowledgments to the occupants of the various carriages which had participated in the procession.

Afterwards he drove out to Cranbrook, and on his return to the city from the review in the afternoon was greeted by more rousing ovations, which continued till he took his departure in the evening by the Malwa.

His Excellency's visit was a memorable one, and the great popular demonstrations that were accorded sent him away a happy man. Just before he left he expressed himself as extremely gratified, and requested the Lord Mayor to convey his thanks to the citizens for the kind manner in which they had received him.

THE AUTOMOBILE ESCORT.

Making an effective demonstration and lending a distinctly modern atmosphere to the proceedings, over 120 automobiles were assembled at the Central Railway Station when the Governor-General stepped from the platform to enter the Lord Mayor's motor car. The Automobile Club of Australia, which originated the idea, was strongly represented, and the following members, with their cars were among those present:—Messrs. J. M. Arnott (president), J. J. Rouse, W. Evans, A. L. Blythe, R. Butcher, H. Skinner, K. Winchcombe, G. C. Hamilton, F. A. Winchcombe, W. E. Ward, H. Knight Eaton, H. Rickard, W. Love, C. R. Crossman, W. Rigg, F. Harrington, O. J. M'Dermott, R. A. Carter, and Leslie Dobell.

THOSE WHO HELPED.

HOSPITAL SATURDAY FUND.

A GRATIFIED CHAIRMAN.

MR. JUSTICE GORDON'S APPRECIATION.

"We are all highly gratified at the result," said Mr. Justice Gordon, the chairman of the Hospital Saturday Fund, speaking for himself and his co-directors yesterday.

"The indoor collections," he said, "show an increase of about £220, and the outdoor a decrease of £85. The increase in the indoor collection we attribute to a better and more complete organisation. The outdoor decrease we attribute largely to the fact that the procession of cadets took place on the afternoon of our collection, as persons desirous of being present at the procession prior to its taking place were too intent on the object for which they had come out to subscribe; and after the procession had taken place they were too wearied, their sole object being to get home as early as possible. Although we regret this decrease, the cause that brought it about was one of so much worth in itself, and of so much importance to the public as a whole, that our regret is supplanted by our satisfaction in this cause.

"This year the amount to be distributed will bring the total actually disbursed in the last 20 years to well over £100,000. The bank returns of the collections in the suburban areas show an increase in 11 centres and a decrease in eight.

"With regard to the coins contributed on Saturday, it will be remembered that a request was made that the public would be more liberal with their contributions of silver than in the past, and the event shows that while the number of silver coins was 106,210 less, the amount was only £52 7s less. Last year there were 861,002 silver coins, representing £6598, and this year 754,731, representing £6545 19s 5d. This year there were 126,196 less copper coins collected.

"At Bondi there were three generations collecting at one stall—grandmother, mother, and daughter—the result being most beneficial to the fund. With regard to the cadets in the procession, a large number contributed to the fund, and special mention may be made of senior cadets 26, B Company, Surry Hills, who made a special contribution to the fund, in grateful recognition of the kind treatment of their comrades in the hospital, after they were run into by a motor car while on a march, in June last. A portion of the amount contributed by the Chatswood School was given by the search party of boys who found a missing child, a sum of £6 being sent by the child's parents to the school, and the search party specially requested that it should be given to the fund.

"The success of the collection was due not only to the agency of human collectors, but to the efforts of several dogs, which nobly assisted in the cause of charity.

"As chairman of the board, I desire to return thanks, notably to the lady collectors, who again this year have given most unsparingly of their time and labour, and in so doing have emulated the example set them by their sisters on the other side of the water in England and America. Thanks also are due, especially to the Bank of New South Wales, for again assisting so materially to the success of the movement, and without their aid the work would be almost impossible to perform. The officers of the bank to the number of over 300 have again given up their time and work. Our grateful thanks are also due to all who have assisted in the work, and, among others, to the caterers, florists, owners of motor-cars, and vehicles, those who assisted in clerical duties at the office, both ladies and gentlemen, and also to the employees of Messrs J. A. Dean and Co., who gave valuable assistance.

Our thanks also are due to the theatrical profession, who have once more given so fully and freely of their time and services. Amongst others Miss Lily Brayton, who, though unable personally to attend sent a donation of £10, and also at her request certain of her lady assistants rendered valuable help. Miss Violet Lorraine, at Challis House, and Miss Ivy Schilling, at the Hotel Australia, were present from Her Majesty's Theatre. At the stall on the corner of George and Wynyard streets Miss Violet Paget and Miss Dorothy Sidney, together with other lady helpers, rendered valuable aid.

"It is impossible to mention all who gave their services, but our thanks are expressed to one and all for their earnest endeavours to aid the good cause with such gratifying results."

During the day members of the executive and Mrs. Jonsen, one of the directors, visited the various stalls in the suburbs and in the city.

MILITARY TRAINING.

AN ANGRY DEPUTATION.

MR. FISHER GIVES A STRAIGHT ANSWER.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

A large deputation of women waited upon the Prime Minister (Mr. Fisher) at State Parliament House yesterday to place before him their opposition to the compulsory military training of youths.

The case for the deputation was put by Lady Holder (widow of the late Sir Frederick, and president of the Y.W.C.A.), Miss Carter (Seventh Day Adventists), Miss Lowe, and Miss Nichols (president of the W.C.T.U.).

The Prime Minister, in reply, was subjected to frequent interjections and dissent. He said that unless Australians provided for their own defence they might be overrun by people not so good as themselves, and governed by any who wished to take control of the country. The training of boys was, in the opinion of those best able to judge, necessary. Although he was not there to say the method of training was yet perfect, it had been improved, and would still be further improved. He hated war, and would do everything in his official and private capacity to prevent it. But, should war occur, old as he was, he would not hesitate to launch himself against the foes of his country. He promised, on behalf of the Government, to give favourable consideration to the question raised, not as regarded the principle of training, but so far as practicable to ease the conditions of the younger trainees, and enable parents to be free from anxiety. So far as practicable, the authorities would make their drills in the day time, and not at night. They would, at the same time, see that youths in employment would not lose by being trained in the day time.

A voice: You have the motherhood of the country against you.

Mr. Fisher said that he believed, from his own knowledge, that the motherhood of Australia was not in agreement with the opinions expressed that morning.

A voice: The working class mothers are.

Mr. Fisher: I believe the great mass of the motherhood of Australia are not only prepared to bear sons, but to give their sons for the defence of the liberties we possess, and are willing to let them be trained properly in their youth and manhood. I will, so far as possible, help you to see that the conditions under which they are trained will be approved by the most moral people in creation.

A voice: Will you say "yes" or "no" whether you will use your influence towards repealing those compulsory clauses?

Mr. Fisher (emphatically): No. Can you have any straighter answer than that? In the direction indicated I will give you all the aid I can, but, from the political point of view, you won't have me shuffling.

Rev. Mr. Murphy: Will you be sympathetic towards raising the age to 18 before training takes place, and introducing a conscience clause in the Act?

Mr. Fisher: Both those are large questions, and there is no time to go into them.

MR. FLOWERS AT GRAFTON.

GRAFTON, Sunday.

Mr. Flowers (Vice-President of the Executive Council), accompanied by Mr. J. Joynton Smith, M.L.C., arrived yesterday from Glen Innes by motor car, and were formally welcomed by the Mayors of Grafton and South Grafton.

In the afternoon a deputation, consisting of the Mayor of South Grafton, District Inspector Blumer, and several leading citizens, pointed out the desirability of erecting a new school building at South Grafton, on the site recently gazetted, as the present site was being intersected by a street, to be put through in account of the railway blocking the leading street of the town.

The Minister said that he would support the proposal to sell the present site and buildings, and with the proceeds to erect a new school on the site gazetted.

RIGHT DENIED.

MONTENEGRIN REPLY.

TO POWERS' DEMAND.

ATTITUDE OF ITALY.

LONDON, May 2.

The reply of Montenegro to the Powers' demand that she should evacute Skutari further denies, by virtue of international law, the Powers' right to evict her from conquered territory, and points out that any measures to evict her would prove an arbitrary restriction of the basis of peace negotiations with Turkey.

It is further pointed out that the inhabitants of Skutari acclaimed the Montenegrins on their entry into the town, and this fact should modify the decision of the Powers, which, it is claimed, was arrived at on insufficient data.

VIENNA, May 4.

Austria has proclaimed martial law in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

THE ITALIAN FACTOR.

VIENNA, May 3.

In the event of Austria taking action at Skutari, Italy will not join her, but will balance it with parallel action in the south.

ROME, May 3.

Several battleships have been ordered to Brindisi, where they are to hold themselves in readiness to put to sea at a moment's notice.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 4.

The Porte has accepted the Powers' request to cease hostilities, and has suggested London as the meeting place in connection with the peace negotiations.

The conference will probably open on May 12.

NEW ALBANIAN GOVERNMENT.

ATHENS, May 2.

A Corfu telegram states that Essad Pasha has established his Government at Tirana, and proclaimed the autonomy of Albania under the suzerainty of Turkey.

Essad Pasha hoisted the Turkish and not the Albanian flag. He has recognised the authority of the Orthodox Church.

It is announced that the new Government is not hostile to Greece.

POSITION AT SALONIKA.

ATHENS, May 2.

The last Bulgarian regiment, with the exception of one company, has now evacuated Salonika.

THE AEGEANS.

ATHENS, May 4.

Martial law has been established in the Aegean Islands, in the occupation of Greece.

UNITED STATES TARIFF.

THE WOOL SCHEDULE.

WASHINGTON, May 4.

The House of Representatives yesterday passed the Underwood wool schedule by 193 votes to 74.

The Republicans presented a "blanket" amendment providing for a rate of 15 cents per lb on raw wool and comparative rates based on an 18-cent duty on the woollen contents of manufactured woollens. They asserted that this agreed with the recommendations of the Tariff Board, but the Democrats denied this.

The expected defection of the representatives from the wool-growing States did not take place.

A BRITISH PROTEST.

Sir Cecil Spring Rice, the British Ambassador, has called the attention of the Administration to the Tariff Bill provision extending preference of 5 per cent. to goods imported in United States bottoms.

The Democrats recognise that the provision infringes the treaty between the two nations, and they intend to introduce an amendment abolishing it.

THE SUFFRAGISTS.

CONSPIRACY TRIAL.

A VIOLENT PROGRAMME.

LONDON, May 3.

Seven women and a man named Clayton, who described himself as a chemist and author, were charged at the police court to-day with conspiring, with Mrs. Pankhurst and others, to cause damage to property.

A remarkable letter from Clayton to Annie Kenny, the well-known suffragist, who is also one of the accused, was read, which suggested that Clayton had experimented as to the right proportions of chemicals for explosive purposes.

Inspector Hawkins testified that he found in Kenny's flat a book, entitled "The Bristol Riots of 1831," and within the book were four loose documents, apparently in Clayton's handwriting, two of them bearing his name and address.

These documents were read in court. The first was headed, "Various Suggestions," and explained a scheme for simultaneously smashing all street fire alarms, of which a list was given. The document also minutely described the Post and Telegraph Engineer's Department, the telephone headquarters, the Paymaster-General's Office, and Somerset House, and suggested methods whereby they might be attacked.

Two of the other documents related to setting fire to timber yards, and the fourth suggested plans for setting fire to the headquarters of the National Health Insurance Commission.

The defendants were remanded until Monday.

MORE INCENDIARISM.

Women's suffragists burnt the lately-erected wing of the Ashley Public School, at Aberdeen, the damage being estimated at £500.

The police have discovered a plot to burn the Government aviation sheds at Upavon.

VOLUNTEERS CALLED FOR.

The authorities have now allowed the women's suffragists to re-occupy their headquarters, which were recently raided by the police.

In connection with the raid an indignation meeting was held at Caxton Hall last night, when an appeal was made for volunteers to take part in the next militant protest.

"THE SUFFRAGETTE."

Despite an official warning, the paper "The Suffragette" was published to-day in an attenuated form, and is being sold. Mr. Drew, manager of the printing company responsible for the issue, was arrested, and afterwards released on bail.

MRS. PANKHURST.

Mrs. Pankhurst, who is out of the prison on license, has been removed to a nursing home in Woking.

MR. LANSBURY'S CASE.

Mr. George Lansbury, ex-M.P., a prominent women's suffragist, was tried yesterday on a charge of inciting the public to violence, and was ordered to be bound over to keep the peace for a year in his own surety of £1000, and two other sureties of £500 each.

He declined to find sureties, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

He has been released on bail pending an appeal.

UNITED STATES DEMONSTRATION.

NEW YORK, May 3.

Thirty thousand women took part in a street parade yesterday in connection with the demand for the franchise.

A large contingent of New Zealand women took part in the demonstration.

GREAT WOOL SHED BURNT.

SUSPICIOUS ORIGIN.

LONDON, May 3.

A shed belonging to the Midland Railway Company at Bradford, in which a large quantity of wool was stored, was, together with 19 wool-laden waggons, burnt to the ground last night.

The fire brigade was extinguishing a blazing waggonload of straw 20 yards away when it was discovered that the shed had been set on fire at two widely-separated points.

The total damage is estimated at £75,000.

NEWMARKET FIRST SPRING MEETING.

ONE THOUSAND GUINEAS.

LONDON, May 2.

At the Newmarket First Spring Meeting to-day, the race for the principal event resulted as follows:—

ONE THOUSAND GUINEAS STAKES, of 100 sovs each, half forfeit, for three-year-old fillies, 9st each; owner of the second to receive 400 sovs, and the owner of the third 200 sovs out of the stakes. Rowley Mile.

Mr. J. B. Joel's ch f Jest, by Sundridge—Absurdity ... 1
Duke of Devonshire's b f Taslett, by William The Third—Burgonet ... 2
Lord Rosebery's ch f Prue, by Cicero—Prune ... 3

The "Ladies' Race" at Newmarket attracted 120 subscriptions, and among the subscribers were his Majesty, leading sportsmen of Great Britain, three ex-Australians, several Americans, and the Austro-Hungarian sportsman, Baron Springer. The winner, who was bred by her owner, is by Sundridge from Absurdity, by Melton from Paradoxical, by Timothy from Inchbonney, by Sterling, and during her two-years-old career was out under silk on four occasions. She commenced by running third to Prue in the Hurst Park Foal Plate; her next essay was second to Waiontha in the Autumn Breeders' Foal Plate at Manchester; and her successes were achieved in the Bretby Stakes at the Newmarket First October Meeting and the Free Handicap (6f), in which she carried 8st 1lb, at the Newmarket Second October Meeting. She is engaged in the Oaks, to be run at Epsom next month. Taslett, who ran second, was also bred by her owner, and her dam, Burgonet, is by Morion from Balornock, by Galopin. She sported silk on three occasions last season, and scored once, in the Medway Two-year-old Plate at the Lingfield November Meeting. Prue, who occupied third situation, was bred by her owner, and her dam, Prune, is by Persimmon from Tressure, by Bend Or from Bonny Jean, by Macaroni. Prue ran thrice last season, and won twice—the National Breeders' Produce Stakes at the Sandown Park July Meeting, and the Hurst Park Foal Plate, in which she was followed home by Light Brigade and Jest.

THE ENGLISH DERBY.

THE BETTING MARKET.

LONDON, May 3.

In the betting market to-day Louvois, Shogun, and Craganour dispute favouritism for the Derby, to be decided at Epsom next month, with Rockflint 20 points away next in demand.

Louvois, who won the Two Thousand Guineas on Wednesday last, is the property of Mr. W. Raphael, and his success on that occasion may be attributed to his position in the betting market. Last year he won four races worth £3679. Shogun, who is trained by R. Wootton, for the Manchester sportsman, Mr. E. Hulton, won five races last season, worth £4897 10s; while Craganour, who is the property of Mr. C. Bower Ismay, won five events last season, worth £8700, including the Middle Park Plate, in which he was escorted home by Shogun and Louvois. Rockflint, who is by Rock Sand from Trigger, won three races last year worth £3360. He is an American-bred colt, and is the property of Mr. H. E. Beddington.

JAPAN AND AMERICA.

CALIFORNIAN LEGISLATION.

RIGHT OF LEASEHOLD.

SACRAMENTO, May 3.

The State Senate adopted the Anti-Alien Bill by 35 votes to 2.

The measure seeks to limit those aliens who are unable to become United States citizens to the specific rights conferred upon them by the treaties entered into by the Republic.

An amendment was agreed to permitting Japanese to lease agricultural land for three years.

The State specifically reserves its sovereign right to enact any anti-alien land law it chooses in the future.

A resolution, moved by Senator Curtin, to agree with the wishes of the President in regard to the anti-Japanese legislation, was rejected by a large majority.

May 4.

The Assembly passed the Alien Land Bill by 75 votes to 2.

The measure is now awaiting signature.

Mr. W. J. Bryan, Secretary of State, is returning to Washington. He hopes that the bill will be referred to a referendum of the people of California.

APPEAL OF PEACE CONFERENCE.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.

The International Peace Conference yesterday appealed to the Californian Legislature to justly settle the question of the alien ownership of land, and not to turn a great friendly Power into an enemy.

SACRAMENTO, May 4.

Thirty-two societies on the Pacific Coast have issued an appeal to the people of California declaring that they are being made the victims of scheming politicians.

HINDUS AND CITIZENSHIP.

SPOKANE, May 4.

A United States District Judge has allowed a high-caste Hindu to be admitted to citizenship as a free white person.

The Hindu in question is Mozumdar, a Yogi philosopher, and he is the first Hindu to be so admitted.

The Judge held that Congress intended to confer the privilege of citizenship only on the Caucasian race, and he declared that as high-caste Hindus undoubtedly belonged to the Caucasian race, therefore they were admissible.

CHINA.

NORTH V. SOUTH.

SUN YAT SEN'S APPEAL TO BANKERS.

LONDON, May 3.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen has telegraphed to Europe an urgent appeal to the bankers connected with the projected loan to withhold funds from the Peking Government.

He accuses the Government of having been responsible for the murder of Sung Chiao Jen, ex-Minister for Agriculture and Forestry, and adds that any funds advanced will be used in waging war against the people, whereas the absence of funds would induce the Government to compromise.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

PEKING, May 3.

In the hope of checking the agitation in the south, the President, Yuan Shih Kai, is moving troops thither, and General Chauang Chun has been ordered to prepare to occupy Nanking and Hsutaosan with 12,000 men, preparatory to advancing upon Shanghai.

UNITED STATES' RECOGNITION.

WASHINGTON, May 2.

The United States has formally recognised the Chinese Republic.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

GUILTY WIFE'S CRIME.

BERLIN, May 3.

In September last Dr. Blume was shot dead, the result, it was thought at the time, of an accident during his examination of a revolver.

Subsequently his widow confessed that she shot him in a moment of exasperation on learning that he had obtained from her lover a written confession of guilty relationship.

The trial of the woman was opened at Posen yesterday, when it was stated that she had further confessed she had shot her husband after having failed to dissuade him from taking divorce proceedings.

FATAL RIFLE ACCIDENT.

A COUNTESS SHOT.

LONDON, May 4.

The body of Rose, Countess of Cottenham, was found in a wood in Oxfordshire on Friday, and an examination proved that she had been shot.

The deceased was an expert rifle shot, but it is supposed that while out shooting she slipped and her rifle went off, the bullet striking her, with fatal result.

At an inquest held yesterday a verdict of accidental death was recorded.

The late Countess was a daughter of the Marquis of Abergavenny, and was thus a sister of Lord Richard Nevill, Chamberlain to the Governor-General of the Commonwealth. She married Dr. John Blundell Leigh in 1887, and was divorced by him in 1899. Shortly afterwards she married the Earl of Cottenham.

AERIAL DEFENCE.

PROVIDING A FLYING CORPS.

LONDON, May 2.

Leading shipowners and commercial representatives in Liverpool have initiated a scheme to provide Liverpool with a flying corps for the nation.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

MADRID, May 3.

An infernal machine, containing 22 dynamite cartridges, was found last night on the doorstep of the residence of the Papal Nuncio.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, May 2.

The Government has accepted the offer of Sir William Lever to present Stafford House to the nation, to be used as a museum for London relics, and for the accommodation of distinguished visitors.

The Right Rev. J. A. Kempthorne, Bishop of Hull, has been appointed Bishop of Litchfield.

LABOUR.

UNREST IN SHIPYARDS.

AN OMINOUS POSITION.

LONDON, May 2.

The unrest among workers in shipyards is growing.

Members of the various unions of the federated districts have received circulars, asking them to decide whether they will accept the proposal of the masters to adjourn the request for increased wages for three months, or notify that they will strike unless the demands are conceded.

ADMIRALTY EMPLOYEES.

The "Daily Mail" reports that the Admiralty has decided to increase the pay of the Portsmouth dockyardmen, and also to increase the establishment.

NON-UNIONIST QUESTION.

Twenty thousand miners are idle in various parts of South Wales, as a protest against the employment of non-unionists.

Similar strikes, which have occurred elsewhere, resulted in the bulk of the non-unionists joining the union.

MINERS' INCREASED WAGES.

The Durham Conciliation Board has advanced the wages of miners 6¼ per cent., which is the highest advance since 1901.

BOY SCOUTS AND MILITARISM.

IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE.

LONDON, May 3.

Lieutenant-General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, on behalf of a deputation, made representations to the President of the Board of Education in favour of more cohesion between the schools and the boy scout movement.

Mr. J. A. Pease replied that he was anxious that no militarism should be associated with the elementary schools, and added: "A certain number of parents fear this, and I think that there is some justification for the feeling that the boy scouts' organisation is merely a military movement in order to secure compulsory service throughout the country."

MEXICAN TURMOIL.

REBEL OUTRAGES.

MEXICO CITY, May 3.

The revolutionaries under General Zapata blew up a train with dynamite in the State of Morelos, killing 120 people, including the whole of the military escort.

The rebels captured Matehuela, and blew up the greater part of the town, after massacring the garrison to the last man.

SCOTTISH HOME RULE.

DETAILS OF BILL.

LONDON, May 2.

The Home Rule Bill drafted by the Scottish Liberal members of the House of Commons provides for a single Chamber of 140 members representing the existing constituency, except the universities.

Representation in the Imperial Parliament will remain as at present, until devolution in England and Wales.

Similar powers are granted to those in the Irish Home Rule Bill, excluding the control of the Post Office and Customs.

THE FRIEDMANN CURE.

MONTREAL, May 2.

The medical authorities report that the Friedmann cure for tuberculosis is no better than other established curative methods.

A lively controversy is proceeding between Dr. Friedmann and Dr. Harding, head of the Royal Edward Institute.

THE DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT.

LONDON, May 2.

The strength of the Duchess of Connaught has been maintained, but her condition still causes anxiety.

CRIMINAL'S JOKE.

POSES AS PHILANTHROPIST.

"£2000 TO WAGGA HOSPITAL."

Some time ago the Chief Secretary's Department received a letter dated from a Bathurst hotel, in which the writer stated that he intended to give £2000 to the Wagga Hospital.

Inquiries made by the police show that the letter was written by a well-known criminal who was recently released from Bathurst gaol.

The police state that the "gift" of £2000 was part of an elaborate "leg pull," coupled possibly with criminal intentions on the part of the bogus donor to make money out of posing as a wealthy man and philanthropist.

"I have been greatly benefited by this noble institution," the letter to the Chief Secretary proceeded, "and I am disposed to render them some little assistance in return. Will you let me know what sum of money will be needed? The only stipulation I make is that my name shall not be mentioned. I have no wish to be advertised as a philanthropist."

After communicating with the Wagga Hospital, Mr. Flowers who is associated with the Premier in the administration of the Chief Secretary's Department told his correspondent that the institution could do very well with £1500.

Subsequently the "philanthropist" wrote to the Chief Secretary: "I have instructed my solicitor to give the Wagga Hospital authorities £2000, to be handed over by June 1 next."

The hospital authorities then asked the Chief Secretary if there was any truth in the story that £2000 was to be given through the department.

The Under-Secretary (Mr. Coghlan), got into touch with the Inspector-General of Police. Mr. Day has now informed Mr. Coghlan that the "millionaire philanthropist" is identical with a well-known criminal lately released from Bathurst gaol, after serving a sentence of two years for false pretences. The man was employed in Bathurst subsequent to his release, but the police do not know where he is at present.

"A BROKEN HEART."

STEPMOTHER STERNLY CENSURED.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

The adjourned inquiry concerning the sudden death on April 19 on the eve of her 17th birthday of Laura Alice Howard was continued by Mr. C. Walker, J.P., on Friday, at Ballarat.

Mr. Walker said that the evidence showed that the woman Howard, deceased's stepmother, had been very heartless and cruel, and that she had shown no quarter to the unfortunate girl. The woman had suggested that Bright's disease was the cause of death. If she had said that it was a broken heart she would have been much nearer the truth. The woman had posed as the girl's protector and friend. Heaven assist all other girls who had similar protectors. The girl had been absolutely driven to her grave, if the story of the girl's mates at work was to be believed; and he believed them. Her life seemed to have been "hell on earth."

He found that death was due to strychnine poison, but that there was no evidence to show by whom it was administered.

ROBBERY IN COMPANY.

HEAVY SENTENCES AT MELBOURNE.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

Harry Stone, Alfred Williams, James Dunlop, and Besie Dunlop were at the Court of General Sessions yesterday, convicted of robbery in company. Stone and James Dunlop were each sentenced to four years' imprisonment, Williams to two years, and Bessie Dunlop to 18 months.

KILLED BY NATIVES.

TWO GERMAN PLANTERS.

A SPEEDY REVENGE.

NUMBER OF NATIVES SHOT.

The steamer Germania, which arrived from the Marshall and Caroline islands yesterday, found native affairs quiet in those two groups. The same state of affairs does not appear to exist in German New Guinea, and while the steamer was at Rabaul news was received from Friedrich Wilhelmshafen to the effect that two German planters have been murdered by natives.

The two men were brothers named Webber, who, besides being planters, kept a small general store some considerable distance inland from Friedrich Wilhelmshafen. Their small stock of clothing and jewellery seems to have aroused envious feelings in the natives, who raided it, murdered the two brothers, and decamped with practically all the place contained.

When the news reached Friedrich Wilhelmshafen a police officer and a body of native police were despatched to the scene of the murder. From the accounts which reached the Germania this punitive party dealt with the murderers in a very prompt and severe manner. On coming up with the tribe suspected they found several natives wearing necklaces, ear-rings, and other trinkets which had presumably been stolen from the store of the murdered men.

Without any waste of time half a dozen natives were shot down by the police party. They then set to work and burned to the ground the huts of a number of natives suspected of having been implicated. Having thus avenged the murder and punished those concerned the punitive party returned to Friedrich Wilhelmshafen.

CRICKETERS FOR AMERICA.

DEPARTURE FROM SYDNEY TO-DAY.

TRUMPER NOT GOING.

At noon to-day Mr. Edgar R. Mayne's team of cricketers, who will tour America and the West Indies, sail by the Niagara for Vancouver.

Late last night Victor Trumper communicated his decision to Mr. Mayne, and regretted that business affairs prevented him from making the trip. G. S. Downs will therefore be given the twelfth position in the side.

At the invitation of the Governor of Fiji, Sir Ernest Bickham Sweet-Escott, who cabled Mr. Mayne, the team will play a match at Suva.

The latest communications from America state that arrangements there are complete, and that an enthusiastic welcome awaits the team.

The players are very optimistic, and much-travelled members of the side say they have never anticipated a trip with more confidence than the present one.

H. L. Collins was given a hearty send-off at the week-end by a number of friends, who entertained him at dinner and afterwards at the theatre. A. A. Mailey and S. H. Emery were entertained by Redfern club, and each was presented with a case of razors.

The South Australian members of the side—E. R. Mayne, J. N. Crawford, G. C. Campbell, and G. S. Downs—arrived in Sydney yesterday morning. The last-named is a member of the Adelaide club, and during the past few seasons has displayed considerable ability as a batsman. He is also a good wicket-keeper, and in that capacity he will understudy another South Australian in Campbell, who keeps wicket extremely well, particularly to Crawford's bowling.

The side will be composed of the following players:—

W. Bardsley (N.S.W.).
C. G. Macartney (N.S.W.).
A. Diamond (N.S.W.).
H. L. Collins (N.S.W.).
A. A. Mailey (N.S.W.).
S. H. Emery (N.S.W.).
P. S. Arnott (N.S.W.).
L. A. Cody (N.S.W.).
E. R. Mayne (South Australia).
J. N. Crawford (South Australia).
G. C. Campbell (South Australia).
G. S. Downs (South Australia).

EMERY TO REMAIN IN AMERICA.

Sidney H. Emery states that he will not return to Sydney, but will remain in America. He occupied the position of timekeeper at the Ultimo power-house.

ST. PAUL OF THE CROSS.

CELEBRATION OF THE FEAST.

ATTENDED BY THE STATE GOVERNOR.

The State Governor, Sir Gerald Strickland, Lady Edeline Strickland, and Miss Strickland, accompanied by Captain Talbot, A.D.C., yesterday attended the celebration of the Feast of St. Paul of the Cross at St. Brigid's Church, Marrickville.

Father Francis Klune welcomed his Excellency on his arrival, and the Holy Catholic Guild, the Hibernian Society, and the St. Vincent de Paul societies formed the guard of honour to receive him.

Father Ignatius, assisted by Fathers Callistus and Bernard, celebrated high mass. The music during the service was conducted by Miss M'Gauran. The preacher was the Very Rev. Father Kennedy, and he based his sermon on the Order of St. Paul of the Cross. The order, he said, was founded by Father Paul Francis Danel, who named it the "Order of the Congregation of the Most Holy Cross and Passion of Lord Jesus Christ's Church." Father Danel was born in 1694, at Ovada, a small town about 60 miles from Genoa. In 1727 he was ordained a priest at Rome, and afterwards retired to a mountain retreat in the Duchy of Tuscany. His work was to defeat the teachings of Voltaire and his supporters. Through St. Paul's instrumentality missionaries were sent throughout Europe. He died in 1775 at the age of 81 years, after a strenuous life in the cause of Christianity.

After high mass his Excellency was conducted over the retreat by Father Francis.

RECIPROCITY.

AGREEMENT WITH NEW ZEALAND.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The New Zealand Minister for Trade and Customs (Mr. F. M. B. Fisher) left this morning by express for Sydney, where he will join the steamer Niagara to-morrow, en route to Auckland.

Yesterday morning Mr. Fisher held a final conference with the Minister for Customs (Mr. Tudor) when details of the proposed reciprocal trade arrangements were agreed upon, and an arrangement was come to by which the scheme will be simultaneously introduced the same afternoon in both the Federal and New Zealand Parliaments, the same proceeding being followed as is observed in connection with the revision of the tariff.

As regards Canada, the negotiations have not progressed nearly so far; but Mr. Foster, the Dominion's representative, will remain in Australia for some time, and it is believed that a satisfactory basis of arrangement will yet be arrived at.

Prior to leaving for Sydney the New Zealand Minister expressed satisfaction at the success of his mission.

NEW ZEALAND SHEARERS.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Sunday.

The Shearers' Union is seeking a conference with the owners, with the object of completing an agreement as to wages conditions, and to replace the award expiring in September.

The owners are willing to confer, but are not ready yet. The union fears that if the agreement is not reached the time will be insufficient to secure the Court's award before the shearing season opens. The men thus would be forced to continue for an extra year under the present award, or refuse to work.

The men's chief demand is 22s 6d per 100 for hand shearers, and 20s for machine shearers. The union has cabled to the Australian Workers' Union for assistance, and also to ask that no Australian shearers come to New Zealand unless the demands are conceded.

The possibility thus arises that unless the owners concede the increased tariff asked no shearers will enter the sheds when the season opens.

GOLD ROBBERY.

A MINE HELD UP.

£3000 WORTH OF GOLD SECURED.

EARLY DAYS RECALLED.

PERTH, Sunday.

The most sensational gold robbery that has ever occurred in the State was perpetrated at the Bullfinch Proprietary mine, 25 miles from Southern Cross, during the early hours of Saturday morning, when two armed and masked men, after gagging and securing three of the mine employees, got away with 800oz of retorted gold, valued at £3000.

The gold was part of the yield obtained from the treatment of ore for the month of April. It was well known throughout the State that the company was cleaning up, and that the yield would not be announced till Monday. The robbers appear to have had intimate knowledge of everything that was being done at the mine, and this evidently enabled them to carry out their daring scheme.

Just before being surprised by the robbers, Watchman Albert Cale, who at one time had charge of the different State batteries, and a man named Cassey were locked in the smelting-room, engaged in smelting gold. At about 2.30 Cassey went outside to get a slate to mark down the weight of the fluxes before charging the furnace. When Cassey got back Cale opened the door, and as he did so both he and Cassey were bailed up by two armed and masked men, and gagegd and bound.

After Cale and Cassey had been secured by the robbers, Charles Shelton, another employee, arrived with a billy-can of tea for his mates. Shelton was completely surprised by the robbers, and showed fight when told to put up his hands. But he was promptly thrown and gagged and bound. The robbers now had a free hand, and, according to an official statement, they got away with 800oz of smelted gold. Cassey freed himself soon after the departure of the robbers, and gave the alarm, but the robbers had by this time got clean away.

In a press interview, Cole gave an interesting narrative of what occurred. He said:—"Peter Cassey, who has charge of the filter presses on one shift, and I were watching the amalgam from the tube mills being retorted. Cassey is about 19 years of age, and his father keeps an hotel at Magnet. We didn't know how much amalgam was being retorted. We were going to flux, and Cassey went out to get a slate on which to mark down the weight of the flux. This would be at about half-past 2 in the morning. We were then going to charge the furnace. When Cassey returned, he called to me to open the door. As I did this, two men followed him in, one having him covered with an automatic pistol, and the other covering me. While the one covered the other laid hold of Cassey, and tied his hands behind his back. I was reluctant to put up my hands, and said to the man who had me covered, 'What's the joke?' He replied, 'This is no joke.' Cassey said, 'Don't you see we are gonners? Don't be a fool, put up your hands.' I then put them up. The men were wearing black masks, and had their clothes covered with bagging. After they had tied our hands, Charley Sheldon came with a billy can of tea. When they called on him to put up his hands, he showed fight, but one of them threw him to the floor, while the other kept me covered with the automatic pistol. When they had Sheldon tied, they put bags over the heads of the three of us. As soon as we were secured, we heard them smashing some of the electric globes. This was done to dim the light, as the inside of the smelting-room can be seen from all parts of the plant. Sheldon, like Cassey, is a filter-press hand.

"After the lights had been dimmed we heard the four amalgam trays being thrown from the retort. We heard the mould being dumped on the floor, and also being cooled by having water thrown on it. As soon as the water had been thrown on the hot gold one of the robbers fired a shot. Cassey, who has peculiar wrists, managed to free himself almost as soon as the robbers left the room. Then he started to release Sheldon, but the latter said, 'Don't bother with Cole or me; raise the alarm.'

"Cassey then ran and told the manager of the robbery. Within 10 minutes of the shot being fired Mr. Morgan, the manager, was present, and I was released. Cassey was almost out of one door as soon as the thieves got out of the other. When we were freed we found that the retorted gold had all been taken, and that the slimes were intact. As I did not see the amalgam going into the furnace I do not know how much gold there would be. I have worked on the mine for eight months, and am usually employed as mill man. A little time ago I injured my hand, and was only acting as watchman until it got better. I had worked my shift before going on as watcher. I could not give anything like an accurate description of the two men, although they seemed to know their way about the plant."

The police were on the scene at daylight, and Constable Frazer with a blacktracker endeavoured to pick up the tracks of the robbers, while Sergeant Pilmer also made investigations. Detectives were despatchd from Kalgoorlie by the first train to assist the local police, and Sergeant Detman with a finger-print expert left Perth yesterday to take charge of the investigations.

The camp occupied by Wallace Munro and John Ireland, situated within 50 yards of the smelting room, was searched by the police on Saturday. A telegram from Bullfinch states that it is expected some arrests will soon be made.

EXCITING CHASES.

INCIDENT OF THE PROCESSION.

The vast crowd of people at the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon to witness the cadets' procession were treated to a sensational chase by two detectives and a suspected man.

The detectives were on the watch for pickpockets, as it was known that several light-fingered gentry from Melbourne had arrived in Sydney. They observed a young man, and wished to question him. When they approached him he made off across George-street and into Park-street. Senior-detective Campbell and Detective Soutar followed, and caught him. A struggle ensued, and several persons were slightly hurt, owing to the limited arena in which the scuffle occurred. Eventually the man was overpowered, and was taken to the Central Police Station, where he was charged with being a suspected person. During the struggle the top of the little finger of Detective Campbell's right hand was almost torn off.

A LONG RUN.

The police had another chase on Saturday night through the Domain into Macquarie-street, and down Bent-street as far as the Lands Office. About 10.30 Constables M'Mahon and Nalley saw a man acting, as they believed, in a suspicous manner at the kiosk. They went to investigate, whereupon the man bolted through the Domain at top speed. Constable Nalley set off in pursuit. The chase was continued along the main path leading to Macquarie-street. Nalley, finding that the man was gaining on him, drew his revolver, fired a shot in the air, and called out to the man, "Stop, or I'll shoot you." The man, however, took no notice, and continued running. A number of people were about at the time, but they did not interfere. In fact, they hardly realised the nature of what was going on. When Macquarie-street was reached, Nalley again called out that he would shoot, and also urged people to stop the man. The chase was continued down Bent-street, until the man ran into the arms of the constable on duty near the Lands office, and was arrested.

COCKATOO DOCK.

DEFENCE DEPARTMENT MOVING.

There was another mass meeting of the Boilermakers' Union on Saturday at the Trades Hall, but no settlement of the dispute between that union and the Shipwrights' Union was arrived at.

It was announced that a communication had been received from the Defence Department, but the nature of it was not made public.

The Shipwrights' Union will meet to-night to consider the question of a conference with representatives of the Boilermakers' Union. Why they did not decide this question earlier is a matter of some concern to the boilermakers.

Mr. A. H. Hampton, secretary of the Boilermakers' Union, commented on the statement made by Mr. A. B. Dawson, president of the Amalgamated Engineers' Society, who had complained that his society had not been informed officially of the facts of the dispute. "I am sorry it is necessary," he said, "to again deny this. The Amalgamated Engineers got exactly the same information as the other trades, and I am not responsible for their absence from the Iron Trades Federation. Surely Mr. Dawson must know that in these strenuous times a secretary's duties are such that the usual formalities have very often to be dispensed with. I most certainly want everybody concerned to know that my union holds no brief for either the Amalgamated, or the Australasian Engineers."

DOMINION NAVIES.

ADMIRALTY CRITICISED.

BY ADMIRAL HENDERSON.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

Speaking at a meeting in the Town Hall on Saturday evening, the Prime Minister (Mr. Fisher) stated that he had received the following letter from Admiral Sir Reginald Henderson, dated Kent, March 27:—

"I hope that all is going well with the Royal Australian Navy. I am sorry about Canada. I think the Admiralty made a mistake in its advice on the proposition, which has only helped to create further political disunion in the matter.

If the Admiralty had taken a more magnanimous attitude and had advised Canada to follow Australia's lead, with the promise of all possible support in the creation of a navy of their own, it would probably have had an opposite effect, and brought the parties together ready to make sacrifices for a far higher policy and ideal; one certainly in the long run which would be more advantageous to Canada and also to the whole Empire.

"It seems to me an attempt to sacrifice high principles for apparently a more immediate if only temporary advantage, and all for the sake of a few million dollars, which England herself could well have provided if really necessary."

STATE FINANCE.

MR. CANN AT BATHURST.

A POLICY OF "GO SLOW."

BATHURST, Sunday.

Mr. Cann (Treasurer and Minister for Railways) was entertained at dinner in the Masonic Hall last night. Several of the grievances of the railway men were brought before the Minister, who replied with figures, showing that financial developments prevented their settlement.

Responding to the toast of his health, Mr. Cann said that no Ministry had ever accomplished so much with such a small majority as the present Government. (Hear, hear.) Referring to the agitation in the railway service for extended leave of absence, Mr. Cann said that if the railway men were in his position they would look at the matter from the same business point of view as he did. "You must take into consideration how much you can do in reference to your finances," he added. "The proposition if carried out would cost £446,000 per year. When you remember that in my statement made in October last the margin of revenue from the railway department, including trams, over expenditure, was barely £49,000, you will readily understand how very cautious indeed one has to be before he grants too many concessions. Further, when you take into consideration that the wage increases and other privileges granted in the service during the ten months of the present financial year have amounted to £447,000 already, you will again readily understand that I have to be slow in granting this or that.

On the subject of the appeals board, Mr. Cann said that he had a measure ready during last session, and had it not been for the difference of opinion amongst the railway workers themselves, the measure would have been put before Parliament, and probably passed. Personally, I would like to see that appeal boards made such a tribunal as would relieve the Minister and the Railway Department from many of the grievances that cannot now be remedied. One of the bans of Ministerial office is that you are constantly being importuned about individual cases. If we have a neutral chairman and one representative from each side on the appeal board you may rely upon a fair deal.

Voices: That is what we want.

Mr. Cann: Excuse me, that is not what you want. What you have asked for is sectional representation, which is a different thing altogether. "You have seen by the press," said Mr. Cann, "that I am supposed to have said that I am going in for an increase in fares and freights, and so forth. But I am not. I cannot reduce the railway fares and freights. It is a matter for the Commissioners. During the past 10 or 12 years hours have been reduced, and wages increased, and fares and freights reduced. There is a limit to that kind of thing. The railways must be run on business lines. The improvement in the conditions and wages in the railway service since the beginning of this year has already meant an increased expenditure of £447,000. The award given the other day in the case of the Darling Harbour railway men means an increase of £60,000 a year. Money does not rain down into the Treasury. I have had to shave pretty closely to keep things going during the last ten months."

"You hear people talking about selling our service and letting private enterprise have a show, and asserting that our railways would be run better by private enterprise," said Mr. Cann, "I beg to differ and undertake to say that you cannot get a private company anywhere in the world that can show the results we are getting from this service. While the railways are under Government control there are better chances of having grievances redressed. But if we are going to lay it down that trades unionism becomes beneficial by collective bargaining, I call upon trade unionists to observe the results of collective bargaining. Unfortunately we do not always get that. While in the district I represent we were being called upon to resume a private tramway because of an industrial dispute we had an industrial dispute in our own service. We have passed the age when we resorted to the savage conditions of strike and force in attempts to get justice. Trades unionism is still efficient in working out the destiny and improving the conditions of those who are engaged in industrial disputes.

Mr. E. S. Carr said that the only way the workers could attain their ideals and get a full proportion of the benefits resulting from their labours was by individual effort or by co-operative movements.

FOOTBALL DISTURBANCE.

TROUBLE OVER THREE GIRLS.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Jealousy over three girls and exuberance of spirits on the part of barrackers were responsible for a lively scene after the junior football match at Yarraville yesterday.

A pea-rifle was used, and a youth was shot.

The match was between Montague and Yarraville teams. The visitors came to the ground, and were accompanied by three girls. During the match three Yarraville youths paid great attention to the girls, and when the time came for them to return home in the van their new admirers objected. The outcome was a disturbance. The three Yarraville youths were forced to retire by a Montague player firing a bullet from a pea-rifle over their heads.

As the visiting team was driving off road metal was thrown by the Yarraville supporters, but the crowd which followed the van was kept a good distance in the rear by someone in the van with a pea-rifle, several shots being fired.

One ofthe bullets struck a youth named Arthur Charles in the fleshy part of the left thigh. He was taken to the Melbourne Hospital.

SOUTH COAST MINERS.

MEN RESUME WORK TO-DAY.

All the mines on the South Coast are now in readiness for a resumption of work, and the lodge secretaries announce that the majority of the miners will start to-day. A few of the miners are said to be still absent from the district, and these have been allowed seven days in which to present themselves at their different collieries.

For a time some anxiety was felt as to whether the wheelers would refuse to start without their demand for an eight-hour day, bank to bank, being granted. It is not likely, however, that such a position will arise, as the miners have made it plain that they would do the wheeling themselves, and the boys, with no organisation of their own, apparently recognising the futility of making a combined protest, have abandoned the idea.

The proceedings at several of the lodge meetings last week were said to have been particularly lively. Mr. Bowling came in for some very warm criticism, but no reliable information could be obtained as to whether any motions of censure were passed. It is known, however, that Mr. Bowling is desirous of exchanging positions with the president, Mr. Willis, and that he will meet with a good deal of opposition at the next delegate board meeting.

THE YOUNG GUARD.

REVIEWED BY LORD DENMAN.

TWENTY THOUSAND CADETS.

A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE.

VAST CONCOURSE IN THE STREETS.

"Magnificent!"
"A glorious spectacle!"
"An example to the Empire!"

These and similar expressions of approval and delight were voiced by representative citizens during the march of the Young Brigade through the streets of Sydney on Saturday.

But somehow the most glowing eulogy falls short of the mark. The rarest appreciation of the whole function fails to convey an adequate impression of what it was, what it means, and what it pretends. It was a unique and epochal event, fraught with potent significance for the future of Australia and the Empire.

Sydney has never seen anything like it. Mere figures convey but a faint idea of the procession. In all over 20,000 trainees and militia participated. It took two and a quarter hours to pass the Town Hall. The cavalcade was about six miles long. Probably 150,000 people assembled to cheer the young soldiers on their way. Over 300 police and 2000 militia were requisitioned to line the streets, and these proved totally inadequate to cope with the huge concourse. But this bare iteration of the facts and figures gives no impression of the seething mass of struggling humanity that compressed itself into George-street in the vicinity of the Town Hall. Neither does it suggest the inspiration, the uplift, and the pride of race which even the most unimaginative Australian present must have felt as file on file, company on company, and battalion on battalion, the Young Brigade swept past.

The city was gay with flags and bunting. The strains of martial music filled the air. All Sydney and his wife turned out to view the pageant, for hardly a family in the metropolis but had not some lad near and dear to them, filling an honoured place in the ranks on this great day. The representative of his Majesty the King travelled over a 1000 miles to review this, the most important section of Australia's embryonic army. And one might be pardoned for thinking that Lord Denman has witnessed few, if any, more inspiring scenes than that spread out before him on Saturday afternoon—a vast sea of faces as far as the eye could reach, windows, balconies, roofs, railings, verandahs, and vehicles covered to the last available inch with sightseers; flags fluttering everywhere; and, right in the centre, almost swallowed up by the encroaching multitude, a thin, almost never-ending, line of khaki-clad young Australians. It was an inspiration to loyalty and patriotism.

There were times during the procession when the crowd seemed to thrill with emotion. One of these was when Newington College Company, the State champions first swung into view, proudly bearing Lady Dudley's banners in token of their prowess. From the band came the inspiring strains of "Advance Australia Fair," and the crowd cheered its tribute. It made the blood run faster in every vein. Grey-headed veterans stood with tears in their eyes. Many a man felt an unaccustomed lump in his throat.

Another time was at the advent of the 600 naval cadets. Making a pleasing contrast to the prevailing khaki, and with the jaunty air they inherited from seafaring forbears—or copied from the British Jack Tars—they moved along briskly, while the massed bands gave forth "Rule Britannia." Spontaneous cheers arose on every hand. It was a manifestation of the crimson thread of kinship. Commander Brownlow's face exuded proud approval of his noble six hundred, and the Admiral exclaimed, "The naval spirit is here. The fire of the Vikings is with them still."

Anon the stirring strains of the bagpipes electrified the crowd. Scotsmen have heard again and again the cheap witticism of the aesthetic at the expense of their national music, but no apology is needed for the pipes that led the Gordons at Darghai, and inspired the victorious Highlanders at Lucknow and Waterloo. So when the kilties marched past on Saturday the cheers were quite as enthusiastic as those which heralded the approach of the Young Guard. Maybe there was a predominating proportion of Australian Scotsmen in the crowd. Perhaps it was that the advent of the compulsorily-trained militia has sounded the death-knell of the old volunteers. But whatever the cause, a special demonstration of favour greeted Colonel Campbell's contingent, as with swinging sporrans and fluttering kilts the Scottish Rifles played their part in the day's celebration.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

But the big event of the day was the advent of the Governor-General. There can be little doubt after Saturday's demonstration that what is known as "the eviction," finds but little approval among the citizens of Sydney. And it was partly to vindicate the honour of their city and prove anew their loyalty to the King and his representative that such a tremendous concourse assembled at the saluting base to welcome him.

There have been huge congregations of citizens on previous occasions, notably at the time of the Commonwealth celebrations, and the American Fleet visit, and the departure of the contingent for South Africa; but never has such a crowd been compressed into so restricted an area. As to the numbers, only an approximate estimate can be given, but good judges assume that at least 100,000 people were massed in George-street, between Bathurst-street and the Queen Victoria Markets. The files of militia and posse of police were as impotent to stem that human tide as Canute was to halt the waves of the ocean. A thin lane of open space was early cleared by the militia, but when the trams were blocked at Hunter-street each succeeding car emptied its overflowing human freight in the heart of the city, and tributary streams from all sides began to concentrate on the Town Hall. Soon the area was absolutely congested, the people being packed like sardines in a tin. Then, as the multitude continued to arrive the open space gradually narrowed. The police and militia were brushed aside, the crowd encroached on the space reserved for the Governor-General: it overwhelmed the massed bands, and soon the whole block was one vast surging sea of struggling humanity. Women screamed and fainted, children cried, and in sheer disgust and impotence the police ceased to struggle.

A GOOD-HUMOURED CROWD.

At one stage all the elements of disaster were present. With a view to the final march of the militia, these latter had their bayonets fixed, and in the surging crowd rifles and bayonets moved in all directions. Scores of women fainted, the mob surged to and fro, like waves of the sea. All control and direction were lost entirely. Panic and disaster were only averted by the proverbial good humour of the Australian crowd. Some of the young men started singing the rag-time "Everybody's Doing It," and the crowd laughed and sang in sympathy, until the arrival of his Excellency, the Governor-General and staff created a diversion.

Lord Denman's appearance was the signal for prolonged cheering. The massed bands gave forth the National Anthem. Every head was bared. It was the city's tribute to the King's representative.

THE ASSEMBLY.

Though at the Town Hall was focussed the chief interest in the day's events, the scene in the Domain was quite the most picturesque and pleasing. A fine day was the first essential for a successful function, and this was vouchsafed the cadets, for though some spits of rain did fall shortly after midday, the sky cleared, and fine weather graced the march-past.

Shortly after midday the khaki companies began to file into the Domain to take up their stations. By 3 o'clock the green sward was dotted with khaki squares, mounted officer galloped here and there, cadet bands played martial music, and thousands of citizens assembled to witness the first phase of the day's march. The inner Domain presented a veritable picture. Government House, stately, but deserted, stood out in fine relief against the harbour background; the warship in the cove adding to the impressiveness of the scene. On the lawn were massed the trainees, a red flag denoting the tenth brigade, a white flag the fifth brigade, and a blue flag the naval cadets. To one side in honoured isolation stood A company, 26th battalion—better known as Newington College—the State champions who were to have the glory of leading the van. In the outer Domain were assembled the 6th, 7th, 5th, and 9th brigades, but as they had not to move off till those in Government House grounds had departed, they were allowed to stand at ease, and sit down for an hour. The various bridage majors attended to the command of their brigades, and in the inner Domain the assembly and junction of the units were supervised by Captain Whyte and Lieutenant Hayne. In the outer Domain this service was performed by Captain W. J. Smith and Lieutenant Conway. The whole arrangements were under the control of the District Commandant, Colonel E. T. Wallack, C.B., whose staff was composed of Lieutenant-Colonel A. P. Luscombe, A.A.G., Major F. J. Darvall, D.A.Q., M.G., and Captain W. E. H. Cass, with Lieutenant D. C. Price, orderly officer.

THE STATE.

The exact numbers on parade will be available to-day. The approximate parade state shows that over 20,000, of all ranks participated, made up as follows:—

THE BANDS

A feature which added considerably to the attractiveness of the procession, which kept the lads up to concert pitch throughout, and which passed the time pleasantly for the thousands who lined the streets, was the presence of the militia bands at intervals along the route. At the Town Hall saluting base, under the Brigade Bandmaster, Captain Bentley, were massed the Police Band and the bands of the Royal Australian Artillery, 7th Light Horse, 24th Infantry, 25th Infantry, and 31st Infantry. Without making invidious distinctions, the specially good work of the Police Band might be mentioned. Other bands on the line of march were the 18th Infantry, at Martin-place; 21st Infantry, Market-street; 29th Infantry, Bent-street and Macquarie-street; and 33rd Infantry, Hunter-street.

The work of the Army Medical Corps was chiefly confined to looking after the unusually large number of women who fainted in the crush near the Town Hall. Ambulance detachments were stationed in the Inner Domain, Outer Domain, Bligh-street, Hunter-street, King-street, Druitt-street, and Belmore Park.

AT THE SALUTING BASE.

The unfurling of the flags in the enclosure was the signal for a burst of cheering. At 3.55 p.m. the first notes were heard of the band heralding the advance of the cadets, and when the first section, the naval cadets, appeared in sight the enthusiasm knew no bounds. Cheer after cheer burst forth from the assembled multitudes. The commanding officer and his Excellency exchanged salutes, and the boys marched proudly forward, the cynosure of all admiring eyes.

The adjacent hotels were packed to the very roofs. Even the roof of Queen Victoria Markets was called upon to bear its quota. The verandahs over George-street appeared to be dangerously crowded. Even the iron fence round the Town Hall bore 20 or 30 enthusiasts, who did not appear to mind their precarious foothold.

Far up in the sky the crowd saw what appeared to be an airship, and it was observed with interest until it got out of sight to the eastward. Possibly it was a huge kite, but there were many who declared it to be an aeroplane. If so the aviator had an opportunity of securing a bird's-eye view of a unique demonstration.

ON THE DAIS.

Those who occupied seats on the dais included the Admiral and Lady King-Hall, accompanied by Flag-captain Drummond and Flag-lieutenant Thompson, Sir William and Lady Cullen, the Lord Mayor, Alderman A. A. Cocks, Commandant and Miss Brownlow, Rabbi Cohen, Colonel Fiaschi, Colonel Roth, Major Wilkinson, Colonel Rose, V.D., Captain Lynch, Senator Gardiner, ex-Senator Walker, Mr. Carmichael, Aldermen G. T. Clarke, English, and Griffin, Mr. W. G. Layton (deputy town clerk), Mr. C. T. Burfitt (Australian Historical Society), Rev. C. J. Prescott, and Messrs. Riley, West, and Catts.

With his Excellency at the saluting base was the Inspector-General of the Commonwealth Military Forces, Major-General Kirkpatrick, with Colonel Paterson (staff officer). Lord Denman was attended by Major Quilter, Captain Nutting, and Sir Walter Barttelot.

THE OLD GUARD.

On the dais in front of the Town Hall were congregated a number of veterans, in charge of Captain Head, of the Navy and Army Veterans' Association. They were particularly enthusiastic in their welcome to the young brigade.

APPRECIATIONS.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

"SYDNEY SHOULD BE PROUD."

After leaving the Quay Lord Denman, who was greatly pleased with the welcome accorded him, penned a letter to the Lord Mayor as the vessel was steaming down the stream, and handed it to the pilot for delivery. The letter was as follows:—

P. and O. S.N. Co.'s S.S. Malwa, Saturday, May 3, 6 p.m.

"My dear Lord Mayor,—

"I write a hurried line to thank you, and, through you, the citizens of Sydney, for the very cordial welcome extended to me on my arrival this morning and on my way to the Town Hall this afternoon. I came here for the purpose of reviewing the Senior Cadets of Sydney, and I am very glad to have been present at this important parade. The marching and general turn out of the troops were excellent. A special word of commendation is due to the 31st St. George's Rifles for keeping the route opposite the Town Hall.

"Sydney should be proud indeed of her citizen forces and her cadets. Again thanking you and the people of Sydney for the kindly greeting I have received to-day on all sides,

"Believe me,
"Yours sincerely,
"DENMAN."

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR'S TRIBUTE.

"I have the highest opinion of the usefulness of compulsory training," said Sir William Cullen on Saturday. "It develops the boys physically, besides teaching them self-control and discipline and patriotism. It is a movement with which every family in the State is concerned. Every one of us has a boy or a near relative marching by to-day."

"THE VIKING SPIRIT."

"I am delighted," said the Admiral, Sir George King-Hall, just after the naval cadets had marched past. "There is plenty of vim and 'go' in them. It is a great thing for Australia. It teaches the boys self-control. I am glad to see the naval spirit evoked. Only one touch and it springs to life. The fire of the Vikings is in them still."

THE PREMIER PLEASED.

"It is splendid; a magnificent sight," said Mr. M'Gowen. "There are the young men taught the lesson of discipline and to protect themselves and their country. Beyond all they are taught to be perfectly erect and look the world fair in the face. In this, as in other things, Australia has led the way, and it will be followed by other and older countries. It will kill larrikinism in Australia."

TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENTS.

"NO SERIOUS TROUBLE."

The Inspector-General of Police, Mr. E. C. Day, was, on the whole, well pleased with the manner in which Saturday's great procession passed off. The mounted police were, as usual, a feature of the procession. The Inspector-General was pleased both as a police officer and also as a parent with sons in the march. In an interview after the procession he said:—"I have sons of my own undergoing compulsory training, and from my personal experience I am sure it is one of the finest things that has ever happened for the boys. I have carefully watched the effect of the training on the lads, and it has certainly equipped them with a discipline that I myself could never have inculcated, as their father, much as I might have tried."

When asked about the crowd, Mr. Day said:—"No serious trouble was reported. The trouble at the Town Hall, where the crowd encroached on the area reserved for the Governor-General and the military officers and staff, and also interfered with the marching order of the trainees, was only to be expected under the circumstances. It was not the fault of those who encroached on the marching area, but of those at the back, who crushed forward. It was a tremendous crowd—the largest I have seen in Sydney—and it was contained in such a confined space that, under the circumstances, the best possible means was taken of handling it. There was no serious trouble."

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE FUTURE.

Superintendent Edward, who had charge of the traffic arrangements, said that every available man had been utilised to marshal the crowds and keep the streets clear during the march. Over 300 men were on duty, and everything was carried out excellently, except at the Town Hall.

"Everyone wanted to see the Governor-General," added Mr. Edward, "and to be at the saluting base. When trams stopped, tens of thousands of people congregated there, and by sheer weight of numbers forced the police and militia back.

HARD-WORKED MILITIA.

A special word of praise is due to the police and militia who tried to keep the enormous crowd at the Town Hall within bounds. The militia here were all youths of 19 and 20, who had only recently been drafted into the military forces. It was a terribly strenuous time for them, and dangerous, too, for when the lancers and troopers tried to widen the lane for the cadets to pass, they found these young recruits in the front of the crowd. It would have been wiser had those in charge posted the artillery, engineers, and Highlanders here, leaving the trainees the less exacting work in Macquarie-street.

The police arrangements were in the hands of Superintendent Sherwood, Superintendent Edward, Superintendent Goulder, assisted by Inspector Clarke, with the mounted troopers. It was the tremendous energy of Superintendent Goulder, aided by the lancers and troopers, that made a passage through the crowd at the Town Hall, when it looked certain that the whole procession would be blocked.

MR. HUGHES'S SPEECH.

REPLY BY MR. WADE.

Yesterday Mr. C. G. Wade supplied the following statement in reply to the Federal Attorney-General's recent speeches:—

"Mr. Hughes, after many contradictory statements, now asserts that it is not proposed to fix the retail prices of goods. Only a short time ago he announced definitely, when addressing a large body of consumers, that until the Federal Parliament was able to regulate and control prices the mere ability to regulate wages was of very little value. 'Bring down prices, profits, and rents,' said he, 'and everything else will come down with them.' This was the bait held out to the workers, who complained that any increase in their wages was swallowed up by the increased cost of household commodities.

"But, allowing Mr. Hughes to change his mind as often as he likes, how does this last pronouncement suit his supporters who protest against the high cost of living? He explained at Muswellbrook that the referendum would only be used to fix the price of monopolies. But which of the monopolies that he now inveighs against are charging unfair prices? It can't be the coal vend, because Mr. Hughes and a great body of Labour supporters, Federal and State, have always insisted that the coal vend was a beneficial organisation, whereby the wages of the workers were kept at a high standard. He could not have had the tobacco trust in his mind, because the report of the Royal Commission was that they had failed to discover any evidence that that trust charged unfair prices to their purchasers. It could scarcely be the Colonial Sugar Company, because the Royal Commission, only a few months ago, reported that the business was worked on lines of efficiency and economy, so much so that the Federal Government could not possibly expect to produce a similar article at the same price. In view of such facts, it is rather disconcerting to those sanguine followers of Mr. Hughes to hear he is going to confine his operations to monopolies that charge unreasonable prices.

"But even assuming there were monopolies whose prices must be regulated, what use will it be to the Labour voter who expects to get clothing, food, and rent cheaper if the referendum is carried? Once a commodity has left the hands of the monopoly that creates or manufactures it it passes, through various channels, finally to the retailer, who sells it to the consumer. The complaint nowadays is that the retailer charges too much. The demand of the worker is that the retail goods shall be sold to him at a cheaper rate. Mr. Hughes, when this campaign first began, promised to regulate all prices. But now, through fear of offending the shopkeepers and losing votes, he says he will not touch the retail prices. This news will not be welcome in Labour circles. The man who is hoping for a cheap breakfast table, cheaper clothing, and cheaper house, will learn there is nothing in the referendum and Mr. Hughes's policy that will bring him relief.

"Mr. Hughes from his speech is still reluctant to admit that the anti-trust machinery is effective in America. He quotes the instance of the Standard Oil Trust distributing enormous dividends at a date subsequent to the decree of the Supreme Court smashing the trust. His argument is that the trust has been able to avoid the law and still extract exorbitant profits from the public. Everybody but Mr. Hughes knows the real explanation. It is as follows:—The Standard Oil Trust consisted of some 30 odd companies, all banded together, and before the Supreme Court got to work there is no doubt they exercised a tyrannous power over the public. Huge profits were amassed, and only a portion of them were distributed, the balance being accumulated to the credit of the various sections of the trust. There is no gainsaying the fact that the Supreme Court found they carried on a trust, and ordered the trust to be dissolved. There is no doubt that the order was complied with. But when the trust was broken up all the component companies then proceeded to distribute those large accumulated profits which had been obtained whilst the trust was in operation. But Mr. Hughes cannot produce any evidence of huge profits being amassed as a result of operations since the trust was dissolved.

"Mr. Hughes further ridicules the idea of the beef trust being broken up, and endeavours to intimidate Australians by saying that the beef trust is now in Brisbane. I say again everybody but Mr. Hughes, apparently, knows the true position. An organisation—which, although not proved, we will assume is an agent of the beef trust—has taken up land and erected a large plant on the Brisbane River for the purpose of engaging in the meat export trade. Queenslanders have been sending large quantities of meat to foreign purchasers. Presumably the beef trust desires to become one of the foreign purchasers. If all the purchasers were absorbed by the beef trust, then they might dictate terms to the Queensland exporter, but in order to absorb those purchasers it will be necessary to proceed to England and the Continent and get hold of them there. No Anti-trust Act, no referendum, and no other machinery in Australia can stop that operation.

"This procedure is the very converse of the beef trust's operations in America. There they worked inside the boundaries of the United States; they captured the railway lines, and they controlled every channel of traffic, and forced the local purchaser to deal with them on their own terms. There is no analogy between the two cases.

"Mr. Hughes laments the fact that the High Court decided that the coal vend was not to the detriment of the public. This again emphasises the fact that the Federal Government did not make use of the 1910 Act. Under the 1910 Act it is a penal offence to combine in restraint of trade. There is no need for the Crown to go into the question of detriment to the public, and had that latter Act been used there would have been no need for Mr. Hughes's present lamentation. At the same time, it might be added, if he had made use of those drastic provisions his catch-cry that more power is wanted could never have seen the light. Everybody but Mr. Hughes, apparently, knows that the substantive offences created by the 1910 Act are much easier to prove, and carry much heavier penalties, than those of the 1906 statute, which, for reasons that nobody but Mr. Hughes apparently knows, were adopted by the Government.

LABOUR POLICY.

GOVERNMENT MANIFESTO.

EFFECTIVE PROTECTION.

TARIFF TO BE AMENDED.

A MAJORITY DECISION.

The Prime Minister has issued the following manifesto of the Labour party, addressed to the Australian people:—

"Fellow Electors,—

"On the 31st May you will be called upon to elect a new Parliament, and to vote upon six proposals to amend the Constitution. There are but two parties before the country, and these the same as in 1910.

"You are again asked to choose between the Labour party and the Fusion party. In view of the respective records of the two parties, the issue—notwithstanding the most desperate efforts to mislead the electors by flagrant misrepresentation, by distortion, by suppression of the truth—is clear, simple, and hardly in doubt. The facts of the country's prosperity, its amazing strides in trade, manufacture, banking assets and deposits, the savings of the people, and the increase of population, both oversea and native born, are before the people, and cannot be explained away. They furnish the most complete and crushing refutation of all those dire prophecies of evil with which the Fusion leaders and the Fusion press attempted to alarm the people at the last election, and which they are again repeating.

LABOUR PARTY'S RECORD.

"The Labour party has been in office three years. It has been a party of action. Its record is before the people. We have not space to deal with that record in detail, but may fairly remind the electors of two points, both of first importance.

"One: The fact—rare, if not unique, in this country—that every promise made to the electors in the 1910 manifesto has been faithfully performed. Where the Constitution permitted, legislative effect has been given to our policy. What we promised that we have performed.

"The other: That we have not only put our policy on the Statute Book, and energetically administered it, but that its effects have been most salutary.

FUSION'S TRIBUTE.

"The finest tribute to the value of our policy is the attitude of the Fusion, which, after denouncing and abusing the Labour party and all its works, dare not venture to say it will repeal one Act of the 83 which we have passed. This is surely the best testimony the electors can have of the value of the Labour party's work, and conclusive proof of the hollowness of the Fusion's denunciation and abuse of the Labour party and its platform.

RECORD OF THE FUSION.

"On the other hand, the electors, in spite of their proverbially short memories, have not forgotten the barren record of the Fusion, or the sinister circumstances under which the party came into existence. The fact that no less than 15 members of the Fusion lost their seats in the House of Representatives, while of the Fusion Senate candidates every one was put to the sword, shows that electors know how to distinguish the true from the false, and to punish those who are recreant to their solemn pledges.

POLICY FOR NEXT PARLIAMENT.

"Having briefly referred to our past record, we turn now to our policy for the next Parliament, and set forth what the Labour party proposes to do; and not less important—in view of the veritable cataract of misrepresentation which now pours out from Fusion press and platform as to what will happen if Labour again secures a majority—some of the things it will not do.

"First, let us state what, in our opinion, are the main issues before the people, and to what extent amendment of the Constitution is necessary in order that these may be dealt with.

THREE GREAT QUESTIONS.

"The three great questions that force themselves upon the attention of the people of all civilised nations to-day are—(1) Industrial unrest; (2) the operations of trusts and combines; and (3) increased cost of living. These three things go down to bedrock. They touch and condition the lives of 95 per cent. of the people. In every country they exist, and exist alongside each other.

"That they are here in Australia we know perfectly well, and any party which seeks to govern the country must not only recognise their existence, but put forward a policy to cope with them. And as these great factors have their causes deep down in the very roots of modern industrialism no policy which does not deal with basic causes as well as their effect can help the people.

THE FUSION POLICY.

"The Fusion party does not even attempt to put forward such a policy so far as it deals with industrial unrest and high cost of living. It declares them to be purely local phenomena confined to Australia. It lays the responsibility for their existence at the door of the Labour party. As for trusts and combines, it now declares the existing law to be amply sufficient. And the Fusion remedy for all these things in common with every other ill from which civilised man suffers is to put the Fusion party into office.

POWER OF THE TRUSTS.

"Now, what are the facts relating to industrial unrest, the high cost of living, and the operation and power of trusts and combines?

"When we were before the electors in 1910 we pointed out the increasing powers of what are known as trusts and combines. During the last three years many convincing proofs have been given as to the influence of these great organisations of capital, and of the world-wide scope of their operations.

"Although in Australia these combinations have not, perhaps, reached the stage of development that they have in other countries—notably, in the United States—their existence and power are manifested in almost every part of the Commonwealth. That state of things in which individual traders and manufacturers competed against one another, and the consumer obtained the goods at the lowest price compatible with a fair and reasonable profit, has completely disappeared in many if not in most lines. There is, of course, keen competition amongst retailers, but the prices at which retailers sell to the public are naturally governed by the prices at which they can buy of the wholesale merchants. And in most cases wholesale prices are fixed by arrangement, either by these merchants or by the greater organisations who really control the output and distribution of the goods.

PROFITS AND HIGH PRICES.

"It therefore follows that the prices the people pay for most of the things they eat, drink, wear, and use, are not 'competitive' prices, but, fixed and arranged prices, and, as those who fix or arrange these prices are concerned chiefly with getting exorbitant profit these prices are not 'fair and reasonable,' but are considerably higher than would be the case under free competition.

"This is only natural. When a few men practically control the output and distribution of any article which the people must have, they are in a position to fix the highest price that the people can possibly pay. The only limit, therefore, to the prices fixed by combines and 'honourable understandings' is the limit of the people's purse. If the trusts charged more, the people could not buy. The combine seldom charges less than the very most that the unfortunate consumer can pay. This is the present position of the people, not only in the Commonwealth, but throughout the world. It is a position which, on the face of it, is quite incompatible with democratic government. Theoretically, freedom of trade and freedom of access to opportunities are open to all; practically, where a few men with a tremendous amount of capital control the means by which modern production and distribution must necessarily be carried on, the rest of mankind can only live upon sufferance.

CONTROL OF TRUSTS.

"The present position is intolerable. The interests of the people must be protected, and the policy of the Labour party is to take whatever steps are necessary to protect them. As our policy has been and is being deliberately and grossly misrepresented by the Fusion press and the Fusion politicians, the lines of that policy may be broadly indicated. We are not opposed to combination. We believe, indeed, that combination is infinitely better than cut-throat competition, provided that the interests of the people are properly safeguarded. But to allow a few individuals to control the production and the distribution of the necessaries of life, to fix what prices the people must pay for what they must have, is to place the whole community at the mercy of a few. Combination makes for efficient and economical production. Properly controlled, it is a benefit to the community. Uncontrolled, it is a menace to the liberties and the very existence of democracy.

"These are the facts, and they are indisputable, yet, in the face of them, the fusion says that the Labour party is responsible for the industrial unrest and the high cost of living. Such a statement is an insult to the intelligence of the electors. Let us prove it. Australia is the only country in the world where the Labour party is in power and in office. But industrial unrest is world-wide. There is not one civilised country where it has not manifested itself during recent years. In Great Britain, America, France, Germany, Austria, and Italy upheavals—compared to which those in Australia appear quite insignificant—have taken place in the last three years.

INCREASED COST OF LIVING.

"The same may be said of the high cost of living. This, too, is a world-wide phenomenon. To say, as the fusion party does, that the Labour party is responsible for it, is an audacious and wilful misrepresentation of facts. The cost of living in the United States is 16 per cent. higher than in Australia, but there are no wages boards in that country, and no Labour party in office or in power. And the same is true of Great Britain, where the cost of living has, according to the Board of Trade returns, gone up to such an extent that what cost 20s in 1909 cost 23s in 1912. The fusion insults the intelligence of the electors be declaring that high wages are the cause of high prices. The exact opposite is true. The people must live, and to live their wages must be sufficient to purchase the necessaries of civilised life. High prices cause and compel a demand for higher wages. The endeavour to enforce the demand causes industrial unrest.

INDUSTRIAL UNREST.

"Only in Australia is the Labour party in office. Only here and in New Zealand are there Arbitration Courts and boards for fixing wages. But in every country trusts and combines control the means of production. In every country they regulate output, they fix prices, they exploit the people. And in America, where they are most powerful, the cost of living is higher than in any other country. We have tracked the thing down. It is obvious that the main cause of the increased cost of living is the exorbitant profits extracted from the people by the trusts, and the immediate cause of industrial unrest arises out of the increasingly difficult struggles of the people to make both ends meet.

AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION.

"In order to control trusts, combines, corporations, and great monopolies which now exploit the public, and to deal with industrial unrest and the high cost of living, amendment of the Constitution is imperatively necessary. Without such amendment it is futile to attempt to deal with these great questions.

"At present the Commonwealth is, for all practical purposes, powerless. In order, therefore, that these great questions may be effectively dealt with, the amendments of the Constitution now before the people must be made. The detailed reasons why the six amendments upon which the people are asked to vote on May 31 should be approved are set forth in the "Case for the Amendments," a copy of which is, or will very shortly be, in the hands of every elector. We earnestly invite the electors to read this presentation of the case. It deals with matters of the gravest importance.

REASONS FOR AMENDMENT.

"We have not space here to repeat the arguments there set forth. But, briefly, the reasons why the electors should vote for the six amendments are as follows:—

"Our Constitution, which is copied from the American, gives us the same powers over trusts, industrial and other cognate matters, as that of the United States. It leaves the States the same powers as the United States Constitution leaves the States of America. In America, after 20 years of the best efforts to deal with trusts by Federal and State laws, the position, as stated by Senator Chauncey Depew, one of the most notable American statesmen of our day, is:—

'There are 10 men in the City of New York who can, in 24 hours, stop every wheel of all the railways, close every factory, lock every switch on every telegraph line, shut down every coal mine and iron mine in the United States. What a travesty on the declaration that this is the government of the people, by the people, for the people, when 10 men can make starving beggars of 100,000,000 people in 24 hours.'

EXISTING ANTI-TRUST LAWS.

"The net result of all this legislation—the most drastic possible under Constitutions like ours and that of America—is that the trusts, after 20 years of it, are the most numerous and powerful in the world, and control not only the industrial, but also the commercial, financial, and political lives of the American people. The laws, both State and Federal, have been enforced in many cases, and a great number of convictions have followed. But the trusts laugh at convictions, and grow fat upon them.

"The Standard Oil Trust, for example, was only recently convicted, heavily fined, and solemnly dissolved by the Supreme Court of America. This ought to have been the end of the trust, but its power to exploit the world is not lessened. To-day it is as strong as ever, and Rockefeller and a few of the great shareholders have made £40,000,000 as a direct result of the conviction!

"The fact is that, while the Constitution remains as it is, no power exists, either in America or here, that can cope with trusts. State laws cannot do it, and the Federal arm is cramped.

NECESSITY FOR AMENDMENTS.

"Mr. W. H. Irvine, M.P., Mr. Glynn, Mr. Groom, Mr. Deakin, Sir John Quick, and other fusionists have, at one time or other, supported five out of six amendments now before the electors. They have advocated new protection, regulation of prices, full industrial powers for the Commonwealth, full control over trusts and combines, and full control over trade and commerce. In spite of their own definite statements they now urge that no amendments should be made because the Labour party is in office. The people will be able to estimate the real value of a party whose leaders are guilty of this callous and abject abandonment of their own principles and the interests of the public.

POWERS ENJOYED ELSEWHERE.

"Every federation in the world, except America, has these powers. Canada has and always has had them. In the face of these facts, why should the people of Australia hesitate to take these powers, the lack of which has placed America under the heel of the trusts to such an extent that, to repeat the words of Senator Chauncey Depew, 'Ten men can make starving beggars of 100,000,000 people in 24 hours.'

"We believe that these amendments are vitally necessary We believe that without them it is impossible to protect the people from exploitation. And we earnestly recommend the electors to vote for all of them.

"State rights are not affected, but the rights of the people are affected. All that is asked is that the Commonwealth electors shall give themselves the powers they enjoy as State electors, but which as State electors they cannot use effectively against the trusts. The electors are not asked to hand over their powers as State electors to foreigners, but to themselves. There is not one reason why they should not do so. There are a thousand reasons why they should.

WHAT IS PROPOSED.

"1. Control of Trusts.—And now, having stated the issues before the electors and the necessity for amending the Constitution, we come to the policy of the Labour party for the next Parliament. If the proposed amendments are carried, we shall pass legislation to control trusts and combines in the public interest, and to create machinery for reviewing, and, where necessary, regulating, prices in cases where effective competition does not ensure a fair and reasonable price to the consumer.

"The fusion says that the regulation of prices is impossible. But regulation of prices by the trusts in their own interests is the dominant feature of our own age. Why should public regulation of prices in the interests of the people be impossible? It is not impossible, and it is absolutely necessary. Those who know most about the matter strongly favour it.

"Andrew Carnegie, of the great American steel trust, says:—'Granted combination, there must be regulation, and as no Judge the world over is allowed to sit in judgment in a case in which he is personally interested, so no producer can be judge of prices. It follows then that an Industrial Court must be formed which shall fix maximum prices, that the consumer may be protected against extortion.' And ex-President Roosevelt says:—'This control (over trusts) should, if necessary, be pushed in extreme cases to the point of exercising control over monopoly prices, as rates on railways are now controlled.'

"2. Nationalisation of Monopolies.—With regard to monopolies, these will be generally dealt with in the same way as trusts and combines. The broad principle upon which legislation will be based is that where the welfare of the people demands it, the law will exercise a vigilant supervision over the operations of these great organisations of capital. We shall make provision to prevent individual traders and manufacturers being crushed out by combines or attempted monopolies. We shall protect the public by regulating prices where these are exorbitant. Where the interest of the Commonwealth can in no other way be protected, we shall exercise the powers given by the amendment of the Constitution and nationalise the monopoly.

"3. General Company Law.—We shall pass a general company law, designed to encourage legitimate trading, and prevent unfair trading, and to protect the interests of shareholders and the public. At present there is no power to pass such a law, and yet no legislation is more badly needed.

NEW PROTECTION.

"We shall introduce at an early date such legislation as may be necessary to give effect to the policy of the new protection. As there is some room for doubt as to what new protection is, we here set forth what it means. Unlike the old protection, the benefits of the new protection are not to rest wholly with the manufacturer, but are to extend to the workman and the consumer. The workman is to get a fair and reasonable wage and decent conditions of labour. Where the State wages boards give him these, well and good. Where they do not, Federal Courts will do so. And the consumer is to be protected against exorbitant prices. In this way protection becomes a national policy in the true sense of the term, and is not, as at present, mainly confined to one comparatively small section of the community. The manufacturers of Australia are entitled to protection against unfair competition; they are entitled to a fair and legitimate profit; they are entitled to settled industrial conditions. These things we shall endeavour to secure for them, but they are not entitled to exploit the workmen or the general public, and we shall therefore pass such legislation as will, while protecting Australian manufacturers, also protect the community.

PROPOSED INDUSTRIAL LEGISLATION

"The present industrial powers of the Commonwealth are quite inadequate. It cannot prevent industrial disputes. It cannot deal with them when they arise unless they extend beyond the limits of any one State. And it is absolutely powerless to deal with the most common form in which great industrial disputes extending beyond the limits of one State occur. The 'sympathetic strike'—the most dangerous, and affecting the greatest number of people—is, in nine cases out of ten, beyond its jurisdiction. The cause of such a strike may be the demand of a union inside a State. With that dispute the Federal Conciliation Court cannot deal. But until it is settled the 'sympathetic strike' of unions outside the State cannot be settled. The arm of the Federal Court is tied. It cannot act when action would be most likely to prove effective. It must sit down supinely and watch the trouble become more and more serious, extending from one small centre until it envelops the whole State, and still do nothing. Not until the dispute reaches such a stage as to make settlement an almost impossible task can the Federal Court interfere.

"This is not only absurd, but a deadly menace to the best interests of the community. If industrial peace is worth having we ought not to tie the hands of the Court created to maintain it.

"The facts and the best authorities on the Fusion side both support our contention that the Constitution ought to be amended, so that the Commonwealth's powers may be such as to preserve the industrial peace of the community.

"If these amendments are approved by the people, we shall clothe the Federal Arbitration Court with power to prevent disputes, to deal effectively with such disputes as do arise, wherever and in whatever circumstances they may arise, if State courts cannot, or do not do so. For this purpose we shall make provision for subsidiary industrial tribunals, wherever and whenever the circumstances call for them. Realising that economy and despatch are the essentials of any satisfactory system of industrial arbitration, we shall make special provision to ensure the speedy hearing of all applications for redress and settlement of disputes, and endeavour to reduce the cost of proceedings to a minimum.

STATE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNALS.

"Fusion misrepresentation declares that we intend to abolish State Courts and wages boards. This is most emphatically untrue. The proposed Federal laws will supplement State laws where for any reason these are insufficient. Where State laws cannot, or do not, deal effectively with disputes and the causes of disputes, Federal laws will do so.

"The Fusion by a supreme effort of misrepresentation declare that we shall impose 'uniform industrial laws from Canberra' upon every worker in the Commonwealth, bringing all down to one dead level of uniformity. This is not only untrue, it is stupidly untrue. We do not propose to attempt such incredible folly. The Federal courts will sit wherever they can best deal with the facts of each dispute, and when fixing wages and conditions of labour will take into consideration, as the Federal courts have always done, differences of climate and environment generally.

DISPUTES ON STATE RAILWAYS.

"In the case of industrial disputes on State railways, we shall make provision to deal with such disputes should unfortunately they arise. We shall not in any way attempt to interfere with the present State tribunals, which in some States fix the rates and conditions for the employees on State railways. These will remain and exercise their functions, as at present. But the Federal Court will be clothed with authority to hear appeals from such tribunals, at the option of the parties, and to act upon its own initiative in regard to the prevention and settlement of any threatened industrial disturbance.

WHAT WE SHALL NOT DO.

"So many absurd and wilfully misleading statements are made as to the uses to which the Federal Labour party will put the new powers, if granted by the people, that it seems necessary to indicate briefly not only what we shall do, but what we shall not do during the next three years.

STATE LAWS OVER STATE MATTERS.

"The fusion is endeavouring to gull the people into believing that the Federal Parliament want these powers in order to interfere with purely local matters. The powers are not needed, and we shall not use them for such a purpose. The Labour Party ask the people to agree to these amendments in order that the Parliament may be able to deal with great national questions. We want these powers in order to deal with those great aggregations of wealth which dominate our industrial and commercial life, and levy toll upon the public, not for the purpose of granting hawkers' licences, or of dealing with early closing of shops, etc., or the ordinary transactions of bakers, butchers, grocers, and storekeepers generally, including marine stores and old metal dealers, as the fusion asserts. We shall not attempt to deal with these things. Canada, which has always had the powers which we now ask the people to grant, has not interfered with local matters. We shall do the same. State rights will not be injured by these amendments, but the opportunities of the trusts to exploit the people will be very seriously affected. Hence their loud cries.

"It is said also that the Commonwealth will take over the railways. This is of course a downright untruth, as those who make the statement know full well. The amendments do not give the Commonwealth power to take over the State railways. They do not even give power to deal with State trade and commerce carried on State railways. They do not give the Commonwealth any more power to fix freights and fares than it has now. So much for that audacious attempt to mislead the electors.

THE FUSION AND THE FARMER.

"The Fusion, in its usual fashion, attempts to save its friends, the great trusts, by endeavouring to frighten the small farmer and storekeeper, and make them fight its battle. Before the 1910 election the Fusion, at the instance of the great landlords of Australia, dreading the progressive land tax, told the farmers that the effect of the land tax would be to ruin them. They said that the £5000 exemption was only an election cry, and that if we got in we would take it out and tax the small man. Time has nailed these lies to the wall. The £5000 exemption remains, and we again pledge ourselves not to remove it during the next Parliament.

"The Fusion says, first, that the proposal to fix prices is absurd; and, second, that the Labour party will fix the prices of the produce of 'the man on the land,' and the goods of the retail storekeeper. Such a statement is utterly untrue. Like the land tax lie, it is a cunning attempt by the monopolists and great vested interests to save themselves.

"We have already said that we shall not attempt public regulation of prices, except where these are regulated by trusts, combines, monopolies, rings, or 'honourable understandings.'

"We shall not attempt to regulate prices received by 'the man on the land' for his produce. It is not by the farmer that the public is squeezed, but by those to whom the farmer sells his produce. The farmer is squeezed by the freight ring and by other rings. We shall endeavour to protect him.

NATIONALISATION OF MONOPOLIES.

"The Fusion says that if the electors approve the sixth proposed amendment the Labour party will at once nationalise every industry in the country! That it will nationalise every small shopkeeper, and that even 'the poor widow' in her tiny little store will be taken over by the Federal Parliament! Such statements are not only gross misrepresentations, but are plainly absurd.

"It is not the small shopkeeper or the widow in her little store that menaces the welfare of the people, but the great monopoly which holds the community in a ruthless grasp. When one company or combine has destroyed all its competitors, it has the community at its mercy. When, as is the case with more than one combine here, it controls the production, manufacture, and sale of something which the people must have, a state of things exists which is incompatible with free government, and cannot be tolerated. It is to deal with such great monopolies that this amendment of the Constitution is required. And it is absolutely necessary.

"We shall not nationalise the small shopkeeper, or the big shopkeeper either. This is not a remedy to be applied to retail traders, amongst whom competition ensures fair profits, and fair profits only. But it is for use, and if we are returned and this amendment is carried, we shall use it against those great monopolies whose exactions are unendurable, if regulation of their operations cannot be effected in any other way.

GENERAL POLICY.

"Having set forth that part of the policy of the party for which amendment of the Constitution is necessary, we now come to the general policy of the party under the existing powers of the Constitution. The scope of this is necessarily narrow, as no really great question can be dealt with effectively. We cannot believe, therefore, that the people will decline to approve the amendments necessary to give effect to our whole policy.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

"True democratic government demands that the people's will, continuously ascertained and expressed, shall be supreme; but representative government does not, in many cases, permit the people to make their desires known, or to see that their desires are given effect. At the election of a Parliament the people really rule. During the intervals between elections their power is confined to criticisms, and to such means of approaching Parliament as are afforded by petitions, public meetings, and the columns of the press. Generally, Parliament responds to public opinion thus manifested—but not always. Besides public control in this way is not only uncertain, but indefinite, and entirely unsanctioned by the law, and Parliament can, if it chooses, wholly disregard it. What is wanted is a means by which the people may, in a clearly defined and legal way, express their disapproval of any legislation proposed or passed by Parliament, and initiate such other legislation as circumstances in their opinion warrant. In this way the people's control over Parliament would be continuous. They could veto such legislation as was objectionable, and compel attention to matters of great importance which might arise between elections, and upon which the Parliament had not been instructed.

"If returned to office the Labour party will immediately pass such legislation as will enable the people to initiate, veto, or approve any legislation.

PROTECTION.

"Protection is the settled policy of the country. The Labour party, therefore, will take such steps as are necessary to make that policy effective, and will at an early date bring down such amendments of the present tariff as will protect the manufacturers and producers of the Commonwealth against unfair outside competition.

"As the fiscal question is not included in the platform of the Labour party, the views of members of the party have been ascertained. It has been found that the great majority of members support the promise given by the Prime Minister at Maryborough on March 31 to bring down a scheme of effective protection.

REVENUE DUTIES AND COST OF LIVING.

"Believing as we do that Customs duties for revenue are not part of the policy of protection, and therefore should be made as light as possible, we propose to reduce such duties on the necessaries of life imported from other countries.

DEFENCE.

"Our policy of national defence, military and naval, has already been stated by the Prime Minister at Maryborough. That policy we shall resolutely and energetically carry out. Everything necessary to Australia's defence and to make her contribution towards Imperial defence a real and effective one, will be done.

DEVELOPMENT OF AUSTRALIA.

"We shall prosecute with diligence and energy a policy of national development. The settlement and development of the Northern Territory will be pushed on with. The construction of the transcontinental railway will be energetically carried on. A vigorous policy of railway construction will be undertaken. We believe in Australia and her greatness, and shall do all that is possible to hasten her development.

INSURANCE.

"We shall pass a general insurance law, regulating the operations of all insurance companies. The measure introduced last session broadly indicates the lines along which we think such a law should proceed. It is much needed, and we shall place it on the Statute Book at an early date.

COMMONWEALTH INSURANCE.

"In addition to regulating the operations of private insurance companies, we shall establish a Commonwealth insurance department, controlled, and guaranteed, and carried on by the Government. It will be based upon sound business lines, and will engage in all kinds of insurance business. The operations of the New Zealand Government Insurance Department have been most successful, and not only does the institution show a good margin of profit, but the exorbitant rates charged by private insurance companies—more particularly for fire insurance—have been greatly reduced through Government competition. There is ample justification for the establishment of a similar institution here, and we shall take steps to do so as soon as possible.

CODIFICATION OF BANKRUPTCY LAWS.

"The necessity for codifying and revising the various State laws relating to bankruptcy is generally admitted. A bill has been prepared, and was introduced last session. It is proposed to pass it into law as soon as possible.

ELECTORS' GUARANTEE.

"It is upon these broad lines that the policy of the Labour Party will be based. If the electors approve the proposed amendments of the Constitution, the powers will be used to protect the people. We shall not use them except for that purpose, and upon the lines herein laid down. The electors have our record before them. We shall stand by our pledges in the future as in the past. What we say, we shall do. What we say we will not do we assuredly will not do.

"And, further, the electors will have in the initiative and referendum—to which we are pledged—an effective check upon legislation, to which they are opposed. If any act is passed with which the people do not agree they will be able to veto it. If anything is not done that ought to be done, the people can see that Parliament does it.

A POLICY FOR AUSTRALIA.

"Here, then, is our policy. It deals with those great issues now compelling the attention of the whole civilised world. And it goes right down to bedrock. It is a policy for the whole people, and not only for a privileged few. It is a policy of action put forward by men who have proved by their record that they are men of action, and true to their pledges. It is a great national policy that will develop the best that is in Australia—a policy that will protect our country from dangers within and without.

"With full confidence in the justice and patriotism of the Australian people, we invite them to attach to it the seal of their approval.

THE MATUNGA'S FIRE.

OFFICERS' GOOD WORK.

CAIRNS, Sunday.

The steamer Matunga arrived on Saturday from New Guinea. The passengers, speaking of the fire which occurred on the Matunga on the passage from Cairns to Port Moresby, pay a tribute to the skill of the captain, officers, and engineers. There was no panic on board, and many of the passengers were unaware of any untoward incident until the danger was passed. The wireless operator, at the first word of warning, was at his post, and communicated with Port Moresby, where boats were in readiness to come to the Matunga if required. Fortunately the outbreak was suppressed with only the loss of portion of the mails.

AUSTRALIAN WEATHER.

THE "HERALD" MAP.

The monsoonal depression, which has been responsible for the good rains over the central and eastern districts of New South Wales, has moved further eastward, and now covers the eastern half of the State.

The high pressure has still further expanded, and has also gained in barometric values. The central readings—30.4 inches—are situated in the extreme SW corner of the continent, and extend well to the SE towards Tasmania.

The Antarctic disturbance over New Zealand is still energetic, but the gradient is not quite so steep as on the previous day; the centre is situated to the NE of the North Island.

Ocean Forecast.—Squally, southerly winds in the Straits, and later on on the New South Wales south coast, with rough seas.

FINANCIAL.

TOOTH AND CO., LIMITED.

The report of Tooth and Co., Ltd., for the six months ended March 31 shows a profit, including £25,380 brought forward, of £176,311, which the directors recommend should be appropriated as follows:—To dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum on the ordinary shares, £55,000; to divide at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum on the preference shares, £16,500; to depreciation of plant and machinery, £10,000; to reserve for rebuilding and depreciation of securities, £15,000; to reserve for equalisation of dividends, £35,000; leaving £44,811 to be carried forward.

Since the last half-yearly meeting the assets of the company have been revalued, and sundry reserves absorbed, which enabled the directors to increase the capital by the issue of 550,000 £1 cumulative 6 per cent. preference shares fully paid. The following comparison may be made:—

The treatment of depreciation accounts in the above report affords a striking illustration of a point we raised in our issue of Saturday, when dealing with reserves and reserve funds.

AUSTRALIAN SHIPPING DEVELOPMENTS.

From the "Financial Times" we learn that:—

According to information which has been received in London, the Federal authorities are prepared to offer subsidies to those shipowners who will agree to construct new tonnage in accordance with the views of the Australian Government, and who will also encourage those particular classes of traffic which the authorities are anxious to stimulate. It has been stated in some quarters that a State-owned line might be created, but this suggestion is not regarded seriously in shipping circles, and the view most generally expressed is that if the Federal authorities will offer suitable terms they will secure all the tonnage they require. This scheme is quite independent of the similar project of which Mr. Watt, the Victorian Prime Minister, has given certain details, but it seems probable that the two schemes will be merged eventually. As regards the attitude of English shipowners to the matter, they appear to feel that, in view of the record prices now ruling for new tonnage, it is essential that they should receive some guarantee regarding terms of employment on a basis which will remunerate them for contracts given out at an exceptional period in the history of the shipping trade. The project is not only one of very great interest, but is also of considerable importance, and the upshot of the Australian Government's action will be watched with exceptional interest. There is little doubt that, if carried out on practical lines, it will yield results at least as good as are anticipated.

PROPOSED VICTORIAN STATE SERVICE.

Reference is made in the above paragraph to a proposal by the Victorian Premier. We learn that Reuter's Agency in London was informed by Mr. Watt that, apart from the known financial objects of his visit to England, his principal interest while in that country would be to make arrangements for facilitating the transport of Australian produce to the European market. Mr. Watt declared that the Victorian Government was prepared, either in concert with the other States or alone, to assist the inauguration of new steamship services to Australia. With this object he would visit the principal ports of the United Kingdom, but as to what shape the Government assistance would take nothing could be said until he had had an opportunity of conferring with the shipping interests concerned.

BANKRUPTCY LEGISLATION.

In moving the second reading of the Bankruptcy Bill in the House of Commons, Mr. S. Buxton said the measure was welcomed by the Chambers of Commerce, business people, and traders generally. It was founded largely on the unanimous report of a strong committee, which sat a few years ago, and was originally introduced in 1911, while last session it passed through the House of Lords. It was not a revolutionary bill. The first part simplified and facilitated proceedings in reference to prosecutions for bankruptcy offences. It proposed that minor bankruptcy offences might be tried by courts of summary jurisdiction, and that the accused in such cases should have the option of trial by jury and an appeal to Quarter Sessions. Secondly, the bill proposed to make punishable certain offences which wilfully contributed to bankruptcy itself, and certain commercial offences which at present involved only the question of a debtor's discharge from bankruptcy. It was proposed that in future the creditors of a second bankruptcy would be allowed to rank equally with those of a first bankruptcy. In regard to foreign members of firms doing business here, they could not at present be proceeded against under the Bankruptcy Laws, but it was proposed to extend the control of the Bankruptcy Courts over such foreigners in every respect as if they resided in England. Another useful provision was that which would curtail the right of money-lenders to exorbitant interest against bankrupt estates. He was anxious to make this bill generally acceptable to the merchant community, and he would be glad to give careful consideration to any suggestions which would enable the committee to improve the bill.

DIRECTORS' LIABILITIES.

R.D.L. writes:—

Sir, I am interested in a company registered only 18 months ago. That company was floated privately in order to save brokerage. The company's capital is £20,000, of which £12,000 of shares (fully paid up) were given to the vendors.

When the first general meeting of the company was held in December, 1911, there was about £6000 of the capital subscribed, and the directors stated again that, although the selling of shares had been slow, they were not putting the shares in the hands of any sharebroker, and would thus save a substantial sum.

At an extraordinary general meeting held during this present week, details were asked re preliminary expenses, and I see that there has been £600 paid on commission on £9000 worth of shares, viz., 7½ per cent.

As no registered broker ever dealt with the shares, and the directors of the company were the only persons selling them, I would like to know if they had the right and the power to divide those £600 amongst themselves.

I must state that at the meeting they took the privilege not to answer any question on the subject.

This seems to me very queer, and I would feel very grateful to you to give me your valuable opinion on the matter.

It would be very improper for the directors thus to pay themselves, and we are of the opinion that they could be made to refund the money. If they paid someone else not perhaps a regular broker, the case might be different.

FEDERAL GRADUATED LAND TAX.

Mr. R. J. Johnson writes:—

Sir,—Re Federal Labour party's graduated land tax, I, with others, would be obliged if, through the medium of your columns, you would publish answers to the following:—(1) From what value is the graduated land tax and unimproved property payable on city and suburban property? (2) On country land? (3) Is it paid through shire councils? (4) Are shire councils under State or Federal governing?

(1) Upwards of £5000; (2) Upwards of £5000; (3) No; (4) State.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Receipts of gold at the Sydney branch of the Royal Mint last month totalled 29,815 fine ozs, making 189,256 fine ozs, valued at £803,910 since January 1.

A NEW ZEALAND COMPANY.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Sunday.

The Gisborne sheep farmers and the Frozen Meat Company have decided to form an auxiliary company, with a capital of £150,000, to take up commercial and financial business. The first subscription is limited to 40,000 shares. Preference is to be given to bona-fide farmers.

INDUSTRIAL.

COLOUR IN FOOD.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in the "American Magazine," says: Score another point for the sound common sense of the "man in the street" and the woman in the kitchen. Three cheers for the Red, White, and Green. Red meat, white bread, and green, fresh vegetables—not canned, or cooked, or mummified by drying.

The advance of science is justifying our "irrational dietetic likes and dislikes" one after another. Just recently it was discovered that the red meats are the most digestible, the most nutritious and most wholesome of all the meats known, and indeed of all the foods, and have nothing whatever to do with gout, rheumatism, Bright's disease, drunkenness, or crime.

Then came the triumphant vindication of white bread, the pride of the housekeeper, the joy of the supper table, against the attacks of all the food cranks, the pseudo-scientists and the "cheap-foods-for-the-people" philanthropists. The whitest possible of white bread was overwhelmingly proved to be not only much more appetising, but weight for weight and price for price more nutritious and more wholesome than any black, brown, or brindled staff of life—whether graham, rye, barley, maize, oats, rice, cassava—that could be brought into the lists against it.

The last feeble rally of this defeated attack was ignominiously repulsed only a few weeks ago by Government chemists connected with the Board of Health in England and the Departments of Agriculture in our United States and Canada. They found that even that extremely attenuated form of the "brown-bread delusion," which was of a light yellow colour, and claimed to have retained the highly nutritious germs of the wheat berry, which were discarded in the "patent process" flour, is under ordinary circumstances in no way superior to the common white bread of the baker shops or of the model housekeeper. It is qu'te true that it does contain the yellowish and nutritious germ of the wheat berry, and that this germ contains small amounts of fat and of phosphorus which are not present in the remainder of the wheat grain. But when the trouble was taken to weigh and measure the exact amount of this fat and this phosphorus it was found to be exceedingly small; and a single teaspoonful of egg, a mouthful of meat or fish, or a teaspoonful of milk, would more than make good the amount lost in an entire pound loaf of bread. So that the only conditions under which this germ-containing yellow bread would be in any way superior to the ordinary white bread would be when it is used for individuals and families who live solely on bread. And no community calling itself civilised should permit any element of its population to live on such a diet.

So that all this torrent of denunciation and prophecy of evil, to the effect that we are undermining the constitution of the race and devitalising our tissues by the use of this attractive and toothsome but nutritious pale ghost of real bread, is pretty nearly moonshine.

Most of the things that discolour flour and darken the tint of bread are either actual and genuine dirt, grit, moulds, weed seeds, filth of all descriptions, or substances contained in the various grains used, which for all practical purposes are dirt, in the sense of matter out of place.

Whiteness and purity go hand in hand. A certain class of grain handlers, millers, and bakers are enthusiastically in favour of any tint of bread which will enable them to utilise spoiled, mouldy, dirty, or otherwise inferior grain, without fear of detection by the eye of the consumer; just as brown, green, and tar or highly-scented soaps are so popular with manufacturers who want to use bad soap grease.

COMMERCIAL.

DECREASING WHEAT SHIPMENTS.

A disconcerting fact revealed by the grain statistics of the Commonwealth is that, while our wheat yield is the heaviest on record, the total shipments of wheat and flour expressed in the equivalent of wheat to April 26, are two million bushels below the shipments of last year, when there was a small crop. This fact pertains only to New South Wales, as will be seen by the following table, giving the exports of breadstuffs for the periods named:—

DECEMBER 1 TO APRIL 26.

	1912-13. Bushels.	1911-12. Bushels.
New South Wales	6,578,808	8,947,852
Victoria	8,798,385	8,054,541
South Australia	9,110,153	8,772,127
Western Australia	3,381,491	320,011

Had New South Wales shipped on the same scale as the other States, the increase of exports from the Commonwealth would have amounted to five million bushels, instead of two millions. The only reason which can be assigned for the falling-off in the New South Wales shipments is the failure of the railways to carry the wheat. The failure merits an inquiry just as much as does the dissatisfaction among the railway employees; indeed, it merits inquiry on the larger ground that, if the failure is not remedied, it will retard to a serious extent the development of the country, and if that development is retarded, then the ability of the railways to increase the number of its employees is lessened. It is a subject which is of vital concern, not only to the farmer, but equally to the railway worker and to the city merchant. An example of the way in which the wheat is delivered, the experience of shippers on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday may be cited. The truckloads of wheat available for shipment at Darling Island on those days were 76, 58, 69, or not more than 800 tons a day; whereas there are three if not four shippers who can each handle over 1000 tons a day. For what trucks are got, the country agents of the shippers have to fight for at country stations. Even then they are often told that they will have first to unload the truck, as well as load it. Preference, the complaint is, is given to chaff, and this in spite of the fact that the demand for chaff has fallen off, while the demand for wheat is urgent. At the rate at which the wheat is being brought down, it will take at least 22 weeks to clear the stacks, and, if that be so, by the time the stacks are cleared the harvest will be upon us again, and the block will be as serious as ever. Whatever may be the merits of the bulk handling of grain as applied to this State, it will not ease the railway situation, because bulk handling will not make any difference to the handling of trucks or trains. The railway situation will never be eased until it is ascertained whether the block is due to bad management, want of rolling-stock, insufficient duplication of lines, or to a combination of two reasons, or a combination of all three. Once the cause is ascertained, the remedy can be applied.

BRAZILIAN COFFEE VALORISATION.

Since the German Reichstag adopted a resolution against the coffee valorisation public interest in Germany has been directed towards the economic effects of the steps taken by the Brazilian Government as a protection for its coffee production. As Germany is by far the largest consumer of coffee among the countries of the world, it is a very important question whether she should calmly submit to see the price of this popular commodity artificially increased. In order to answer this question, says a German paper, one must determine whether the present quotation of 63 pfennig (eight pfennig are about equal to one penny) for good average santos is an exorbitant one or not. Certainly, if one compares this figure with the low prices ruling between 1898 and 1907, the rise in price seems an excessive one. During the period just concluded, the price varied between 35 and 40 pfennig. But at that price Brazil was confronted with the results of over production, which certainly spoiled the market. An average taken for the 25 years previous to 1898 shows the price to have been 65 pfennig, while during the period from 1886 to 1895 the price even rose to 75 pfennig. Those who are acquainted with the situation will be inclined to defend the action of the Brazilian Government as necessary for the time being. It is stated that the present price is a normal one, and that it is likely to rise in the future. It was a wise policy of the Brazilian Government to withold the surplus of the large crops of 1906 and 1907, and to place it gradually on the market, as it is now doing. It is a question of not less than 8,500,000 bags which are now being gradually disposed of, together with the new crop. The process will be a slow one, as the consumption in 1911 amounted to about 16,000,000 bags, which was approximately covered by the crop. But it is more than probable that, after next year, the crop will always remain behind the consumption. This will result in a considerable increase in the price of coffee, unless the supplies stored by the Government succeed in keeping down prices as long as they last. In any case, the wise policy pursued in this direction by the Brazilian Government is bound to save the pockets of the consumer for some time to come.

THE USES OF PLATINUM.

Platinum when first discovered—the first reference to it is in a Spanish work of 1748—was little else than a nuisance to the gold-miners, and it was not till early in the nineteenth century that it came into use for crucibles and retorts, for which use it was especially fitted by reason of its infusibility and resistance to active chemicals. Liebig even declared in 1844 that without platinum the composition of many minerals would remain unknown. The need for the metal was fairly met until within the last two or three decades, in which time the demand has enormously increased, and is now made far greater than the supply by special manufacturing uses—particularly within the last 10 years, for jewellery. In 1902 about 50 per cent. of the platinum of commerce was used for dental work, 30 per cent. for electrical and chemical industries, and 20 per cent. for electrical manufactures and jewellery. In 1819 Humboldt found platinum worth about 33s a pound at the Columbia mines; in 1867 the market price was about £5, and £8 in 1877; in 1902 platinum ingots were quoted at £3 16s per troy ounce; in 1906 at £9 9s 7d per ounce. Of the world's production of 286,952 ounces in 1910, Russia supplied 275,000, the remainder coming from Columbia, California, Canada, and a few other localities.

HOW SALMON IS CANNED.

Importations of salmon into Australia from America in 1911 (the figure for 1912 not being yet available) were of the value of £220,000, and this represents a very small proportion of the exports from Canada and the United States. How the salmon is canned was recently told by Mr. Crawford, secretary of the Salmon Packers' Association, in a paper read before the Canners' Convention. According to a report in the "American Grocer," Mr. Crawford related that after being thoroughly cleaned, washed, and scrubbed, the salmon passes through gang knives which cut it into proper sized pieces for the can; it is then fed into the filling machines which automatically fill the cans, or the fish is taken by hand fillers, who, with gloved hands, carefully fill each can. The empty cans are fed to the fillers by conveyors which carry the cans in a continuous line from the salt table. The contents of each can is one pound of fresh salmon, and one-quarter ounce of refined salt (in half-pound cans, eight ounces of salmon, and a proportionate quantity of salt), no other ingredients whatever being used. After being filled, the cans are inspected, or passed through an automatic weighing machine, then run through the can-washing machines, when a small piece or chip of tin is placed in the top of each can to keep the vent in centre of top open, in order to permit steam and gas which is caused by heat from the solder to escape, then run through the topping and soldering machines. The cans are then placed in cooler trays, and the vent in the top soldered. After which they are submerged in hot water to test for leaks; any cans showing air bubbles are immediately removed and re-soldered while still hot. The cooler tray of cans is then placed in a retort and steam-cooked for from 40 to 60 minutes under a steam pressure of 10 to 12lb, with a temperature of about 250 degrees Fahr. After this cooking, the trays are removed and a small hole or vent is made in the top of each can to allow the surplus steam, gas and water to escape; this second vent hole is soldered while the can is still hot; therefore all salmon prepared under this process have two soldered holes in the top of the can. Under what is known as the solderless or sanitary can, which is fast taking the place of the old style cans, this second venturing is not necessary, therefore, no soldered vent hole appears on the top of such cans. The salmon is then given a second cooking in the retorts, at a temperature of from 240 to 260 degrees Fahr., which softens the bones and completes the sterilisation of the fish, so that as a food product it is absolutely pure and hygienic, more than meeting the stringent requirements of pure food laws and inspection of State and Federal officials. Salmon canning is peculiar unto itself, the canneries being out on, or adjacent to, salt water; the nuisance of flies is not a factor; disposition of offal and waste is economical and of small import. Absolute cleanliness and sanitary conditions prevail, which in connection with the real food value puts salmon in the lead and makes living cheaper.

THE BUTTER MARKETS.

Prescott, Ltd., reports concerning the state of the Australian butter markets.

Sydney.—There has not been any special move in the market this week. Local sales have been well maintained at 94/ for firsts. There has been a better sale for seconds, mainly to export buyers, at 88/ to 90 per cwt. f.o.b. Arrivals continue heavy. There is a weekly surplus over local requirements of about 5000 boxes.

Melbourne.—The market maintained the recent firmness, local and interstate orders showing an increase. The demand for unsalted for shipment to London continues, buyers taking anything offering at about 96/ f.o.b. Westerns are quoted at /11, choicest Gippsland and North-eastern /10 to /10½, seconds /9½ to /10. Arrivals for the week ending 25th April were 14,243 boxes butter, and 78 tons cream. Compared with a similar period last year, this shows about double the arrivals.

Brisbane.—The market has been maintained at 98/ this week, and, while export buyers are prepared to take choice brands of unsalted at this price, they are not operating in other grades. Production for last week is estimated at 10,680 boxes.

BACON FOR THE ENGLISH MARKET.

A writer in an English trade journal recently stated that there was no reason why the British colonies should not supply the United Kingdom with bacon and pig products. At the present time the old country imports enormous quantities of butter from the self-governing dominions, and as swine-raising is carried on wherever butter is produced the one business is the natural corollary of the other.

The shortage of pigs in Great Britain has led to new bacon factories springing up in different countries in Europe, notably in Russia. There has also been a great development in bacon-curing in China and in the far east, all with a view to supplying the English markets. The United Kingdom pays to oversea nations £25,000,000 annually for pig products.

These facts should stimulate the growth of bacon-curing establishments in Australia. At present we are doing little more than supplying our own needs.

LONDON MARKET CABLES.

THE WOOL SALES.

LONDON, May 2.

At the wool sales this afternoon there was good bidding, prices being firm and unchanged.

MAY 3, 9.5 a.m.

At the wool sales yesterday the following prices were realised for the Australian clips mentioned:—Minilaya, highest /10½, average /8¾; Limestone /16, /15¼; Dagworth /24½, /23½.

MAY 4, 1.10 a.m.

There was a small selection offered at the auctions yesterday. Competition was active, and prices were well maintained. The following prices were realised for the Australian clips mentioned:—Oberine, highest /24, average /21½; Salisbury, /28½, /25½; Clyde, /24, /24½; Staffa /12½, /11½; Belltrees /15½, /14½; Gorian /13½, /12½. Up to the present there have been catalogued 126,437 bales, of which 111,221 bales have been sold.

AUSTRALIAN FRUIT.

The South Australian apples by the R.M.S. Orestes realised from 7/ to 12/ per case. The Schwaben's apples were discharged at Hamburg and Bremen, the bulk realising from 7/9 to 11/9 per case; Cox's, 9/ to 13/; Dunn's, 13/ to 16/6; Cleopatras, 10/6 to 17/9; Jonathans, 12/9 to 15/3; Pears, 10/ to 17/9.

HIDES.

RABBITS.

FROZEN MEAT SALES.

Smithfield market quotations for the undermentioned classes of frozen meats are based on actual sales of not less than 100 carcases of mutton and lambs, and 25 quarters of beef of fair average quality. These quotations are not for selected lines, but for parcels fairly representative of the bulk of the shipments now on the market:—

THE ARDLETHAN BOOM.

"LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT."

SOBERED SPECULATION.

"Like a theif in the night" came the Ardlethan boom. Whence it originated will, perhaps, remain a mystery to most people, but those behind the scenes are under the impression that the boom originated in a well-arranged scheme to place "buying" orders for shares in a certain company, the flotation of which was hanging fire seriously, owing to the lack of applications for shares. At first, the promoters of the company tried to induce the brokers "to sell" shares. This arrangement was a failure. The shares were under-subscribed, and were also selling at a discount on the issue value. This was no good. The promoters suddenly changed from sellers to buyers. Several parcels of scrip were taken as freely as they were offered by "short sellers."

The demand for scrip grew by an increasing number of buyers. The ball was thus started rolling. With the usual thoughtlessness to get rich quick outside speculators rushed on to the scene, and only served to add fuel to the fire started.

In the case of the particular flotation in question, the success was complete. Not only was the market value of the scrip raised from a discount to a premium, but the applications for shares rolled in so fast, that in a day or two all the unsubscribed shares were over-applied for.

Beyond this incident, which had its birth in Pitt-street, nothing had happened in the Ardlethan tin mines to warrant the extraordinary public rush for shares. Neither the shafts nor the costeens had revealed any new and extraordinary rich ore developments. Those shafts and costeens were just in the same condition as they had been weeks before, and they are just the same to-day.

That is to say, most of the shafts and costeens were then, as they are to-day, making slow progress on ore bodies, the metal contents of which, at the present price of tin, range at least from £25 to £55 per ton of ore. From a gold standpoint, such ores would be worth from 4½ to 13½ ozs of gold per ton. Victorian speculators and miners do not grasp the value of tin ore stated in percentages of tin. Tell them that an ore body carries tin oxide ranging from 20 per cent. to 30 per cent., to 40 per cent., conveys no information to them; but tell them that at the present price of tin, 20 per cent. ore is equal to 14ozs of gold, that 30 per cent. is equal to 16½ozs and that 40 per cent. is equal to 22ozs of gold per ton, they grasp the idea at once. If the Victorian speculator bears in mind that each 2 per cent. of tin oxide is worth approximately 1oz of gold, he will be able mentally to assess the value of a tin lode from a gold standpoint. Of course, the mental calculation is always subject to the London price of metallic tin.

One thing is self-evident, and that is that the advent of the Victorian speculator on a field that is about midway between Melbourne and Sydney has opened the eyes of the New South Wales speculators to the possibilities of the Ardlethan field as a large producer of tin oxide. The Ardlethan share boom was an unjustifiable and regrettable incident. It did no good to the field.

The public that has lost heavily over the boom is likely to withdraw its support from propositions carrying every prospect of success as long as they are not too heavily burdened by the conditions under which they are floated—namely heavy payments to the vendors, and a lack of money to develop the mines. It must not be assumed that because shares, bought without rhyme or reason during a boom, have been recklessly thrown away during the succeeding debacle, the bottom has fallen out of the Ardlethan tin field.

As far as developments go, the prospects of the field are as solid and sound to-day as ever they were, but the best field in the world won't stand being abused. At the present price of tin, the average tin contents of the Ardlethan and Bygoo tin mines could afford to decline to an enormous extent, and still be payable. But the great drawback to Ardlethan is the lack of a good water supply. The supply of the latter is going to be a very heavy item of expenditure. A good rain-catchment area would be as valuable as a good tin mine.

Of course, the detractors of the field—and they are many—have been emboldened by the bursting of the boom to show their heads once more. The man who contended that the shafts have gone down on pipes of ore maintains illogically that the bursting boom proves his contention. Whether or not they are pipes has yet to be proved by driving on the ore bodies. Unscrupulous people circulated a rumour last Friday that the lode of the White Crystal had cut out. If the object was to bring the price of the shares down, it failed, as the rumour was untrue. Our Temora correspondent telegraphs that there was absolutely no truth in the statement. He states that on the authority of the manager. He adds that the main shaft is down over 90ft, and that the lode is richer and wider than ever.

The feature of the market on Saturday was the steadier character of Ardlethan stocks, with a firming tendency in several instances. Indeed, values recovered somewhat in the case of Carpathias, White Crystals, Wild Cherry, Big Bygoo, and Homeward Bound. The opening firmness of the market was not, however, maintained to the close, except in the case of Carpathias, White Crystals, and Wild Cherry. Ardlethan Options opened weakly at £14/15/, then firmed to £16, and finished at £15/10/. A further recovery of 20/ in the price of copper was followed by good business in Mount Morgans, whilst Mount Oxide Options advanced from £44 to £47. Barriers also commanded firm support, with a fair amount of business recorded.

MINING NOTES.

At the New Burragorang mine some 3in to 6in of ore is showing in the shaft at a depth of 586ft. No lode matter was lifted from No. 4 east and west level last week.

The directors of the Briseis, in pursuance of the policy to take working options over various properties have concluded an arrangement under which it will vigorously prospect a lode tin proposition situated at Mitta Mitta during the next six months, with the right to purchase. It is understood the leases aggregate an area of 250 acres, and that the property contains several tin lodes, the ore occurring in dyke formations. No official information is vouchsafed respecting the price to be paid, but it has been stated that this is equivalent to round about £20,000. At least, 50,000 Briseis shares are held in Sydney.

MOUNT MORGAN COMPANY.

INCREASED GOLD YIELD.

DECREASED COPPER OUTPUT.

ORE VALUES THE CAUSE.

The total value of the output of the Mount Morgan Gold-Mining Company for April was valued at £93,144, or £1473 better than that of the preceding four weeks. It is quite evident, by an analysis of the figures for April, that had it not been for the increased tonnage of ore treated, the output would not have maintained the March record, for the simple reason that both the gold and copper contents of the ore smelted show a slight falling off. In the case of copper, the decline was 0.32 per cent., and gold 0.44dwt.

The fact that 8299 tons of Many Peaks ore yielded 100 tons of pure copper, thus showing an extraction of over 1.20 per cent. of copper, shows the great advantage that has followed the use of this ore in place of the barren iron ore flux, formerly obtained from Iron Island. In addition to the 100 tons of copper, 55ozs of gold came from the Many Peaks ore.

The details for the past six months are as follows:—

ARDLETHAN TIN FIELD.

THE WHITE CRYSTAL LODE.

A FALSE RUMOUR.

TEMORA, Friday.

Owing to the rumour current in Sydney on Tuesday to the effect that the White Crystal lode had cut out, it has been ascertained from the manager and others that there is absolutely no truth in the statement. The main shaft is down over 90ft, the lode being wider and richer than ever.

ARDLETHAN, Saturday.

White Crystal, No. 2 shaft, depth 91ft. The good quality of the ore is continuing. In the Crosby section, the adit is continuing in quartz porphyry, containing good tin.

At Stackpool's section there is no change.

The Homeward Bound is down 60ft, and the drive to the south is being pushed on. The lode is full width of the drive.

A large number of Sydney and Melbourne investors are examining the field at present from one end to the other, and all seem to be thoroughly satisfied with its prospects.

HAMPDEN CLONCURRY.

Hampden Mine.—No. 1 shaft sunk to 443ft, in slate.

Duchess Mine.—550ft level: Winze at 225 N., 26 W., sunk to 121ft: width sampled, 48in, value 20 per cent. Not on western wall. Rise at 365 N., 25E., put up to 85ft, width sampled, 40in, value 18 per cent.

Trekelano Mine.—Main shaft sunk to 128ft in quartzite. No. 1 shaft, 80ft level, north drive put in to 384ft; width sampled, 18in, value 2¼ per cent.

Answer Mine.—No. 1 shaft, 100ft level: South drive put in to 110ft; width sampled, 16in, value 9 per cent. Not on western wall. No. 2 shaft sunk to 91ft, in quartz and pyrites. 88ft level: South drive to 81ft; width sampled, 18in, value 3 per cent. Not on western wall. No. 4 shaft sunk to 74ft: width sampled, 14in, value 5 per cent. Not on western wall.

MacGregor Mines.—Wallaroo: Main shaft, 110ft level, south drive driven to 98ft, in quartz and pyrites, value ½ per cent. North drive in to 90ft, in schist.

BOURKE'S HILL TIN MINE.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

The Bourke's Hill Tin Sluicing Company's yield for the six months ended April 30 was well up to expectations. The dividend of /6 per share, payable on May 19, absorbs £1125. A sum of £1000 is being placed on deposit receipt to form the nucleus of a reserve fund. The company has over £2900 at credit in the current account.

GRAFTON COPPER MINE.

GRAFTON, Saturday.

The manager of the Grafton Copper Mining Company reports for the past week:—A level advanced 6ft to 26ft 6in, from No. 3 crosscut. A fault displaced the lode 2ft, but as soon as it was passed an improvement took place, and there are now 3ft of sulphide ore in the face, with indications of widening. A fresh contract has been let for extending this level another 50ft. The drive west from No. 2 crosscut shows 8in of sulphides and channel mixture. The rise over B level was put up 6ft to 16ft. It is going up in good ore. Stoping was carried on over all levels, 245 tons being mined and trucked to hoppers, 279 tons were delivered to the furnaces.

Nos. 1 and 2 furnaces worked the full time, and smelted 175 tons 19cwt ore, producing 26 tons 7cwt of first matte. No. 2 also treated one charge of matte, which produced 5 tons 12cwt of shipping metal, assaying 65.5 per cent. copper. No. 3 furnace is being repaired. Two loads of machinery in connection with the compressor plant arrived during the week.

TASMANIAN MINING.

LAUNCESTON, Saturday.

Mr. W. Windred, Melbourne, has succeeded in obtaining capital in London for the further developing of the East Tasmania ground at Beaconsfield. The property has been inspected on behalf of financiers by Malcolm Clarke, who has given a very favourable report. Work will be commenced on Monday next, and the shaft, now down 210ft, will be sunk to a depth of 520ft. It is the intention to then open out to cut the eastern extension of the Tasmania lode. Mr. Windred has taken up private property east, and adjoining the Tasmania mine, to have it prospected, and he is making overtures to acquire the Bonanza mine to the west of the big mine.

30,000 Shares are held in reserve.

40,000 Shares, issued as fully paid up to the Vendor or his nominees in full payment for the Freehold, subject to an existing mortgage of £3500 at 4½ per cent. to be taken over by the Company.

The Vendor receives no cash, and has agreed that he will not exercise his full voting power, so as to allow the contributing shares to carry a majority of votes in respect of 5000 shares.

10,000 SHARES HAVE BEEN ARRANGED FOR.

DIRECTORS:

MAJOR PHILIP CHARLEY, of Sydney, Gentleman.
J. M. PURVES (Batt, Rodd, and Purves, Ltd.), Estate Agent, Sydney.
W. R. GAWNE (Walter Gawne and Sons), Builder and Contractor, Newtown.
And two other Directors, to be elected by the Shareholders.

BANKERS: BANK OF NEW SOUTH WALES, HEAD OFFICE.

AUDITORS: STARKEY and STARKEY, 92 York-street, Sydney.

SECRETARY (pro tem.): F. G. PRING, A.C.P.A., Equitable-buildings, George-street, Sydney.

SOLICITOR: A. B. DAVIES, 80 Castlereagh-street, Sydney.

Owing to the great and continuously increasing demand for blue metal for roadmaking, reinforced concrete, and other purposes, and the very limited supply available, this Company is being formed for the purpose of acquiring the freehold property known as "Greystanes" from the owner, Major Philip Charley, and of erecting a plant to work the large metal deposit existing thereon.

SITUATION.—The property is situated at Prospect, two and a half miles south-east of Toongabbie Railway Station, which is only 18 MILES FROM SYDNEY, the railway freight being ONLY 1/10 PER TON, AS AGAINST 2/11 FROM KIAMA.

THE DEPOSIT.—This consists of a mass of intrusive basaltic rock (blue metal), 123 chains in length, and has been estimated to contain, above the level at which the proposed railway will run, 80 MILLION TONS OF SOLID METAL, which has already been proved to be excellent for roadmaking purposes and for reinforced concrete. The quantity existing below this level need not be estimated during the present century.

THE PLANT proposed is of the most up-to-date kind, with a capacity of 100 tons per hour. The estimated cost of purchasing and erecting same, together with cost of laying 2¼ miles of railway to Toongabbie, is £20,000.

WORKING COSTS.—Mr. E. W. Bouwick (Messrs. Bouwick, Hignett, and Co.) states that if the plant outlined be adopted, working costs will not exceed, as follows:—

Quarrying	1 6	Repairs and Renewals to Crushers	0 2
Transport	0 2½	Depreciation of Plant	0 4
Breaking, Screening, and Delivery to Railway Trucks	1 0	Freight to Sydney	1 10
		PER TON OF ROAD METAL	5 0½

It is estimated that 5 per cent. can be regarded as a conservative estimate of the cost of marketing, including all office and organising expenses.

PROFITS.—An idea of the profitable nature of the undertaking can be gathered from the following:—

Current Selling Price, per ton	8 6
Working Costs, as above	5 0
NET PROFIT PER TON	3 6

The full capacity of the plant is 4000 tons per week of 5 days (200,000 tons per annum). This would mean a net profit of £35,000.

Therefore, assuming that the output only realises one-half of the full capacity, there will still be a sufficiency of profit to pay a DIVIDEND OF 25 PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

All moneys will be paid into a trust account pending allotment.

Usual Brokerage and Flotation Expenses to be paid by the Company.

Application Forms and Prospectus may be obtained from the Secretary, Equitable-buildings, George-street.

THE PROCESSION PASSING ALONG GEORGE-STREET.

THE TURF.

The liberally subsidised programme framed by the Newcastle Jockey Club for its cup meeting on the 17th and 21st inst. claims the attention of owners and trainers of racehorses to-day, when entries close with the secretary, Mr. J. Grisdale, for the minor events on the card, and for which 1050 sovs prize-money has been provided. There are four races endowed with 150 sovs each, two with 125 sovs each, and two with 100 sovs each, over distances ranging from six furlongs to a mile.

The weights for the May meeting of Tattersall's Club, on Saturday next, are promised this forenoon.

Up to 4 p.m. to-day the secretary, Mr. W. L. Davis, will receive nominations for the half dozen items on the card for the Canterbury Park May meeting on the 17th inst. The prize-money aggregates 700 sovs, of which 150 sovs go to the Canterbury Handicap, 125 sovs each to the Flying and Nursery Handicap, and 100 sovs each to the Hurdle Race, Park Stakes, and Welter Handicap.

Mr. A. H. Hart, secretary, invites, up to 4 p.m. to-day, nominations for the six items on the card for the May meeting of the Kembla Grange Racing Club on the 20th inst. The prize-money totals 270 sovs, of while 50 sovs each go to the Jumpers' Flat Races, Newton Handicap, and Juvenile Handicap, and Lake Welter, 40 sovs to the Grange Stakes, and 30 sovs to the District Purse.

The card for the Moorefield May reunion on the 24th inst. is announced. The prize-money aggregates 650 sovs, distributed over half a dozen events, the principal of which are the Juvenile and Moorefield Handicaps, of 150 sovs each; while each of the other items, which include a hurdle race, carries 100 sovs. Entries close with the secretary, Mr. J. Lamrock, at 4 p.m. on Monday, the 12th inst.

The field for the Juvenile Stakes at Rosehill on Saturday was only one short of a score, and the bulk of public money was invested on Tofua, who carried 12lb more than he had in the saddle when he was successful at Warwick Farm a fortnight before, and the Koopan colt Cathedral ran him very close in the market, while the Ayr Laddie filly, Spurn, was the best backed of the others. The favourite, who was one of the first to find his legs, held a good position right through, and, joining issue with Spurn inside the distance, the pair, well clear from their followers, had the finish to themselves. At the half-distance they were still on terms, but the top-weight, finishing with undeniable gameness under his steadying burden, just managed to gain the judge's verdict by a very narrow margin in the last couple of strides. Best Scot, whose winning chance was discounted by the crossing of Tranquillian, was a poor third, while Cathedral was never prominent in the engagement. The winner was bred at the Retreat stud, Bethungra, by Messrs. Main Bros., and is by imported Featherstitch from Delta, by Trenton from Dainty, by Grand Flaneur, and this was his fourth win for the current season, his first success being in a 14.2 Maiden Handicap at Victoria Park. Spurn, who put up such a good fight, is by Ayr Laddie (imp.) from Scornful, by Bill of Portland (imp.) from Tea Rose, by Martini-Henry.

Messrs. H. Chisholm and Co. hold their fortnightly sale of blood stock at their stables, Randwick, this afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. Among the lots catalogued are the imported horse Valido, by Veles from Slaveaway, by Rightaway, who won a race at Randwick during the A.J.C. Autumn meeting; Kismet (imp.), by Melton from Kisherina; The Sheave, Lreux, Tattler, Boris, and a filly each by imported Developer and Moorefield.

Five of the six races on the card for the Sandown Park meeting on Saturday last were secured by horses bred in this State. The Currandooley-bred colt Ordinal, by Orzil (imp.), from Lena, by Bowmont from Lady in Waiting, by Henchman, opened his winning account by securing the Maiden Plate; the Riverina-bred Altar Boy by Pennance, annexed the Steeplechase; the Sandown Park Plate fell to the Turee bred Florenza, by True Blue from Lady Mary, by Clan Stuart (imp.); the Hobartville bred Radiator, by Simmer (imp.), from Oudine, by Goldsbrough, appropriated the Sandown Park Handicap; and the Jumpers Flat Race was secured by the Riverina bred La George, by George Frederick from La Traviata, by Sunrise.

Our Goulburn correspondent wires that the Final Handicap, run on Friday, was not won by Handcuff, but by C. Crow's Backbone, by Invermay from Merry Thought, 8st 10lb; Brook second, and Wombah third. The race was run in rain, making it difficult to distinguish the horses.

Our Launceston (Tas.) correspondent telegraphs that at a meeting held on Saturday morning it was decided to form an Owners' and Trainers Association for Tasmania, on lines similar to those obtaining on the mainland. The movement has general support at both ends of the island.

ROSEHILL RACING CLUB.

MAY MEETING.

SYLVANDER WINS FLYING HANDICAP.

POSINATUS THE ROSEHILL HANDICAP.

Though the weather was threatening on Saturday forenoon, and a slight shower occurred as some of the special trains sped to the racecourse, the rainfall did not extend to Rosehill, and the card was run through in bright genial surroundings. The track, owing to the late rain which fell earlier in the week, was a trifle holding but thoroughly sound, and with the exception of a few harmless falls in the race-over obstacles the sport was free from serious mishap. The Juvenile Stakes furnished a couple of cases for the stipendiary stewards' attention. For crossing Best Scot, W. Guy, who had the mount on Tranquillian, was suspended from riding in races until the end of June, and for crossing Riposta and Lord Castlereagh W. Callinan, who rode Kilrenny, was ordered to stand down until the end of July. The attendance was not so large as usual, owing probably to the military parade and the counter attraction of pony racing. The general arrangements, which were ably supervised by the secretary, Mr. Geo. W. S. Rowe, left nothing to be desired. The results of the racing are subjoined:—

HURDLE RACE of 100 sovs, second horse 10 sovs from the prize, 2m.

Mr. F. Lynch's b g Bosra, by Reminder—Bozra, aged, 10st 4lb (F. Fiddler) 1

Messrs. Ward Bros.' br g Monsieur, 6 yrs., 9st 3lb, inc. 3lb over (F. Moore) 2

Mr. C. Hebden's br g Torone, 5 yrs., 9st (G. K. Phillips) 3

Other starters: Tattler, 10st (J. Collitt); Foothold, 9st 10lb (J. Metloway); Derale, 9st 10lb (W. Burke); Stymony, 9st 4lb (C. Flanagan); Oxley, 9st (J. Trenwetho).

Betting: 5 to 2 each v Bosra and Monsieur, 7 to 2 v Stymony, 10 to 1 v Tattler, 20 to 1 each v the others.

Tattler and Derale were smartest off the mark, followed by Oxley, who came to grief over the first obstacle, while the second brought down Derale. Tattler came round the bend three lengths in advance of Torone, who was six lengths clear from Stymony and Bosra. Monsieur was next, and Foothold last, and so they came into the straight, but Tattler hit the obstacle near the St. Leger, and lost his rider, leaving Torone at the head of affairs, and the son of Henlock showed the way past the stand and out of the straight, four lengths from Stymony and Bosra, who were a couple of lengths in front of Monsieur, with Foothold tailing off. Nearing the mile post Bosra ran past Torone, and opened up the back stretch, with Monsieur at his heels, Torone and Stymony following at intervals of two lengths, and Foothold a long way out of it. After passing the five-furlongs post Monsieur ran past Bosra, and passed the half-mile post with three lengths advance from the son of Reminder, who was succeeded at three lengths intervals by Torone and Stymony. Approaching the three furlongs post Bosra came again, and cutting down Monsieur turned into the straight with a half-dozen lengths advantage, and, coming on alone, won by five lengths from Monsieur, who was a like distance in advance of Torone, while Stymony, who nearly lost his rider at the St. Leger hurdle, was five lengths away, and nearly a furlong in front of Foothold. Time, 3m 51s.

FLYING HANDICAP of 100 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 1 sov added; second horse 20 sovs, and third 5 sovs from prize. 6f.

Mrs. Whitehouse's br h Sylvander, by Ayr Laddie (imp.)—Lady Grafton, 5yrs, 10st (L. Walker) 1

Mr. W. Booth's b m Happy Lady, 5yrs, 6st 10lb, inc. 3lb over (D. Dickson) 2

Mr. W. Day's b m Veneta, 4yrs, 6st 10lb (G. Hook) 3

Other starters: Polynesia, 8st 10lb (W. Barnett); Wild West, 8st 5lb (C. Bolton); Electrakoff, 8st 2lb (H. Curran); Diplomatist, alld. 3lb, carried 7st 5lb (M. Kenny); Coal Air, 7st 11lb (W. M'Lachlan); Malheur, alld. 6lb, carried 6st 7lb (N. Russell); Pennant, alld. 3lb, carried 6st 7lb (W. Callinan); Hair Net, 6st 9lb, inc. 1lb over (G. Pinn); Coronata, 6st 1lb (W. Guy); Lreux, 6st 7lb (C. Weate); Catnaque, 6st 9lb, inc. 2lb over (A. Thomas).

Betting: 3 to 1 v Happy Lady, 4 to 1 v Veneta, 7 to 1 each v Sylvander and Coal Air, 8 to 1 each v Wild West and Hair Net, 12 to 1 v Diplomatist, 20 to 1 each v the others.

Sylvander and Hair Net were the first to show out, but when they reached the five furlongs post, Sylvander and Veneta were disputing the lead, just in front of Coronata, Wild West, Happy Lady, and Hair Net. A little further on Happy Lady flashed through and passed the half mile post a couple of lengths from Sylvander, who was succeeded at similar intervals by Veneta, Coal Air, and Wild West, with Hair Net at the head of the others. Rounding the bend Happy Lady increased her advantage to four lengths from Sylvander, who was followed at length intervals by Veneta, Coal Air, and Malheur. Happy Lady swept into the straight five lengths in advance of Sylvander, the other positions being unchanged, but once in line for home the top weight gradually closed the gap, caught her just inside the half distance, and beat her home by half a neck. Veneta was a couple of lengths away, third, with Coal Air at her heels; then succeeded Malheur, Pennant, Electrakoff, and Wild West, with Catnaque last. Time, 1m 14½s.

JUVENILE STAKES of 100 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 1 sov added; second horse 10 sovs, and third 5 sovs from prize; for two-year-olds, 5f.

Mr. W. King's ch c Tofua, by Featherstitch (imp.)—Delta, 8st 3lb (M. Connell) 1

Mr. R. W. M'Fadyen's br f Spurn, allow. 5lb, including 1lb over, carried 6st 6lb (A. Thomas) 2

Hon. A. Wynne's br c Best Scot, 6st 7lb (J. Stonnill) 3

Other starters: Cathedral, 8st 9lb (J. Pike); St. Carwyne, 8st 2lb (F. Hood); Purita, 8st (W. Manning); Ayr Patrick (late Crough Patrick), 7st 13lb, including 1lb over (G. Whitehall); Fordell, 7st 12lb (C. Bolton); Fragrant, 7st 10lb (H. Simpson); Rose Dream, allowed 7lb, carried 7st 3lb (A. C. Calliman); Outward Bound, 7st 12lb, including 2lb over (W. Barnett); John M'Cormick, 7st 9lb (P. Moore); Lord Castlereagh, 7st 9lb, including 1lb over (W. Connors); Collar, 7st 7lb (D. Burke); Tranquillian, allowed 5lb, carried 7st (W. Guy); Lepta, 7st 5lb (J. Lightfoot); Kilrenny, allowed 5lb, carried 6st 12lb (W. Callinan); Riposta, 7st (G. Pinn); Mescal, allowed 7lb, carried 6st 7lb (G. Meddick).

Betting: 5 to 2 v Tofua, 3 to 1 v Cathedral, 8 to 1 v Spurn, 10 to 1 each v St. Carwyne, Lepta, and Tranquillian, 20 to 1 each v the others.

Best Scot, Tofua, and Collar were quickest off the mark, and at the end of the first furlong Best Scot was leading by a length from Lepta, who was closely attended by Tranquillian, Tofua, and Spurn. Rounding the bend Lepta, Tranquillian, and Best Scot were disputing the lead, with Tofua and Spurn at their heels, and so they swung into the straight. Spurn had a slight advantage from Tofua at the distance, where Best Scot and Tranquillian were just in their wake, but a little further on Tofua put in a powerful claim, and just got up in time to enforce it by half a head. Best Scot was eight lengths off third, and a head in front of Tranquillian; then after a gap came Collar, a couple of lengths from Lepta, Cathedral, Mescal, and John M'Cormick in line, with Fordell and Fragrant bringing up the rear. Time, 1m 2s.

MAIDEN HANDICAP of 100 sovs; second horse 10 sovs, and third 5 sovs from prize. 1m.

Mr. C. Gullimore's b c Antho, by Antonio (imp.)—Puritan, 3yrs, 7st 7lb (G. Pinn) 1

Mr. P. J. Shesgreen's b g Muttama, 5yrs, 6st 9lb (A. Thomas) 2

Mr. J. B. N. Osborne's b g St. Moritz, 3yrs, 8st 3lb (M. Connell) 3

Other starters: St. Elfred, 8st 5lb (G. Whitehall); Culwalla, 8st 5lb (W. Swanson); Silver Penny, 8st 4lb (C. Bolton); Malt Lassie, 8st 3lb, inc. 1lb over (J. Pike); Lady Travancore, 8st (J. Townsend); Jack Bradshaw, 8st (W. Manning); Jack Hampden, 7st 12lb (B. Lamond); La Pride, alld. 7lb, carried 7st 5lb (B. Graham); Yarri, 7st 11lb, inc. 1lb over (W. M'Lachlan); Miniva, alld. 7lb, carried 7st 3lb (C. Weate); Persian King, 7st 6lb (J. Lightfoot); Fizzing, 7st 9lb (L. Walker); P.J.D., alld. 5lb, carried 7st 3lb (W. Callinan); Chiffonette, 7st 7lb (F. Hood); Hot Cake, alld. 7lb, carried 6st 11lb (R. Broomfield); Spearfish, alld. 5lb, carried 6st 9lb (W. Guy); Chariot, 7st (G. Hook); Locrine, 6st 7lb (N. Rosell).

Betting: 3 to 1 v Antho, 9 to 2 v Jack Bradshaw, 5 to 1 v Lady Travancore, 6 to 1 v Yarri, 7 to 1 v Malt Lassie, 12 to 1 v Muttama, 20 to 1 each v the others.

Antho moved off in front, but was soon headed by St. Moritz, who opened up on the back-stretch a couple of lengths from Yarri and Fizzing, after whom came Antho, Jack Bradshaw, Lady Travancore, and Spearfish. When they reached the half-mile post Fizzing ranged up level with St. Moritz, and the pair were succeeded by Yarri, Antho, Lady Travancore, and Jack Bradshaw. Without material alteration they came round the bend and into the straight, but nearing the distance Fizzing melted out of it, and her place alongside St. Moritz was taken by Antho, and the pair was closely pursued by Muttama, Lady Travancore and Yarri. Antho shook off St. Moritz ere the half-distance was reached, and, coming on, won by a head from Muttama, who had St. Moritz at his heels, Yarri was close up fourth, followed by Lady Travancore, Persian King, Malt Lassie, and Locrine, while the last to get home were St. Elfred and Chariot. Time, 1m 43½s.

ROSEHILL HANDICAP of 125 sovs; second horse 20 sovs, and third 5 sovs from prize. 1¼m.

Mr. J. Chambers's b g Posinatus, by Fortunatus (imp.)—Whakatika, 4yrs, 7st 11lb, inc. 1lb over (W. M'Lachlan) 1

Mr. W. Kelso's ch h Flaxen, aged, 8st 10lb (J. Pike) 2

Mr. Gibson Foy's gr g Blind Murphy, 4yrs, alld. 5lb, carried 6st 7lb (A. Thomas) 3

Other starters: Harley, 7st 7lb (W. Manning); Rubecula, 7st 12lb (F. Hood); Necktie, alld. 2lb, carried 6st 7lb (J. Reynolds); Lord Mervyn, 6st 8lb, inc. 1lb over (G. Pinn).

Betting: 7 to 4 v Flaxen, 9 to 2 v Posinatus, 5 to 1 v Rubecula, 7 to 1 v Necktie, 8 to 1 v Harley, 12 to 1 v Blind Murphy, 33 to 1 v Lord Mervyn.

Blind Murphy and Rubecula were best to show out, and Blind Murphy came on to the course proper, followed by Lord Mervyn and Posinatus, and so they ran past the mile post. When they opened up the back stretch, Posinatus ranged up level with Blind Murphy, the pair having a couple of lengths' advantage from Flaxen and Lord Mervyn, then after a gap of two lengths, came Rubecula and Necktie, with Harley a similar distance away. Nearing the six furlongs post Posinatus shook off the grey, who passed that point at the heels of the leader, and they were succeeded by Lord Mervyn, Flaxen, and Rubecula. Posinatus rattled past the five furlongs post closely attended by Flaxen and Blind Murphy, the other positions being unchanged. And so they came round the bend and entered the straight. Flaxen challenged Posinatus at the distance, but the latter held his own, and drawing away at the half-distance, won by a length and a half from the favourite. Blind Murphy was a similar distance off, third, and four lengths in advance of Harley and Necktie. Rubecula was four lengths off next, and six in front of Lord Mervyn. Time, 2m 11s.

CARLINGFORD MILE of 100 sovs., second horse 10 sovs., and third 5 sovs from prize.

Mr. G. M. Paine's b c Mustapha, by Machine Gun—Flower Girl, 3 yrs., 8st 10lb (J. Townsend) 1

Mr. W. A. Ross's ch h Lord Hylda, aged, 9st 5lb (L. Walker) 2

Mr. W. E. Braggett's ch g Scarlette Trent, 4 yrs., 8st 7lb (S. Lamond) 3

Other starters: Merrie Zealand, allowed 7lb, carried 9st 10lb (A. Crealli); Gunilla, 9st 11lb (C. Bolton); Bonnie Lily, 9st 5lb (W. Barnett); Olive Green, 8st 1lb (D. Callinan); Respect, 8st 11lb (J. Pike); Menneret, 8st 5lb (J. Lightfoot); War Star, 8st 4lb (W. Manning); Nondo, 8st 3lb (J. J. Neale).

Betting: 4 to 1 each v Menneret and Mustapha, 5 to 1 each v Gunilla and War Star, 6 to 1 v Scarlette Trent, 12 to 1 v others.

Olive Green and Lord Hylda made play, and at the end of the first furlong the latter was in command, with Olive Green and War Star at his heels, and Respect, Gunilla, and Menneret following at length intervals. A little further on Olive Green tackled out of it, while Gunilla ranged up level with Lord Hylda, the pair being attended two lengths away by Bonnie Lily and Menneret, with War Star and Mustapha at the head of the others. That order was preserved to the bend, where Mustapha improved his position, and Gunilla turned into the straight with Lord Hylda, Mustapha, and Menneret in pursuit. With a slight advantage from Lord Hylda, Gunilla swept into the straight, Mustapha, Menneret, and Bonnie Lily following in close order; but Gunilla was beaten at the distance, where Mustapha tackled Lord Hylda, and Scarlette Trent put in an appearance. Mustapha headed Lord Hylda ere the half-distance was reached, and, coming on, beat him by three-quarters of a length, while Scarlette Trent was a neck away third. Menneret was half a length off, followed by Olive Green, Gunilla, War Star, and Bonnie Lily in a bunch; then, after a gap, came Respect, Merrie Zealand, and Nondo, with Canberra King in the rear. Time, 1m 44¼s.

ASCOT PONY RACES.

Such powerful counter attractions as the cadets' parade and a full programme of football matches militated against a large attendance at the Ascot Club's meeting on Saturday. But those who did attend had no reason for regret. Matters favoured the public throughout, save in the last event of the programme, which was won by an outsider.

M. Hayes rode three winners in succession in Verdant, Rose Game, and Simile Maid.

Results:—

Approved Welter Stakes of 30 sovs, second 7 sovs, and third 3 sovs from the prize, 4f.—Uncle Jim, by Lord Howard (imp.)—Bay Fashion, 5yrs, 8st 2lb (Houston), 1; Wiltaroon, 8st (Blake), 2; White Australia, 8st (Meekings), 3. Other starters: Anson, 8st 9lb; Cherry Blossom, 8st 7lb; Rainbow, 8st 2lb; Flavinda, 8st; Fern, 8st; Lord Murillo, 8st; Marmora, 8st; Unique, 8st; Final, 8st; Blue Scot, 8st. Betting: 2 to 1 v Cherry Blossom, 3 to 1 v Uncle Jim, 5 to 1 v Flavinda, 7 to 1 v Anson, 8 to 1 v Blue Scot, 10 to 20 to 1 each v the others. Won by five lengths, a neck between second and third. Time, 50s.

14.1 Handicap of 70 sovs, second 7, and third 3 sovs from the prize, 4f.—Lady Mascot, by Moorefield—Rifeline, 7st 7lb (Walsh), 1; Miss Benita, 3yrs., 8st 4lb (Leonard), 2; Little Jack, 9st 2lb (Porter), 3. Other starters: Native Rose, 9st 6lb; Speedy Meg, 8st 10lb; Thea Merv, 8st 9lb; Valdora, 8st 8lb; Lady Clare, 8st 5lb; Clotho, 8st 4lb; Master Bon, 8st 6lb; Eva W., 7st 12lb; Nellie Moore, 7st 10lb; Wisdom, 7st 10lb; Loch Ayr, 7st 7lb; The Fright, 7st 7lb; Remembro, 7st 7lb; Waukenott, 7st 7lb; Kesterbelle, 7st 7lb; Kensing, 7st 7lb; Nina, 7st 7lb; Master Carbeau, 7st 7lb; Bridgefield, 7st 7lb. Betting: 7 to 2 v Speedy Meg, 4 to 1 v Lady Clare, 5 to 1 v Lady Mascot, 6 to 1 v Little Jack, 7 to 1 each v Valdora or Miss Benita. Won by a length and a quarter, three lengths between second and third. Time, 51s.

KALGOORLIE RACING CLUB.

AUTUMN MEETING.

FIRST DAY.

GOLDEN ORB WINS GOLDEN MILE.

KALGOORLIE, Saturday.

The Kalgoorlie Racing Club's autumn meeting opened this afternoon, when the weather was gloomy, but the rain held off, and there was a fair attendance. The small fields in the early races may be attributed to the postponement of the second day of the Boulder meeting, which left an interval of only three days between the two meetings, and, as a result, many horses that had raced at Boulder declined their engagements to-day. Results:—

Kamballine Hurdle Race, 2m.—Tabu, by Cumulator—Charm, 9st 5lb (Spiers), 1; Doctor Lunn, 11st 5lb (Pinkus), 2; Mosque, 10st 12lb (Cubit), 3. Braeside also started. SORDID TRAGEDY.

END OF DRINKING BOUT.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Sunday.

A sordid tragedy occurred at a bush camp near Taumarunui, on the North Island trunk railway.

A number of men procured two gallons of whisky, and two of them were subsequently assisted to bed, where they died, apparently from acute alcoholism.

Pending an inquest, some of the whisky is to be analysed.

ONE OF THE BEST KNOWN COLLECTORS.

BREAD SUPPLY.

UNION TROUBLE GROWING ACUTE.

DELIVERY MAY STOP.

AN UNSATISFACTORY POSITION.

It is improbable that there will be any delivery of bread on Wednesday.

The holiday question, which has been in dispute between the Breadcarters' and the Operative Bakers' unions, has reached a stage verging on a crisis.

To-night the bakers should, if the breadcarters are to have their gazetted holiday on Wednesday, work a double shift. But the bakers held a meeting at the Trades Hall on Saturday night, and decided almost unanimously not to agree to any alteration in their working hours. A proposition was put to them, which emanated from a conference held on Friday, to the effect that overtime would be paid for all work done after 9 p.m. on the Mondays preceding the bread-carters' second monthly holiday. The meeting, however, would have nothing to do with it, and the offer was rejected by 470 votes to 16.

An amendment was moved to the effect that a double night be worked provided payment be made for all hours over 7½. This, too, was rejected, the voting being 250 to 130. A resolution was carried, pledging members, day and night hands, not to do more than a single day or night shift, this day, or on any other of the proposed extra working shifts.

The decisions of the meeting were communicated by Inspector Kirby to a meeting of the master bakers, which was held later in the night at the Strand Cafe, George-street. The masters felt that they were unable to do any more in the way of conciliation. A deadlock has accordingly been reached.

Mr. J. A. M'Intosh, the secretary of the Breadcarters' Union, seen after the meeting of the bakers, stated that he could not then see any way out of the difficulty. The breadcarters were seeking to avail themselves only of what had been granted them by law, and it was a pity that there should be this trouble between kindred unions. He had, he said, convened a mass meeting of his union, to be held at the Trades Hall this evening, to further consider the position.

The position is that both unions have awards, and both are prepared to carry them out. But it so happens that the six extra holidays secured by the breadcarters impose upon the bakers that amount of extra shifts per year, and they are not prepared to work them. Their alternative suggestion is that the breadcarters should accept what up to now they have declined to accept—annual leave.

The Operative Bakers' Union has formally lodged an appeal against the decision of the Wages Board in granting the breadcarters the second holiday per month.

MASTER BAKERS' POSITION.

STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT.

The president of the Master Bakers' Association (Mr. William White) stated last night that the blame for any public inconvenience that might arise could be attributed only to the action of the two unions. His association had endeavoured in every reasonable way to bring about an amicable settlement. If the breadcarters should stand out for their already gazetted second holiday, the position was that there would be the regular supplies of bread at the bakehouses, but that no deliveries would be made on Wednesday.

"The origin of the trouble," said Mr. White, "was due to the Early Closing Act, which proposed to give the breadcarters an extra 12 holidays a year. The Wages Board did not include this in its award, despite the fact that the representative of the Operative Bakers' Union supported the application for the second holiday. Application was thereupon made to Mr. Justice Heydon to vary the award, and his Honour also turned down the proposal.

"Next," continued Mr. White, "an appeal was made by the breadcarters to the Minister for Labour and Industry, as the result of which Mr. Carmichael promised the extra holidays, and the masters agreed, subject to a slight concession in the starting time. The breadcarters and the masters were at a common understanding when the bakers refused to work the requisite double shift.

"With a view to overcoming the new difficulty the masters offered the breadcarters a week's holiday a year in lieu of the six extra monthly holidays. The breadcarters refused this. The Industrial Registrar thereupon endeavoured to get over the difficulty by convening a conference. This took place on Friday last. The masters agreed to meet the bakers on the question of overtime, and to leave the holiday question for review by the Industrial Court. The bakers turned down this proposition.

"Thus, you see," concluded Mr. White, "the masters have endeavoured in every way to meet the situations as they arose, but without success. If, therefore, the breadcarters should continue in their refusal to deliver on Wednesday, the public can only blame the unions for the inconvenience."

BREAD-CARTERS' STATEMENT.

Messrs. J. Larter (inspector) and J. A. M'Intosh (secretary) have supplied the following statement from the point of view of the Breadcarters' Union:—

"As the public may be inconvenienced by the trouble, we think it right that they should know the facts of the case. It is very nearly two years ago since we, as a union, went into the matter. At that time a deputation was introduced to Mr. Beeby, asking him to amend the Early Closing Act, to give breadcarters two whole holidays per month—that is, the first and third Wednesdays in each month. Mr. Beeby promised to do so, and said that the request was a most reasonable one. Eventually that Act was amended, granting our request. It was fully discussed during last session, and passed through the lower House, but, unfortunately, it only reached the Upper House the day before the session closed—hence it was not brought about by Act of Parliament.

"It has been said that we never included this in our application to the wages board for our last award. I think it can easily be shown that we were expecting this measure day by day and did not think it necessary to have it embodied in our claims. When we found that Parliament had dissolved, and the whole matter would be hung up for an indefinite period, we applied to the wages board to have the present award varied. Eventually a vote was taken, with the result that the representatives of the Bakers' Union and the breadcarters voted for the application, and the employers' representatives and the chairman of the board voted against. We then called the Baking Trades' Federation together, the result of this meeting being that the pastrycooks and millers decided to support the breadcarters in their efforts to obtain their second holiday. We were then made aware of the fact that the bakers had an objection to this second holiday. We next appealed to Mr. Justice Heydon, in the Arbitration Court, giving the bakers an opportunity to oppose such an appeal, but they were again silent on the matter, and did not appear. The appeal was turned down. During the whole of this time our members were smarting under these rebukes, but we, as officers, persuaded them to be patient until we could get the matter fixed up in a constitutional way. They were then anxious to strike, thinking they had been unfairly treated. We next sought the assistance of the Industrial Registrar, and from him we went to the Minister for Labour, Mr. Carmichael. Eventually a compromise was arrived at, which was embodied in our award.

"It was then that the operative bakers suddenly woke up, after all these months. They have had every opportunity of putting their objection to us, and probably had they done so there would have been a satisfactory settlement. But the moment they found that the breadcarters were going to enjoy the holiday they did not consider the breadcarters or the public, but, to our minds, adopted a very selfish attitude.

"We think the public will realise who are to blame in this matter. If there is going to be any trouble, instead of the Breadcarters' Union bringing it about, it has, on the other hand, used every means to prevent it.

"We sincerely hope that the bakers at the last moment will look at the matter in the same spirit as we have done, and will not cause any inconvenience to the general public."

NORTHERN MINERS.

BALLOT FOR COURT CARRIED.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

The ballot for the special Court offered by the Minister has been carried by between a two and three to one majority. Mr. A. Lewis, the miners' treasurer, said on Saturday that he would probably be able to supply the figures next week. It is believed that the result will have to be placed before a meeting of the delegates, and therefore the delegate board will meet one day next week at Maitland.

The Seaham miners, who struck work on Wednesday last, have had their grievance settled, and will return to work on Monday.

POLO.

PRACTICE AT KENSINGTON.

In preparation for the coming season the Sydney Polo Club continued its series of practice games at the Kensington racecourse on Saturday.

The following teams were opposed:—Red: Messrs. J. Merivale (1), D. Garvan (2), A. Turnbull (3), and K. Richards (back). White: Captain Talbot, A.D.C. (1), Messrs. C. Green (2), Colin Stephen (3), and C. Withycomb (back).

In the first period, soon after the throw in, Garvan took advantage of a miss by White, and secured an unchallenged goal. Stephen put in good work for the Whites, and carried the ball almost the length of the ground. The Reds were pressing throughout, the Whites only crossing the line once.

In the second period Garvan (Red) got the first run down, and drove the ball close to the posts, where Turnbull with a smart run scored a goal. Stephen, when danger threatened, made a good recovery. The Reds, however, were not to be denied, for they quickly regained lost ground and scored a goal, for which Garvan was again responsible. Forcing the game, Merivale and Richards each added a goal for the Reds.

After a series of even exchanges in the third period Stephen took possession, and got a run through goal from half-way. The same player in a scrum cleverly saved a goal. Just before the bell rang Garvan scored another goal for Reds.

In the fourth period, soon after the throw in, Garvan got going and made a splendid run down the ground. When a goal seemed imminent he was cleverly ridden off. By good hitting, well followed up, Merivale scored for the Reds. Captain Talbot by a push stroke transferred the ball from the danger zone, and Stephen drove it between the posts.

Fifth Period.—After a rally in the centre Garvan got possession, but was checked by Stephen. The first-named player, who was generally well on the ball, and made a good try for goal, but was again ridden off by Stephen. Richards made an excellent run on his 13.3 pony, and scored for the Reds. Turnbull also added a goal for the side.

The sixth period saw the Whites make a late recovery, and they added two goals by the agency of Stephen and Withycomb. The Reds, however, again got possession, and Merivale and Richards added goals for the Reds. The final scores were:—Reds, 11 goals; Whites, 4 goals.

BASEBALL.

FIELD DAY SPORTS.

The third annual field day of the New South Wales Baseball Association was successfully held at Petersham Park on Saturday. The attendance numbered about 2000, and the greatest interest was evinced in the various items. The programme was put through in good time, all the ground arrangements being first-class. The baseball games, although necessarily curtailed, produced some good play, notwithstanding that most of the players are not in form. The Western Suburbs Churches' Baseball Union team made an excellent showing in the early game, being only beaten 9-8 by the best of the A division in a six-innings game.

The officials were:—Judges, M. A. Noble, J. Searle, and F. M'Mullen; timekeepers, T. J. Proud and E. Price; clerks of course, J. T. Pope and D. R. Cunningham; starter, C. W. Simmonds; blackboard stewards, G. A. Smith and G. L. Sayle; recorders, W. Renshaw and J. Biggs megaphonist, H. W. Turner; umpires, W. C. J. Kelly, F. E. M'Elhone, T. J. Proud, and C. Morley.

Teams Relay Race.—First heat, Waverley team, 44 3-5s. Second heat, Surrey United, 44 2-5s. Third heat, Petersham, 44 2-5s. Fourth heat, University, 43 1-5s. The final was won by University (R. B. Minnett, J. A. Hornibrook, L. A. Kortum, and F. Roberts), 43 1-5s.

Distance Throwing Baseball.—H. P. Woolcott (Mosman), 1, 108yds 4in; H. Franks (Leichhardt), 2, 104yds 8in; J. Franks (Leichhardt), 3, 102yds 8in. Twenty-nine entries. The winner has annexed this event three years in succession.

In field play 13 teams competed. The judges awarded first place to Burwood team on points.

Grand Championship Race, 120yds around bases.—Twenty-three competed out of a total of 32 entries. A. C. Thomas and A. Herndon, both of Waverley Club, tied for place. Time, 15 1-5s. In the run-off they again ran a dead heat in 15 3-5s., and agreed to divide the prize. A Herndon won this event last year in 15 4-5s, after a tie with W. H. Pratt, 15s.

Throwing ball through hoop 30yds off.—C. R. Campling, F. C. Brown, N. M. Gregg, G. Sharpe, and E. Palmer put the ball through the hoop in the first round. Campling (University) and Palmer (Surrey United) had to throw off, the former being declared the winner.

The scores in the baseball games were as follows:—

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL NOTICES.

MUNICIPALITY OF MARRICKVILLE.
LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACT, 1906-8.
ADDITIONAL GENERAL RATE, SECTION 151 (5), FOR FINANCIAL YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1913.
NOTICE is hereby given that at a duly constituted meeting of the Council, held on Monday evening, 28th April, 1913, the following Estimates were submitted and approved, in pursuance of the above Act:—
1. Amount of the proposed expenditure to which the proceeds of the Rate are to be carried £6,690 13 6
2. Amount in hand available for such expenditure .... Nil.
3. Other revenues estimated to be available towards such expenditure .... Nil.
4. Amount required to be raised by a Rate for such expenditure £6,690 13 6
5. The total Unimproved Capital Value of the land on which the Rate is to be levied £1,284,610 0 0
The Rate proposed to be made and levied to raise sufficient revenue to cover the above expenditure is 1¼d in the £ on the Unimproved Capital Value of the whole of the ratable land in the Municipality.
Section 151 (5) reads as follows:—
"A Council of a Municipality, over and above the said General Rate of not less than one penny in the £ on the Unimproved Capital Value of all ratable land in its area, may on the same or subsequent estimates raise an additional sum which may be required by an additional General Rate on either the Unimproved or the Improved Capital Value of such land, as may be determined by the Council: Provided that notice shall be given as prescribed of the proposal to levy such additional General Rate, and that if, within the prescribed period, one hundred persons on the Roll of Ratepayers, or if the number on the roll be less than six hundred, then one-sixth of the ratepayers on such roll, make a written demand for a Poll on the question whether the basis of assessment for such rates shall be the Unimproved or the Improved Capital Value, the Council shall forthwith meet and fix and notify, as prescribed, a day, not being less than seven nor more than fourteen days after such meeting, for the holding of such Poll, shall be held on such day, and shall abide by the decision of such poll. At the poll all ratepayers of the area may vote.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE IMPORTERS FROM ENGLAND.—All engaged in trade with Great Britain and Ireland will do well to subscribe to THE BRITISH TRADE JOURNAL AND EXPORT PRICES CURRENT, as it gives the most complete and exact information of every branch of trade, and so renders it unnecessary to read each departmental publication. It is a comprehensive Monthly Resume of all items of interest to traders resident out of England, the shipping as well as the market and other commercial news being written and compiled expressly for the merchant, planter, and exporter and importer abroad.

THE BRITISH TRADE JOURNAL was established in January, 1863, and enjoys the support of the general Commercial Public in EVERY PART OF THE WORLD. It is published on the 2nd of every month, and is regularly supplied direct from the office to its subscribers.

The Subscription is £1 sterling per annum, payable in advance, free by post to any part of the Globe. The amount can be remitted by post-office order, cash, or stamps, or any mode that may suggest itself. An equivalent amount in the currency of the country will be accepted.

IT'S EASY TO CHOOSE A SMART DRESS LENGTH AT WATERS'.

There's such a grand range of the latest materials and shades—and prices are so low—the task of selecting a dress length is made easy for you at the Block Corner.

The Showroom in which our Dress Goods are displayed—on the First Floor—is just about the best naturally-lighted room in Sydney. Everything is seen at its true tone value, and you will appreciate the beautiful colourings that we are showing.

CHIFFON CLOTHS ARE SMART.

One of the most fashionable and serviceable materials of the present time is Chiffon Cloth, and this we are showing in a very nice quality, and a splendid range of colours, including Navy, Royal, Saxe and Powder Blue, Champagne, Mole, Grey, Cinnamon Brown, and Purple. 42 inches wide, 2/11½ yard.

50-INCH COSTUME CLOTH, 2/11½ YARD.

A Full Range of Lovely Shades, including Grey, Mole, Vieux Rose, Saxe, Light and Dark Navys, Cinnamon, Brown and Royal. Very Special Value at 2/11½ yard.

CHEVIOT SERGE is a material much in demand for Coats, Boys' Suits, Coats and Skirts, etc. All new shades, 2/11½ yard.

Other Smart Materials are:—

VIENNA CHIFFON CLOTHS, 50in., special unspottable finish in Grey, Mole, Champagne, Cinnamon, Brown, Saxe, Powder, Light and Dark Navys, 3/11 and 4/11 yard.

COSTUME TWEEDS, 42 to 50 inches.—We are showing fine ranges in Tweeds in all the leading makes and colours for winter, 2/6, 2/11½, 3/6, 4/6, 4/11 per yard.

ZIBO TWEEDS, 40in., in a splendid assortment of seasonable shades, including Browns, Greys, Blues, etc., 1/6½ yard.

FRIEZE TWEEDS, 40in., a smart suiting material in all the leading colours, 1/11½ yard.

NAVY DRESS SERGES, 40 to 50 inches.—Our Serges values are best, and include All-wool Costings, Estemenes, and Cheviots, and Costume Serges, 1/6½, 1/11½, 2/6, 2/11½, 2/6, 3/11, 4/6, 4/11, 5/6, 5/11 yard.

LUSTROUS VELVETEENS,

VELVETEENS, 22-inch.—We are showing two special numbers of exceptional value in very fine ranges of shades, priced at 1/11½ and 2/11½ yard.

If unable to call and see these lovely goods, ask us to send a range of Patterns, and Order by Mail. We Pay Carriage on all orders to any address in the Commonwealth.

THE LEADERS OF FASHION,

KING AND GEORGE STREETS, SYDNEY.

SOLOMON IN ALL HIS GLORY KNEW NO RICHER MATERIALS THAN—

THE SILKS OF TO-DAY.

And no Silks in History ever surpassed in Beauty of Colour or Magnificence the 1913 Silks which you will find in Snows' Little Specialty Silk Shop.

Compare the colours of a year or so ago with the delicate harmonies of to-day. Here is a

CREPE DE CHINE

that comes in twenty-five beautiful quite different Pastel Shades. Here is a new shade of Flame calle Girofle. A deeper shade goes by the name of Paprica. And here is a new Cerise called Mufflien—a Tawny Lion shade called Miel. A shade between a Mole and a Reseda is on the new Colour Card as Marrias, and another shade between a Biscuit and a Champagne is styled Suede. Passing from colours to the material, it is something of an achievement to have a 44-inch All Silk Crepe de Chine to sell at 3/11½ yard, when All Silk Crepe weaves are in great demand and very hard to secure.

A SATIN GRENADE,

WORTH 5/6 YARD, IS AT SNOWS FOR 4/11.

In this Material, though Navy is a scarce shade, Snows have a fair supply of both light and dark. There are also White, Cream, Ivory, and Black, Grey, Mole, Rose Pink, Brown, Light Brown, and Helio. It is 40 inches wide.

BLACK OTTOMAN CORD SILK.

32 INCHES, 5/11.

This is the kind of Silk that goes into Costumes costing seven, ten, and fifteen guineas. It is of heavy weight. Better qualities, 7/11, 8/11, 9/6, and 10/6 yard.

FASHION ALSO SMILES ON

BROWN VELVETEENS.

Any Velveteen, so long as it's Brown, seems to be the cry. Here are Light Golden Browns and deep Bronze Browns. If they're hard to get elsewhere, come to Snows.

Usual value, 2/11 yard.

SNOWS' PRICE, 2/6½ YD.

Other colours include:—Saxe, Nattier, Grey, Mole, and Navy—also Black.

20-INCH BLACK VELOUR CROISE.

Value, 2/6 yard. SNOWS' PRICE, 1/6½ YD.

If you don't know what Velour Croise is, let us tell you it is a new Velvet with a distinct crom effect in the weave that serves admirably for Coats, Dresses, and Millinery purposes.

THE CLOTH WITH A TWILL LIKE A WHIPCORD AND WEIGHT LIKE EPONGE CLOTH, is very hard to get. You may secure the cloth; then the difficulty is to get the right colour. We have the cloth. It is a heavy make of Sponge Cloth or Diagonal Frieze or Cheviot Velour. We have the right colours. They are:—Tans, Hussar Blues, Browns, and Navy. The width is 50 inches. The price, 3/11 YARD.

And we could sell all of our stock back to the manufacturer at that price, so glad would he be to get it.

SPONGE CLOTHS,

52 inches wide. SNOWS' PRICE, 4/11 YD. In Saxe, Tan, Prune, and Mole.

Snows' Mail Order Department despatches Goods day order comes to hand.
And pays freight to nearest port or station.
And refunds Money if purchase is not O.K.

ALL-POWERFUL BEAUTY.

The power of woman's beauty lies chiefly in her youthfulness, and to preserve and maintain that attractiveness an effective emollient is absolutely necessary. A preparation that will refresh and nourish the pores, endowing the skin with a velvety radiance, is

MAZARA SKIN FOOD.

Made only of the purest ingredients, and being entirely free from all fatty substances, this skin food takes a prominent place in the toilet of the woman who cares. The keenness of the autumn air is inclined to roughen the skin, but an application of MAZARA will be particularly soothing, and will insure the complexion against further weather inclemencies.

"OSMAN" PYJAMAS.

The exclusive fashion, the comfort, the fine, soft texture, the permanence of fit, and the almost endless wear are distinctive features of "OSMAN" Pyjamas—features which are rarely found in Pyjamas even in those of much greater cost.

Added to this is the "OSMAN" guarantee of satisfaction or new Pyjamas for every suit that should fail. To get real Pyjama satisfaction, always look for the "OSMAN" label in the neck. If your mercer hasn't them, write to "OSMAN," Box 480, G.P.O., Sydney, and we will gladly tell you where you can see them.

SAID THE MOTHER TO HER DAUGHTER

(ABOUT TO BE MARRIED):—

As you know, I have spent considerable time investigating the problem of how to live on a small income. Of course, your housekeeping allowance will not be very large at first; you must therefore learn to spend every penny to the best advantage. Now, my experience has been that for Quality Groceries,

"M'ILRATH'S PRICES ARE ALWAYS LOWEST."

And, remember, Groceries will form by far the biggest item in your Housekeeping Account. The best advice I can give you is,

BUY ALL YOUR GROCERIES AT McILRATH'S.

YOUR TAILOR-MADE COSTUME

WILL COST

TWO GUINEAS LESS

AT GEORGE PINKERTON'S.

There is no gainsaying the fact that fully two guineas of the price at fashionable drapers goes towards the upkeep of the establishment.

Huge rents, lighting bills, managers, shopwalkers, elaborate fittings, have all to be paid by the customers.

And it amounts to this, that you are paying two guineas for the mere satisfaction of "shopping in style" when you go to the large drapers for your Winter Costume.

THEIR SEVEN-GUINEA COSTUMES I CAN MAKE FOR FIVE GUINEAS.

I have only a tithe of their expenses. I suppose my modest rent is my largest expense. The cloth I cut myself, being a practical Ladies' Cutter, and I personally superintend the making.

My work is undoubtedly satisfactory, because ladies come to me year after year with repeat orders.

I WANT TO MAKE YOUR NEW COSTUME, because I know that I can please you. All that is perfect in fit and style I can give you, combined with positively fashionable designs in the material.

Call and inspect my Winter Costumings and Style Plates. No one will press you to order if you decide not to do so.

Three very pretty styles just opened in Ladies' GREY SQUIRREL FUR COATS. These are all different designs, in the most even quality of skins, lined throughout with heavy-quality Satin, and they are in three different sizes. These Coats are honestly worth £30 each; but Foy's are desirous of keeping up their good name for values, so we offer them to you for 27 GUINEAS EACH.

Ladies' BLACK MUSQUASH FUR COATS. Of these goods we are now showing a very smart range of the very newest shapes, and we guarantee our values cannot be approached, let alone equalled. We can show genuine Fur Coats, lined throughout in Satin, Polonaise, and Brocades, at the following prices:—

£6/19/6.	£12/12/.
£10/10/.	£15/15/.

We are also showing the most complete range of Ladies' Black Sealette, Black Caracul, and Black Velvet Motor and Travelling Coats. There is no shadow of a doubt that these Coats are very smart and effective; but, although the price is sufficient to keep these particular Coats exclusive, Foy's can show some very smart styles in Black Caracul, from 49/11 to 89/6; and in Black Sealette, from 59/6 to 99/6.

Maids' Navy Serge One-piece Frock, in a very heavy quality rough Cheviot Serge, cross-over front, finished with button; bodice and sleeves nicely piped with fancy silk; in sizes 6, 7, 8. 19/11.

A smart Robe for business.

Very Smart Maid's One-piece Robe, in a good quality fine Twill Serge, collar and cuffs and fancy tie of coloured Ribbed Silk; ¾ sleeves, finished with sets of black bone buttons. A very neat dress for afternoon wear.

Sizes 5, 6, 7, 8. All One Price, 23/6.

Smart One-piece Maid's Frock, in fine quality French Amazon Cloth, in Greys, Browns, Saxe, and Navy. Fastens up the front. Sailor collar effect of plain contrasting cloth, nicely piped with fancy Silk, and finished with new basque effect at hips, and silk buttons. Sizes 6, 7, 8. 15/11.

An exceptionally neat design in Maids' Tailor-made Coats and Skirts. It is made from the best quality fine Twill Navy Serge (also Blacks), lined throughout with Silk Polonaise, broad, deep scalloped collar, high-waisted effect; skirt cut high-waisted, and finished with button; an ideal costume for slender figures. Sizes 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. Our Special Price, 39/11.

Maids' Tailor-made Coat and Skirt, in the new Whipcord Cloths. This is a very popular style, smart to a degree. We have it in Navys, Browns, Royal Blue, Saxe, Greys, etc. The coat is finished with Black Satin Collar, blind buttonholes of same material. Sizes 6, 7, 8, 9. Price, 49/11.

Maids' Tailor-made Coat and Skirt, in rough Naval Serge. This costume is slightly semi-fitting, and perfectly plain, tailor-made, bar the Silk Ottoman collar. The coat is lined throughout. It is a very useful, warm, and serviceable coat and skirt. Sizes 6, 7, 8, 9. Price, 29/11.

Foy's have a new showing this week of Ladies' Tailor-made Coats and Skirts in the very latest shapes in a very high-grade Donegal Tweed. Ladies, these are very hard to get, and we only have a limited quantity, so if you have a fancy for one, come as early as possible to-day. Prices, 49/11, 59/11, 69/6, 99/6.

Ladies, for the next three days we are making a Special Showing of Ladies' Tailor-made Coats and Skirts at

Now, mind you, we have been preparing for two weeks for this showing, and we have gathered together some really marvellous values to offer you, in Tweeds, Cloths, Serges, Black and White Striped Tweeds, Velvets, and Donegal Tweeds.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Cured absolutely without pain or any after-effects by

RADIOLYSIS.

The MARTIN RADIOLYSIS CO. guarantee to permanently eradicate any growth of superfluous hair undertaken, or TO REFUND ALL FEES PAID.

RADIOLYSIS is the latest scientific process for removing hair growths, and was discovered in 1904 by Edward Martin, one of the principals of the Martin Radiolysis Co., and the originator of Electrolysis, in 1886. The only place in the world where RADIOLYSIS is practised is at THE MARTIN RADIOLYSIS CO.'S ROOMS, 157 Elizabeth-street, ALL OTHERS ARE IMITATORS, AND HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF THE REAL PROCESS.

By RADIOLYSIS superfluous hair is permanently removed quite 50 times more quickly than by the old process of Electrolysis, and totally without pain or scars. The LADY and GENTLEMAN Principals of the Company are the only Radiolysis Operators in the world. An Educational Treatise will be posted free to any address under sealed cover.

CONSULTATION FREE.

BATH HEATER THAT'S SAFE RAPID, AND ECONOMICAL.

The wonderful success of the Fletcher-Russell Rapid Bath-heater last winter resulted in our being completely sold out of stock long before the cold weather was over. This season we have made greater preparation for the demand, but even this time we expect that demand will be so brisk that those requiring a heater should order in advance.

ABSOLUTE SAFETY IS ASSURED.

One of the greatest features of the Fletcher-Russell is the device which turns the gas off with the water in one action, thus preventing all possibility of gas escape or waste of either gas or water.

The gas does not come in contact with the water, so that the hot or boiling water can be used for any purpose.

One customer said, "While I am pulling off my boots my hot bath is ready."

PRICES, from £3 15s to £10 10s.

DOESN'T YOUR DAUGHTER WANT A PIANO?

Have you not often thought how nice it would be to sit in a comfortable chair after dinner and listen to your daughter playing.

The value of a musical education to your children cannot be too highly estimated. There is nothing more refining. But to obtain the greatest pleasure, you must have a really good Piano. It is necessary for the correct interpretation of good music.

We offer Piano purchasers a choice of some of the world's leading instruments. Moreover, under our easy payment system YOU MAY PUT ANY PIANO IN YOUR HOME TO-DAY.

The "Kayser" Piano at £45 represents absolutely the greatest Piano Value in Sydney to-day.

The "Hiller" at £50, and the "Gerbstaedt" at £63 are two beautiful medium-priced Pianos, specially selected by us.

For those who can afford the extra cost we commend the "Gaveau," priced from 90 Guineas. This is a superb French instrument, with a full, rich tone, possessing remarkable sweetness. The "Gaveau" may be seen in the homes of the talented musicians of the world.

We sell any of these Pianos on easy terms, from 5/ weekly, without deposit.

Call and allow us to show you them, or send for Catalogue.

Open till 9.45 p.m. Fridays.
